

PORTLAND TO HAVE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Good Time Is Certain for All, Regardless of Lack of Fire-crackers and Annica.

MANY EVENTS SCHEDULED

Repetition of Electric Parade of Rose Festival to Be Principal Feature—Park Celebrations to Be Important.

HOW PORTLAND WILL CELEBRATE FOURTH.

Repetition of Rose Festival Electric parade on West Side, 8:30 P. M. Band concert by Portland Park band at Mount Tabor Park at 3 P. M. General celebration at Columbia Park.

Red fire and fireworks will play no part in the celebration, Portland will have a good time on the Fourth next Saturday.

It will be a day for the old as well as the young. There will be no fatalities from cannon-crackers or other explosives and there will be no damaged eyes, singed hair or burned fingers to repair after the fun is over.

The headline feature of the day will be, of course, the repetition of the Rose Festival electric parade on the principal streets of the West Side business district.

Unique Features Promised. Woven in between the wonderful fairylands of light in the parade will be a number of unique features.

There will be the same charming young women on the floats and there will be bands here and there in the lineup to make things lively.

Next in importance will be the celebration in various parks and playgrounds. The Portland Park Band will give a concert at Mount Tabor at 3 P. M. and a number of drills and athletic stunts will be held in the park on the playground adjoining.

Lents Celebration Elaborate. In the Lents district there will be an elaborate celebration, under the direction of the Lents volunteer fire department.

Thousands of persons are expected to take part in the doings arranged for Columbia Park. The Police Band will lead a parade from Carver mouth avenue and Lombard street to the park and will give a programme during the afternoon.

Folk Dances to Be Given. Elaborate plans have been made for folk dances and games in the playgrounds of the city.

At Peninsula Park a lengthy programme will be carried out under the direction of the Women's Auxiliary of the North Portland Commercial Club.

The Irvington Club will hold a celebration beginning at 4 P. M. There will be fat men's races, women's races, three-legged races, egg races and bicycle races.

Athletics, games and contests of various kinds will be features of a celebration at Columbia University.

At the Oaks Amusement Park all former residents of Portland now living in Portland will join in a picnic.

In the sporting line there will be several big events. Golf tournaments will be held at the Tualatin Club, the Portland Club and the Waverly Club.

At the Oaks Amusement Park a polo game will be played at the Waverly Club and there will be a double-header baseball game at the ball park between the Venice and Portland teams.

At the Oaks Amusement Park all former residents of Portland now living in Portland will join in a picnic.

In the sporting line there will be several big events. Golf tournaments will be held at the Tualatin Club, the Portland Club and the Waverly Club.

At the Oaks Amusement Park a polo game will be played at the Waverly Club and there will be a double-header baseball game at the ball park between the Venice and Portland teams.

At the Oaks Amusement Park all former residents of Portland now living in Portland will join in a picnic.

In the sporting line there will be several big events. Golf tournaments will be held at the Tualatin Club, the Portland Club and the Waverly Club.

At the Oaks Amusement Park a polo game will be played at the Waverly Club and there will be a double-header baseball game at the ball park between the Venice and Portland teams.

OFFICERS OF PORTLAND TRANSPORTATION CLUB WHO WILL SERVE DURING YEAR.

CLUB PICKS HEADS

Transportation Men Elect W. Merriman President.

ACTIVITIES ARE VARIED

Membership of 374 Confined to Employees of Railroad and Steamship Companies—J. J. Hill and C. M. Clark Recent Speakers.

They call this organization the Portland Transportation Club—and that is exactly what it is. It is a club composed of transportation men—and none other.

Its membership is limited to actual bona fide employees of railroad and steamship companies. It has 374 members and is growing like the proverbial weed.

Every railroad president in Portland is a member, but on the roster of the club all such officials are listed, with the minor clerks, under the common term "employee."

Thursday night the club held its annual election. W. Merriman, local freight agent for the Southern Pacific Company, was elected president.

Other officers are: Vice-president, C. D. Kennedy, agent for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company; secretary, W. O. Roberts, contracting freight agent for the Great Northern; treasurer, E. W. Mosher, city passenger agent for the Pennsylvania system; directors, N. C. Soule, chief clerk in the office of the general manager of the O.-W. R. & N. Company; H. Sheedy, local freight agent for the North Bank road; F. E. Damerl, chief clerk for the Portland & San Francisco Steamship Company, and George Nielson, chief clerk in the employment bureau of the North Bank Road. Mr. Soule and Mr.

FAMILY HAS REUNION

MEETING IS AT HOME OF C. C. BOZORTH AT WOODLAND, WASH.

Portland Woman Only Member Living. Same Officers, With One Exception, Have Been Chosen for 10 Years.

The tenth annual reunion of the Bozorth family was held at Woodland, Wash., Thursday. The first reunion was held at the home of C. C. Bozorth, with 150 members of the family present, 10 years ago.

The officers are: Christopher C. Bozorth, president; Alfred N. Willis, vice-president; Milton B. Bozorth, secretary-treasurer; John O. Bozorth, historian. With the exception of Christopher C. Bozorth, who died in 1912, the same officers have been re-elected from year to year.

Among the prominent speakers who addressed the club within the last year were James J. Hill, the "Empire Builder," and C. M. Clark, chairman of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company.

The first president of the club was L. F. Knowlton. He was succeeded by J. E. Werlein and he in turn by W. A. Robbins.

French dairymen are experimenting with cocoa shells as fodder for their cattle.

PORTLAND GIRL JOINS TORONTO STOCK COMPANY.

Reports from Toronto, Canada, say that Adele Blood has made an interesting selection when she chose Corinne Reilly Barker to play important roles in various productions.

SCHOLARSHIP IS GIVEN

SALEM GIRL GETS AWARD FROM COLLEGIATE ALUMNAE. Gift of $200 Is Made to Miss Carmen Swanson to Carry on Study in University of Oregon.

Following a custom of some seven years' standing, the Portland branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae has recently offered a scholarship of $200, available for study in the University of Oregon.

The scholarship for 1914-15 has been awarded to Miss Carmen Swanson, of Salem. Miss Swanson's record in the Salem High School has been admirable, and the committee making the award believes that the association will be well represented by her in the university.

Answering the recall of colleges and universities in the membership list of the Portland Association of Collegiate Alumnae are women from Stanford, Wellesley, Vassar, Smith, Radcliffe, Barnard, Oberlin, Grinnell, Cornell, Northwestern, Syracuse, Chicago, Mount Holyoke, Bryn Mawr, California, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

The founder of the Portland branch was a Stanford woman—Mrs. R. L. Donald—and the largest number of representatives from any single university comes from that institution, with Wellesley and California second.

The scholarship offered by the Collegiate Alumnae is awarded as a gift, not as a loan.

OREGON NOT KNOWN HERE, SAYS IOWAN

Man From Ottumwa Finds He Can Tell Portland People About Their Own State.

TRIPS IN VALLEY URGED

Visitor Asserts Beauties and Possibilities of Surrounding Country Are Unnoticed by Residents of City.

"A large percentage of you average Portlanders are lacking in one very important regard," complained B. S. Strong, of Ottumwa, Ia., as he left the Business Men's dinner at the Multnomah Hotel.

Mr. Strong, although a vigorous man of middle-age and in the prime of life, retired from business 12 years ago, and has devoted that time to almost constant travel.

"Why lacking?" he was queried. "Oh, I don't mean the entire population," laughed the man from Iowa, "but I believe that fully one-third of the residents of your splendid city have not as much idea of the beauty and possibilities of the surrounding country as I have and I've been in Oregon just five weeks."

Business Men Questioned. "At the luncheon I have just left I was introduced to a dozen business men and in conversation I learned that seven of them did not know that McMinnville was beyond Forest Grove and Gaston, and one man told me, when I spoke of Newberg, that he had passed through that town on his way to Hillsboro."

The general knowledge of Portlanders regarding that immense and beautiful valley of the Tualatin and of the valleys beyond has been acquired from occasional glimpses from Council Crest. If we of the East and the Middle West had such pleasing environments, I am sure that we would become better acquainted with them. Your ignorance is almost criminal.

"Why," continued Mr. Strong, "the friend with whom I am visiting has been in Portland nine years, and while he has taken trip south on both sides of the river he never stopped off, and in spite of his otherwise intelligence and good fellowship, he is a dork. The first day I arrived my friends took me to Council Crest. We saw a string of red cars in the distance, and when I asked the south terminus of the road, neither my friend nor anyone in the party knew. The next day, being Sunday, I urged so insistently that quite a party of us took one of the most interesting excursion rides it has ever been my good fortune to enjoy."

Loop Trip Is Made. "We went by way of Beaverton, Hillsboro, Gaston and Carlton to McMinnville, where we remained two hours, every moment being taken up in seeing something new and getting acquainted. We returned by way of Dundee, Newberg and Sherwood, on the other side of the Valley, going and coming through the very heart of a territory capable of sustaining half a million families and of unsurpassed beauty and fertility. Our party left Portland after luncheon and returned at 7 o'clock in the evening, just late enough for us to enjoy the grandeur of the sunset beyond the Tillamook hills, which can only be seen from the Valley or the crest of the hills west of Portland."

"Since then I have passed a month in the towns between here and McMinnville, riding about the surrounding country, and have purchased a 200-acre farm near Gaston, which I will rent out, but upon which I will build a new residence for a Summer home."

"You Portlanders should awaken to the beauty and possibilities of your own country."

ALBANY, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—J. E. Welch, of Gates, was nominated for Constable in Justice District No. 12 by both leading political parties and yet declined to run.

There was no candidate for the office on the ballots of any of the parties at the recent primaries, and voters of both the Republican and Democratic parties wrote in Welch's name.

OFFICE IS NOT WANTED

Gates Man Refuses to Run for Constable on Both Tickets.

LIVESTOCK DEALER DIES AT PORTLAND HOME

John L. Castle, for many years in the livestock business, died from chronic heart trouble last Sunday at his residence, 1001 East Twenty-fourth street, North. He was born in New York, February 7, 1847.

In 1873, he came to Yamhill, Or., where he lived until 1890, moving to Portland. In 1890, he located in Dallas, returning to Portland eight months ago. He married Miss Annetta J. Eggy early in life. Seven children were born, two dying in infancy.

His wife died in 1908. He married Miss Lorena J. McCohn in 1905. He is survived by his widow, Portland, and a Robbehah.

Funeral services will be held at Finley's undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The body will be cremated.

Advertisement for Fred A. Jacobs Company, featuring the text 'AT LAST! You Can Sell City Real Estate as QUICK as first-class MUNICIPAL BONDS with the same standard value'. It includes a large 'Auction' heading and contact information for A. J. Rich & Co.

Advertisement for 'JOB ALOFT IS DONE' and 'EXPOSITION IS LAUDED'. It describes the work done on the Steeple Church and mentions the San Diego Exposition.

Advertisement for 'This Complete Bathroom $39.00' by J. Simon & Brother. It features an illustration of a bathroom and lists various fixtures like a bathtub, toilet, and sink.

Advertisement for 'CORINNE REILLY BARKER'. It includes a photograph of a young girl and text describing her role in a theatrical production.

Advertisement for 'SCHOLARSHIP IS GIVEN' and 'SALEM GIRL GETS AWARD FROM COLLEGIATE ALUMNAE'. It details the award given to Miss Carmen Swanson.

Advertisement for 'LIVESTOCK DEALER DIES AT PORTLAND HOME' and 'OFFICE IS NOT WANTED'. It reports on the death of John L. Castle and the political nomination of J. E. Welch.

FISHERMAN'S FINE IS LIGHT

Henry Herman Runs Boat Without Carrying Fire Extinguisher.

Henry Herman, a fisherman of Prosper, Coos County, was fined $2.50 in United States District Court Friday by Judge Bean, following Herman's plea of guilty to a charge of not having complied with the Federal law requiring that each motorboat be equipped with a fire extinguisher.

The fine was the lowest ever imposed by Judge Bean for that particular offense, and next to the lowest ever imposed by him.