MARKET GROWS POPULAR

FARMERS AND HOUSEWIVES OF VANCOUVER INCREASE WEEKLY. Friday is "Market Day" and Bankers' Wives Elbow With Washwomen in Search of Good Bargains.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 27.—(Special.)—"Public Market Day," which falls on each Friday, is proving a success with producers and consumers. The women of the city are "getting the habit" of going to market every Friday with their baskets in search of good produce and good bargains.

So popular has the market become it now is necessary for some one to act as a head, to whom complaints may be taken, and who can regulate prices. The 100 feet of covered space at Fifth and Main streets has been filled and more space has become a necessity.

The farmers in the vicinity of Minnehaha have called a mass meeting, to be held in the schoolhouse on East Mill Plain, Saturday evening. There will be speakers from Portland and Vancouver to tell how the best results may be secured through the public market.

Few products at first were offered for sale at the weekly market day, but the farmers soon learned that they could sell much more and last Friday offered more than 50 kinds of products of the farm, including strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, cottage cheese, butter, eggs, new potatoes, tomatoes, cantaloupes, fish, peas, lettuce, home-made articles, canned fruits and many other things, which readily sold at a reasonable price.

More women come out each week to buy their Sunday provisions and wives of bank presidents may be seen elbowing with washerwomen and laboring men's wives in an effort to get the best for their husbands' table.
