Rearrangement Zones Leaves Sections Without Candidates - Senator Jones Likely to Be Unopposed.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 25,-(Special.) This week's filings for state and National offices in the office of the Secretary of State brought out for re-election or for election to other offices retary of State brought out for reelection or for election to other offices

the remainder of the Congressional delegation whose terms expire this year, with the exception of Representative Albert Johnson.

Senator Wesley L. Jones is to date the only Republican candidate for his position to file notice of candidacy, and as no other has announced his candidacy, it seems likely that the Senator will be unopposed for the nomination, which the members of his party universally concede to him.

Congressman-at-Large J. A. Falconer, of Everett, is a candidate for the Senate Congressman-at-Large J. W. Bryanalso Progressive, has filed for the nomination in the First District, that of Congressman William E. Humphrey, who filed this week for renomination.
Representative William E. La Follette
also is a candidate for renomination in his district, now the Fourth, but at the time of his election, the Third.

Redistricting Leaves Places.

Redistricting Leaves Places.

Redistricting Leaves Places.

Redistricting of the state by the last Legislature and the creation of two additional districts leaves two districts without candidates. These are the Second. The northwestern section of the state, including King County, outside the City of Seattle, which, with Kitsap County, now constitutes the First District, and the Fifth District, including the Northwest and the City of Spokane, Representative J. A. Falconer is a resident of the new Second District, but his candidacy for the Senate leaves the district open to new men. The only fillings so far in this district are those of Lindley H. Hadley, of Bellingham, a Republican, and George E. Adamson, of Everett, a Democrat.

The new Spokane district is expected to bring forth a large number of candidates. To date two Democrats have filed. They are C. C. Dill, formerly private secretary to Governor Lister, and Warren W. Tolman. Harve Phipps, a Progressive and ex-State Senator, has also filed in this district.

First, or Seattle district, brings out Frank Hammond and H. E. Foster to contest with Representative William E. Humphrey for the Parable E. Humphrey for the Republican nom-ination, in addition to Representative J. W. Bryan, who hopes to get the Bull

Moose indorsement.

In the Third District, the home of Representative Albert Johnson, Robert A. Wiley, of Montesano, now County Assessor of Chehalis County, will contest with the Representative for the Republican nomination. Johnson has announced his candidacy, but has not yet filed. William E. Cass, of Vangery is out for Democratic preferences. couver, is out for Democratic prefrence.

Representative William L. La Follette, of Pullman, who filed this week will meet opposition in the Republican primaries from Edward Parker, of Naches City, Yakima County. Roscoe Drumheller, of Walla Walla, is a Democratic candidate in this district.

In the Senatorial race, the filings were augmented this week by that of Ole Hanson, of Seattle, State Legislator, who will run for the Progressive nomination. The Bull Moose candidates include Representative J. A. Falconer ination. The Bull Moose candidates include Representative J. A. Falconer and Mayor Fawcett, of Tacoma. Exsenator George Turner, of Spokane, and ex-Mayor George F. (Special.)—Frank Farburgeon, a transpany and has passed to the first and second readings a street-lighting contract that calls for 20 lights. The company is willing and ready to furnish light for Sandy as soon as the contract has passed the Council in its final reading. Service will be supplied from Bull Run, which will make necessary a transmission line of less than three miles in length.

Sandy has seen many improvements.

Sandy has seen many improvements that the dispatch of the fight started after the lie had been passed in a dispute over the dispapearance of a pair of gloves. Farburgeon was struck with a pick handle, Richard James is under arrest charged with the assault.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 25 .-(Special.)-Secretary Robert Johnson, of the fair association and Frontier Days celebration, received the follow

ter; in some respects the most odd and romantic that ever lived in the Northwest. Early settlers say that he lived the life of a recluse high up in the Walla Nountains near the head of Walla Walla River for many years, his only companions being two or three friendly dogs, a cayuse and other domestic animals. It is said by those who knew him and who have visited his shack, which was built of mud and logs, that he also harbored such playful pets as rattlesnakes, gila monsters and horned toads. Settlers still living in Walla Walla Valley aver that Mexican Pete actually did share his bed with these Blue Mountains near the head of Walla Delbert E.
