Servians Defy Austria; Struggle of Teuton vs. Slav Feared

RUSSIA MARSHALS FORCES

Vital Issue Is Whether Czar Will Go to Rescue of His Smaller Brother.

BELGRADE TO BE ABANDONED

Seat of Government Removed 60 Miles, to Kraguyevata.

SERB PRIDE IS TOUCHED

Austria Thought to Have Chosen Time to Administer Punishment When Powers Were Busy With Troubles at Home.

LONDON, July 25.—The darkest war cloud which has appeared on the European horizon since Germany sent warships to Agadir in 1911 has arisen within 48 hours.

The Servian government has refused to comply with Austria's demands, the most humiliating ever asked of an independent nation, for the explanation of the Sarajevo murders for which Austria holds anti-Austrian conspiracies in Serbia responsible and for guarantees of future good behavior.

Diplomatic Relations Severed. At 5:56 o'clock tonight, when the Austro-Hungarian ultimatum expired, the Servian premier handed to the Austrian minister at Belgrade Serbia's reply.

The contents of the note have not been revealed, but the Servian legation in London understands that it accepted some of Austria's conditions and rejected others. Apparently Austria was resolved to have the whole bill paid or nothing.

Now the vital question to Europe is whether Russia will come to the rescue of her little Slav brother, involving the other powers and making of the war a dread struggle of Slav against Teuton for European supremacy.

Russian Army Mobilizing. Reports from St. Petersburg say that the Russian army is mobilizing but it is to be remembered that Russia mobilized several corps when Austria annexed Bosnia and the German Emperor, stepping to the side of his ally, as was said, "in shining armor," put a veto on Russian intervention.

Austria and Serbia are both mobilizing, but the silence of all the dispatches on the subject of military preparation indicates clearly that an ironclad censorship has been established in both countries.

The Servians have decided not to attempt to defend Belgrade, the garrison having already been withdrawn, according to Vienna reports, and the seat of government removed from Belgrade to Kraguyevata, a strong strategic point 60 miles to the south.

Pride of Serbs Well Known. Serbia's refusal to humiliate itself to the extent its big neighbor has dictated was not unexpected. The Serbs have been proud since their success in the late Balkan war, and the government which yielded to such demands as Austria's could not last; even the dynasty would be imperiled. Serbia's little ally, Montenegro, seems determined to cast its lot with its cousin in war.

Servian partisans abroad advance the theory that Austria has made up her mind to dispose of her neighbor, which has long been a thorn in her side, and has chosen to strike a decisive blow at a moment when the nations of the triple entente are handicapped by home troubles—Russia with a great strike, France with a political upheaval and Great Britain with a threatened civil war in Ulster.

British Sympathy With Austria. England shows no enthusiasm over becoming embroiled in a war which might prove a great calamity in her interests. As far as opinion can be gathered amid the paralysis which overcomes all British political activities over Sunday, sentiment of the run of the people here trends toward Austria, although Britain is allied with Russia and France. This is based on the belief that Servian intrigues for undermining Austria by a pan-Slav movement have been so open that no nation could tolerate them, and in the present

ARMY OF 2,000,000 AT AUSTRIA'S CALL

PEACE FOOTING IS ESTIMATED AT 390,000 SOLDIERS.

Reserve Force Includes All Able-Bodied Men From 18 to 21, Male Population Serving in Field.

VIENNA, July 25.—(Special)—Austria has 390,000 soldiers upon whom to call to safeguard what its statesmen believe to be its own interests. These fighting men have to do with the peace footing of the Austro-Hungarian army. In time of war the Emperor-King can call 2,000,000 men of all arms into the field, and this estimate takes no account of the Landwehr and Landsturm, corresponding roughly to the National Guard of the United States or the territorial army of England.

This reserve force includes all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 21 and between the ages of 33 and 42, the male population generally between the ages of 21 and 32 being required to give military service, two years in infantry, three in cavalry and artillery and four in the navy, besides service in the reserves, bringing the total number of years generally up to 12.

DEMOCRATS LIKELY TO RETAIN SENATE

Majority, However, May Be Reduced.

DEFEAT OF FOUR EXPECTED

Republicans Count Chamberlain's Scalp Among Others.

TARIFF VOTES UNPOPULAR

Western Members Who Followed Wilson When They Might Have Won Concessions by Independent Stand Are Vulnerable.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 25.—In all probability the Democrats will retain control of the United States Senate for another two years, though their majority in the upper branch of Congress may be reduced as a result of the election next November. The Democrats today control the Senate by a majority of ten, and to wrest control from the party in power, the Republicans must hold their present strength and defeat not fewer than six Democrats whose terms expire March 4 next.

The Senate today consists of 53 Democrats, 42 Republicans and Senator Poindexter, of Washington. The terms of 32 Senators expire March 4, 1915, and of this number 17 are Republicans and 15 are Democrats.

Ten Are in Solid South. To control the next Senate, the Republicans must hold all 17 seats they now have, and must defeat at least six of the 15 Democrats who are up for re-election. When it is discovered that ten of the 15 fall from states of the Solid South, it is evident that nothing short of a miracle can wrest control of the Senate from the hands of the Democrats at the coming election.

Republican campaign managers feel reasonably certain of defeating four Democratic Senators, Messrs. Chamberlain, of Oregon; Newlands, of Nevada; Smith, of Arizona, and Thomas, of Colorado. Each of these Senators voted for the passage of the Underwood tariff bill after having denounced that bill from the floor of the Senate as detrimental to the interests of their respective states. Each of these Senators went into a Democratic caucus and submitted to a party gag, applied at the direction of President Wilson, and each of these Senators has been

REV. W. B. HINSON RESIGNS POSITION

White Temple May Lose Pastor of Four Years.

ANNOUNCEMENT NOT OFFICIAL

If Deacons Accept Resignation Change Not Due Soon.

OFFICERS WILL NOT TALK

Noted Pulpit Orator to Take Vacation After Today—First Hint of Resignation Given in Church Bulletin; Theme 'Farewell.'

The Rev. W. B. Hinson, for more than four years pastor of the White Temple, has tendered his resignation from that pastorate, and it will be acted upon by the deacons of the church, probably some time this week. Rumor that his resignation was in the hands of the trustees of the church were pending for a public announcement of it today. The official announcement, however, probably will not be made now until the deacons have taken action one way or the other upon the pastor's resignation.

Members of the board of trustees yesterday declined without exception to discuss the matter and no forecast was made as to the probable action of the deacons, although the report was made in some quarters that the resignation would be accepted. The church law calls for three months' notice in a matter of this nature, and should the deacons accept, it still will be several weeks before Dr. Hinson actually vacates the pulpit.

Mr. Hinson won't talk. Dr. Hinson himself declined to discuss his resignation yesterday and refused to deny or confirm the statements that were abroad concerning it. His secretary, likewise, hesitated to discuss it and finally made a pointedly blank denial, intimating that the fact of Dr. Hinson's leaving tomorrow for his summer vacation probably led to the report.

Dr. Hinson is to leave for his vacation after today and in his absence the pulpit will be occupied by Dr. J. Q. A. Henry, who was pastor in the White Temple a number of years ago.

In the meantime, however, the resignation will remain in the hands of the officials of the church pending their

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—A special despatch from Lews, Del., says the Government lighthouse tender Iris, with Secretary of Commerce Redfield and a Congressional committee aboard, was blown ashore in a storm today just north of Cape Henlopen.

The survey boat Endeavor, which was anchored a short distance away, although damaged by the storm, went to the relief of the Iris, and after an hour's work, succeeded in getting it afloat.

Secretary Redfield, Captain Boutelle, of the Endeavor, and the Congressional committee were the guests of Captain Atkins of the Iris on the lighthouse tender.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Mrs. Anthony Caminetti, wife of the Commissioner-General of Immigration, announced today that unless the Democratic party developed a candidate to oppose Representative Curry (Republican) in the Third District, she would, circumstances permitting, seek the Democratic nomination at the primary election by having her name written on the ballot.

Mrs. Caminetti has been active in politics ever since women obtained the ballot in California.

CAILLAUX MINGLES LOVE AND POLITICS

Fervid Letters Tell of Duty to Party.

'INFINITE PRUDENCE' URGED

"Dear Riri" Bidden to Wait Until After Election.

KISSES SENT BY MILLION

Attitude Toward Divorce Strongly Influenced by Probable Effect on Candidacy—One Trial Judge Challenges Another.

PARIS, July 25.—How Joseph Caillaux, since Premier of France, then a power in radical politics, mingled love with politics in his letters to the present Mme. Caillaux, came out graphically today when the two letters handed in by Mme. Gueydan were read in court.

The letters breathed love in every paragraph—and discussed the effect of their love affair on the political future of the writer. They told how "Riri," the affectionate diminutive for Henriette, had obtained her divorce, as if in perfect confidence that he, too, would take the step that would make him free to wed her—and they at the same time begged her to be prudent.

Love Bids Wait on Election. This was a typical paragraph: "I do and will love thee. I certainly expect to regain my liberty some day in any case, but—"

Here the politician asserted himself, the sentence is completed with: "In any case I shall not move before election."

Caillaux sent kisses by the hundreds of millions; he spoke of his duty to his party; he heaped fervid declarations of undying affection one on the other, and expressed fear of blackmail. Caillaux, the politician, seemed rather to dominate Caillaux the lover, on the whole.

The evidence after the love letters was offered out into discussions by surgeons as to whether M. Calmette could have been saved by an immediate operation.

Duel of Judges Deferred. A remarkable feature of the proceedings is the quarrel which has arisen between the presiding judge of the court, Louis Albanet and Judge Louis Dagoury, one of the three other judges sitting on the bench with him, as a result of which a challenge to a duel has been sent by Judge Albanet to his colleague. Spectators and lawyers seized this as a toothsome morsel, differing in all respects from other sensational offerings of the trial.

The preparations for the duel, however, have been suspended until the decision of the Minister of Justice has been rendered as to whether they may fight. The two judges sat side by side today without speaking to each other.

Professor Accuses Labori. Professor Fies, Delbet, of the University of Paris, provided another moment of excitement when he refused to take an oath to tell the whole truth, because, he said, he had been approached by a person whose name he had promised not to reveal. This person had mentioned the name of Labori as having sent him.

The advocate arose in a rage and said the person had. A violent altercation followed between Maitre Labori and Professor Delbet. The latter ended the incident by leaving the stand without divulging the name of the person.

Caillaux's Love Missive Read. Following is the text of the first letter from M. Caillaux to the present Mme. Caillaux before his divorce from his first wife, as read in court today: "My Dear Little Riri: I have read, with attention it merited, the letter which thou hast written me and which calls for an explicit response.

"For several days I have had the intention of dissipating any misunderstanding by a complete explanation. When I met thee, I felt the impulsion of my whole being. I should nevertheless have resisted and should no doubt have had the courage to conquer myself if I had been happy at home. But I was not happy. I was humiliated and wounded by the action I had undergone and no one can make me forget my bruised feelings. No one could soothe my injuries. On the contrary, they aggravated them. Therefore, I threw myself towards thee with passionate fury, or rather with furious passion. Nevertheless, at the time of the incidents to which it is unnecessary to allude, I considered it my duty to release thee entirely by giving thee in a letter thy full liberty.

Divorce Must Await Elections. "As a matter of fact, I didn't feel sufficiently sure of recovering my independence to give me the right to engage thee to obtain mine. With fine courage and with the beautiful boldness which love and confidence gave thee, thou hast reconquered thy freedom, saying to me in substance, 'I ask of thee but one engagement—that is to give me thy love now,' and to this thou hast added, 'I shall not believe quiet in the fullness of thy love if thou dost not succeed some day in thyself in becoming free.'

"I answered thee, 'I do and will love thee. I certainly expect to regain my
