NEUTRALITY PACT IS PROPOSED BY DRYS

League to Make No Choice Between Parties if Amendment Is Not Fought.

READY TO ACCEPT

Proposed Agreement.

A plan proposed by E. A. Baker, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon, is that the dry forces of the state piedge themselves to strict neutrality between any and all parties and candidates on condition that those parties and candidates pledge a like neutrality as between the wet and dry forces.

This plan, as submitted to the official party leaders, had received the indorsement of Bert E. Haney, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, and C. B. Moores, chairman of the Republican state central committee, and C. R. Moores, chairman of the Republican state central committee. While the executive committee of the Progressive party has not yet taken action, those prominent in party councils have indicated their opinion that the proposition is a fair one and have said that they believe it will be indorsed. W. S. U'Ren, independent candidate for Governor, also has signified his approval, it is said. has signified his approval, it is said.

Prohibitionists Not Asked.

The letter embodying the proposal was not sent to the Prohibition party, as it is its well-known policy to make prohibition a party issue.

According to the understandings as entitled in the letter, the parties and candidates are to piedge themselves further that in case the "dry" amendment is passed they will assist in procuring legislative enactment which will make ample provision for the engagement of the law and provide adapted. forcement of the law and provide ade-quate penalties to insure enforcement. Still another condition of the agreement is that the parties and candidates further pledge themselves that in case of the defeat of the proposed amend-ment they will not become party to any attempt to repeal existing laws on the liquor question that have been adopted by direct vote of the people.

Avoiding Prejudice Is Alm. The Anti-Saloon League and the com mittee of 10, it is announced, are very desirous of keeping the question out of partisan politics, realizing that there are scores of thousands of people who will vote for the amendment in all of the parties and that many of these might become prejudiced against the amendment if the amendment forces set themselves in array against their Superintendent Baker points out that a similar plan was followed in West Virginia two years ago, when prohibition carried by $2,000 majority. He ciaims that the majority was largely made possible by the fact that the dry made possible sandiforces did not oppose a single candi-date for any office.

Following the adoption of the amendment in West Virginia, the most drastic regulation bill ever proposed in any state passed the lower house unanimously, and passed the Senate with Gill's Employes Have Outing at only one vote against it. Governor Hatfield immediately signed it.

Brewery Lawyer Keeps Pledge. As an example of the working out of the agreement, Mr. Baker cites the fact that John P. Arbenz, an attorney for a brewery, was a member of the Legislature. He voted in committee to ure and voted for it in the House. The letter which the Anti-Saloon League has sent out in Oregon to the state chairmen and state officers will be followed up by similar letters to the county chairmen and candidates for the Legislature. It is probable that in many countles the local organizations will take similar steps to insure neu trailty as between the county dates and the assistance of the elected officers in enforcing the law, provid-ing the amendment is adopted.

As a league we have but a single aim in the present state comparint, what to secure the popular ratification of the non-partisan initiative constitutional amendment for "Oregon dry." We desire a free and unprejudiced expression by the people on this question, uncomplicated with other measures, party policies, or personalities of candidates. We do not wish to secure a dry vate beyond normal through the aid of any party. We do not wish to be burdened with the personality of any candidate.

ment in securing laws providing for its strict enforcement and fixing adequate penalties for its violation.

We believe, further, that you are ready to pledge the co-operation of the administrative and executive departments (provided you hold them) in making the law effective; and, since the local option laws have been secured by direct action of the people themselves, we are confident that you will not attempt, by legislative action, to repeal thom.

In order that we may defend that belief, will you assure us from party headquarters, and through your candidates for state offices and legislative offices, that this is your position?

We shall observe strict neutrality as between parties and candidates, so long as they observe a like neutrality toward the amendment. If the amendment is opposed we shall fight, whether the opponent be an individual candidate or a political party. Confusion defeats the purpose of popular government, delays progress and injures prosperity. Let us come together in an agreement to keep the air clear.

Awaiting your carly reply, we are yours very cordially.

OREGON CITY GIRL NOW IS NEW YORK SENSATION

Mary Adele Case, With Soulful Eyes and Big Curls, to Dance for Cause of Suffrage With Wall-Street Partner.

BY LEONE CASS BAER. P ILLINGS, Mont., July 25.—(Special.) a New York Morning Telegraph today I came across a lengthy story about Mary Adele Case, a Portland girl, or at least Oregon City girl. The accounting is two or three columns in space and there's a great, big, smashing, new picture of Mary Adele off to one side of the story. Big, soulful eyes has Mary Adele's picture and lots of piled-high curls, while a length of slim, drooping shoulders mets into nothingness in the lower right hand orner of her picture. Mary Adele Does Latest Thing. And what has Mary Adele done? Well, apparently, the newest thing under the sun, although history says and vaudeville teaches that there isn't any such thing. But the venturesome mind and methods of Mary J. Donnel-ly, of New York City, proves that there ly, of New York City, proves that there is something new, or at least a fresh wrinkle in something old. Miss Donnelly, who has never had to ask to be remembered since her campaign against the corruption of Queen's County Jail some years ago, has inaugurated a suffrage dancing campaign. And Mary Adels Case is her solo dancer.

Now you have it.

Now you have it.
To go back just a minute it seems that after Miss Donnelly cleaned up a few things in Queen's County. New York, she then turned to the originating, founding and propagation of the Belmont Club, at 140 East Thirty-fourth street, just above the historical, old dance hall, the Murray Hill Lyceum, in her newest activities are to conditions of unimpeachable respectability.

It is three years now since the Belmont Club passed out of the Fourteenth District and no similar organteenth District and no similar organization has taken its place. Which is one of the reasons that Miss Donnelly has selected the Murray Hill Lyceum has selected the Murray Hill Lyceum for her new suffrage dansant cam-paign. Her new dansant is meant to bring back to these people some of the things they have been missing and nourning.

Fifth and Third Avenues Mix. Fifth avenue and Third avenue are touch finger tips in the tango and to touch linger tips in the tango and testify to the common brotherhood of women. The immortal glory of suffrage is to be innoculated, incidentally, but decisively, in all the fair maidens of Fifth avenue and Third avenue and in their accounts. their escorts.

Miss Donnelly is determined that though they may come but to hesitate they shall remain to demand the vote for woman. Her dansant is to be a rallying place for all the various suffrage organizations of the district in and about Manhattan. Miss Donnelly has announced that invites them to step forward and she invites them to step forward and book their own especial days when each of them, one at a time, can plan the coming Fall campaign in businessike 20th century fashion, between the maxixe and the lame duck. "Tell them," said Miss Donnelly in
