

NEW THEORY IS TOLD

Ductless Glands Blamed for Some Eruptive Diseases.

OLD SCHOOL IS OPPOSED

Dr. W. O. Powell, President of Pacific Chiropractic College, Says Belief in Blood's Great Functions Bar to Progress.

Dr. W. O. Powell, president of the Pacific Chiropractic College, made an address before the seventh annual convention of the Oregon Chiropractic Association Friday night, which outlined briefly his theory concerning the ductless glands.

Dr. Powell offers it as a reasonable explanation of the unknown cause of certain eruptive diseases. Part of his theory, he declared, has been advanced already in the writings of at least one foremost physiologist during the last few years.

Failure of the ductless glands to perform their function of acting upon the unoxidized elements in the serous or basic fluid which result from normal metabolism that they may be thrown off through the excretory organs—the skin, kidneys and lungs—was blamed by Dr. Powell.

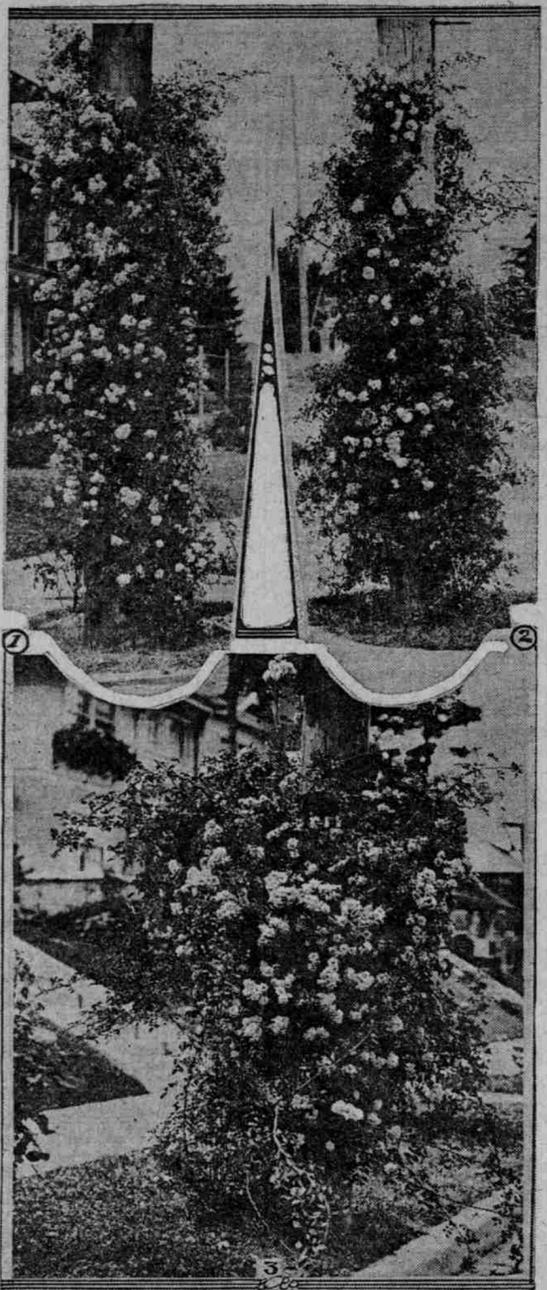

He said that the serous circulation was the means through which the specific gravity of the lymph and the blood was maintained at a standard degree. "The function of the ductless glands is to act upon the various chemical elements in the nutrient substance taken into the serous circulation from the intestines," said Dr. Powell.

"The blood has been credited with too many functions and the old theory of the blood's function has prevented experimental medicine from discovering the cause of the body's evolution. They have placed so much stress upon the blood that they have departed from its real function and have placed themselves in the position where they are unable to explain the phenomena of all the eruptive diseases and conditions found in the body."

IMBING ROSE BUSHES ADORN TELEPHONE POLES IN IRVINGTON DISTRICT.

1. POLE AT EAST TWENTY-FIRST STREET, NORTH, AND BRAZEE—2. POLE AT EAST TWENTY-FIFTH STREET, NORTH, AND THOMPSON—3. SCENE AT 48 EAST TWENTY-THIRD STREET, NORTH.

In many parts of the city, and especially in Irvington, public-spirited citizens are planting rose bushes at the foot of telephone poles, thereby adding much to the attractions of the neighborhood. It is proposed that the Irvington Club take the initiative to induce all the property owners to plant crimson or red ramblers at the bases of all poles in that district, and it is probable that other neighborhood improvement clubs will take up this inexpensive method of improving the appearance of the city.

FLEA THEORY DECRIED

DON CARLOS AT OAKS SAYS HE HAS LEARNED MONKEY SECRET. Minute Organism Preys on Beasts, He Discovers, After Examining Many Thousands of Animals.

Still another hoary tradition must pass into oblivion. Who is there who has not watched monkeys in the domestic occupation of picking the fleas from each other's bodies? Why, everyone.

"Impossible," says Don Carlos. "Absolutely, for there never was a flea that could live on a monkey."

Don Carlos ought to know. He has owned thousands of monkeys in his life.

FLEA THEORY DECRIED

Don Carlos and One of His Baby Bears.

He lived with them in the jungles of West Africa, lost from civilization, for over a year.

"I have examined hundreds of monkeys under the microscope. Following my researches and travels among the monkey tribes of West Africa I was made a Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society," he said.

"But one time I discovered just what ailed monkeys. They suffer from a minute organism, something like a mite, which, when one monkey loosens this organism and holds it, it dies instantly. I know this and am willing to prove it at any time."

Don Carlos is running the Dog and Monkey Hotel at The Oaks, in which all the performers are dogs and monkeys. He never appears on the stage with them; they are not chained, yet they go through in detail a rollicking comedy that needs no words.

It is a part of the Howard Foggs-Don Carlos show which will be seen in the large theaters during next winter.

POLLY ADDS KNOWLEDGE

TRIP IN HOLD OF VESSEL EMBARRASSING TO OWNER.

"Hello, kid," "Oh, You Peach," and Other Endearing Terms Used on Plyer, Horrific Mrs. Wolf Wolfman.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Mrs. Wolf Wolfman, who arrived today on the liner Mauretania, brought over with her a parrot and two monkeys. The parrot caused her much embarrassment on the pier. He had been kept in the hold on the trip over, and picked up some new phrases below decks.

"Hello, kid," he would call, whenever he spotted a pretty girl, and the girl so addressed would turn indignantly, prepared to call somebody down.

"It's only Cayenne Pepper" (the parrot's name), Mrs. Wolfman would explain apologetically. "He's picked up some horrid language down in the hold. Please forgive him."

"Sit down! You're rockin' the boat," Polly would shout. "Oh, you peach!" was another favorite expression with which he greeted the ladies.

A fat, red-faced man, in a hurry to get somewhere, bumped into a portly lady who had come to meet some returning friends. The collision threw both almost off their feet.

"Don't mind him, madam, he's half seas over," shouted Polly.

Mrs. Wolfman didn't want to be separated from Cayenne Pepper on shipboard, but the other passengers insisted after the first night. Polly couldn't sleep, and at two-minute intervals would shriek:

"Polly's sick. Polly's a-tying. Poor Polly!"

The next day, despite the protests of his mistress, Polly was taken down to the hold with Mustard and Tobacco, the two monkeys. Down there he amused himself bossing everybody—and he picked up enough language, it was said, to qualify him for bossing a gang of longshoremen.

THIRTY TO RULE SOCIETY

Elect Will Hold Perpetuity Tier in New St. Louis Opera-House.

ST. LOUIS, July 1.—St. Louis society's "thirty" will be definitely established when the present plans are worked out for a new home for grand opera here. There are to be 30 families to hold the principal tier of boxes in perpetuity. Guy Galtman announced today that $50,000 had been subscribed in two days, not counting the $50,000 which the late Adolphus Busch promised to give for a new opera-house shortly before his death and which his son-in-law, Edward A. Faust, says probably will be made good by the family.

The committee in charge expects soon to raise $250,000 for the building. It was at first planned to have an opera-house and hotel combined, but this has been abandoned for a classic building to contain 3150 seats.

DOUBLING ROSARIANS UP

Special Meeting to Vote on Increasing Members to 200.

Preparations have been made to increase the membership of the Royal Rosarians from 100 to 200 and a special meeting has been called for tomorrow at luncheon at the Commercial Club to vote upon the proposal.

The Rosarians were originally organized with a membership limit of 100, but the growing scope of their activities and also the waiting list of applicants has made it seem advisable to increase this limit. Other matters, including plans for the excursion to Seat-

APPLE TREE KITTENS' HOME

Tarrytown Man Shakes One Down, Proud Mother Follows.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 1.—Morris Newman, of Washington street, tried to shake a green apple from his favorite tree in the front yard and a little kitten fell at his feet. His eyes were closed, but it was a lively kitten. An instant later the mother cat jumped down out of the apple tree and began to purr profusely.

Newman climbed the tree to investigate, and in the old fork where he used to sit as a boy there was a litter of six more of the little blind Maltese kittens. They had been born in the tree over-closed, but it was a lively kitten. An instant later the mother cat and the seven little ones are now in a basket behind the kitchen stove.

$25,000,000 NOT MISSED

Over Half Billion Left in Denver After Big Gold Shipment.

DENVER, July 1.—The sending of $25,000,000 in gold to New York for shipment to Europe hardly made a dent in the United States mint here, according to a report submitted by the mint officials.

This report shows that after the $25,000,000 had been shipped on June 15 there remained on hand $75,000,000 in gold bar and gold coin.

On the same date the San Francisco mint, the next largest, had on hand only $284,000,000 coin and gold bar. This shows that Denver has by far the largest gold reserve of any sub-treasury in the United States.

MANY HEAR BAND CONCERT

Thousands Enjoy Music and Children's Contests at Mt. Tabor Park.

Thousands of persons in Mount Tabor Park yesterday afternoon enjoyed a Fourth of July concert by the Portland Park Band. The concert was the most largely attended of any given by the band so far this season, according to Director Brown. The programme included classical and popular music. Music was not the only attraction at pretty Mount Tabor, as many enjoyed picnics. During the afternoon there were sports for children in the children's playground, and prizes were awarded the winners in many contests.

RACE IS MADE TO RACE

MARTIN PARELIUS WANTS TWO PRIZES, AND GETS THEM. Irvington Contest Won, He Dashes Away to Metzger in Time to Jump on Bicycle and Win There.

Sheridan's famous ride was gloriously parodied yesterday by Martin Parelius, son of M. W. Parelius, of Irvington, in a successful dash from one Fourth of July celebration to another so that he might win prizes that were offered in both places.

The more glory attaches to the gallant ride of the young Parelius because he accomplished exactly what he started out to do.

There was a footrace scheduled for the Masonic celebration at Metzger and Martin looked upon the prize hung up with longing eyes. But there was a first-class bicycle lamp offered at Irvington for a boy's bicycle race.

"And I really can use that bicycle lamp," he confided to his friends.

His decision finally fell in favor of the race at Metzger and the youthful athlete went in, and won.

Then he discovered that there was still time, perhaps, if he hurried, to get back and make a try for the prize in Irvington. It was a close shave, but he succeeded in reaching Irvington before the start of the race, where he jumped on a bicycle and beat his competitors by a margin of more than 50 yards.

DOG CASES ARE NUMEROUS

Chicago Judge Cannot Handle All, so Gets Assistance.

CHICAGO, July 1.—"There's too much dog here altogether," said Municipal Judge Newcomer, as he found 53 cases on the docket, in which the defendants had been arrested for failing to get licenses for dogs and failing to muzzle the animals.

Judge Newcomer telephoned to Chief Justice Harry Olson and asked him to assign some of the cases to another judge. This was done.

River bluffs to Delay street through Lower Albina. This extension of the Willamette boulevard was surveyed and laid out in 1913, and with it was included a plan for the extension of Patton avenue and Delay street through valuable pieces of property in Lower Albina. This made the district to be assessed cover so large a territory that there was misunderstanding among the property owners, and hence the two propositions have been separated, and the Lower Peninsula people will put the Willamette boulevard-Greeley street highway through independent of the Patton avenue extension.

According to the report of Deputy Engineer W. S. Chapman the cost of the Peninsula highway right of way
