

Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman, And Daughter Patricia Bushnell Photo

silk, added to the loveliness of the decoration. About the room were many Venetian bowls containing sweet peas. The table centering bowl was filled with the fragrant blooms, ranging in color from a deep blue to the palest pink. The place cards were of design and color to correspond and each cover was marked with a Colonial corsage bouquet.

Mrs. Cook is a gracious hostess who plans the details of her social functions carefully and her entertainments always are of the best type. Mrs. Thomas Wells, of Boston, house guest of Mrs. J. H. Pace, her sister, was the inspiration for the luncheon.

Miss Louise and Miss Ruth Small have returned from the East. Miss Louise Small went to New York two months ago and devoted some time to study educational methods and then went to Chicago, where she was joined by her sister, and together the girls visited relatives and friends in several of the large cities. They were extremely tired and had a delightful trip. They returned by way of the Canadian Pacific route.

Card honors fell to Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. William A. MacRea and Miss Hirsch. On Monday Mrs. Cook will entertain at another small bridge party for a different group of friends.

In honor of Alfred Hoyt, of New York, who was here for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, a motor trip to Falls Châlet at Lakeorell was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Corbett. A dinner in the picturesque bungalow was a feature of the outing. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Ruggles Corbett, Lloyd Smith and a few additional guests were entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Alma D. Katz gave another similar party on Thursday, when they entertained a number of friends at a motor party and dinner.

Early in the week there were two engagements announced and two important weddings solemnized. In these instances out of the four the fortunate men were young lawyers.

One of the engaged girls when asked if she played, sang or was gifted artistically, replied: "No, I'm just going to make a nice comfortable, happy home and look out for the comfort of my husband and help him make his way in the world. I am learning housekeeping and sewing, but I have no talents." A matron who overheard the remark said: "You are a wise little woman. And as for talents you have the most precious of them all—the talent for home-making."

One of the most beautiful weddings of the year was solemnized at the White Temple on Wednesday night when Miss Helen Grace Higbee became the bride of Frederick Mason De Neffe. The service was read at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. W. B. Hinson. For half an hour prior to the ceremony a program of organ selections was provided by Mrs. Leonora Flaher Whipp, and just before the bridal party entered, Mrs. Virginia S. Hutchinson sang Metcalf's "Before You Came." During the service Mrs. Whipp played Mendelssohn's "Spring Song."

With the strains of the wedding march there first entered—Teddy Hart and Leola Fayer, two tiny lads in nobby white suits. They carried the ribbons marking the aisles. The ushers, E. H. Morris, Coe A. McKenna, Fred Martin, Robert Hitch, Joseph Cronin, A. H. Allen and Cassimer Campbell, and the maids, Miss Louise Boyd and Miss Ines Cross, preceded the bride and scattering blossoms in her path, were Mary Fisher and Katherine Hart, two pretty little girls in white frocks and pink sashes and hair-bows.

The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Le Roy Hadley. Mr. De Neffe and his best man, James Conley, met the party at the altar. After the service a reception was held in the parlors of the church. The pulpit, organ loft and balcony were decorated elaborately with palms, pink gladioli, white lilies and palms. In the reception room red and white flowers formed a bower of loveliness.

The bride was radiantly beautiful in her robe of Duchess satin draped in Chantilly lace. Her veil, falling from a narrow head-band of pleated tulle and fringe blossoms, was arranged to show to advantage her wealth of golden brown hair. Ornaments and white roses were mingled in her bouquet.

Miss Boyd and Miss Cross were lovely in pink charmeses, veiled in pale pink chiffon. They wore matching caps of silver lace and carried princess roses. Mrs. Hadley was handsome in deep ivory tinted satin with train, draping and girde of clear gold and turquoise. Mrs. Edward M. Long, the charming little grandmother of the bride, received her share of attention and admiration. She was gowned in silver crepe de chine and wore some exquisite old lace.

Mr. and Mrs. De Neffe, assisted by members of the bridal party and relatives, received and a bevy of pretty girls and young matrons served ices. Among those assisting were Miss Beatrix Kraham, of Spokane; Miss Shirley, Miss Elizabeth Boyd, Mrs. James Conley and Mrs. Lair H. Gregory.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. De Neffe will return to Pasadena and will be domiciled in their new home in Garden Home after November 1. The bride is popular socially, gifted in many ways and is possessed of much personal charm. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and formerly attended both Washington and Oregon State Universities. Mr. De Neffe is well known in club circles and as an attorney.

Four charming young visitors were honored on Monday, when Mrs. Katherine F. Daly entertained at a delightful outing and al fresco luncheon at the Oaks. The honored guests were Miss Helen Baldwin, niece of Mrs. J. C. Costello; Miss Evelyn Callahan, H. Callahan; Miss Frances Leybold, who is Mrs. Daly's house guest, and Mrs. Raymond McCarthy, (Irene Flynn). Additional guests were Mrs. J. C. Costello, Mrs. Marcus Delahunt, Mr. P. A. Devers, and several others.

PROMINENT COUPLE CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cowing Bushnell-Photo

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cowing, well-known residents of this city, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Sunday by entertaining members of their family at an elaborate dinner party at the Hotel Benson. The table appointments were all in golden tones and the service was gold. Mrs. Cowing wore a handsome gown of cloth of gold and lace draped with embroidered net.

The Store of Style

You Are Invited

to visit the store tomorrow and inspect the immense and beautiful display of new Fall styles in Ladies' and Misses' Wearables. The best ideas in foreign and American style creations in Coats, Suits, Dresses, Waists, Skirts and Petticoats were gathered together for your choice and the price tickets they bear will thrill you with surprise.

What About Our Prices?

We have earned the reputation as leaders in style, quality and variety. This cherished reputation we will at all times retain. Besides, we now reach out for your recognition as the fairest and lowest-price store in the city. Thus, you are now enabled to procure a garment of similar quality as you were in the habit of paying about $30.00 for, or more, at only $20

Charming Millinery

The new arrivals of Fall Hats have opened up to our entire satisfaction and delight. You are cordially invited to inspect them and to try on a few of these beautiful models. Here, too, as in all other sections of the store, the prices are the lowest in town.

Your Credit--as Good as Ever

The low prices we are determined to maintain on high-class desirable wearing apparel do not hamper your credit privileges. You can have your purchases charged and remit in easy payments instead of settling your entire bill on 1st of each month. Yes, low prices and liberal credit, both with our compliments.

Ask for People's Brown Trading Stamps With All Payments

405 Washington

Corner of Tenth Street

The Store of Service

Mrs. Vincent Cook, A Hostess of the Week. Photo C. Elmore Grove

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Who is Being Extensively Entertained. Photo Bushnell-Photo

THE members of Portland's smart set who have remained in town this Summer have enjoyed the perfect weather, the opportunities for motor trips, garden parties, informal afternoon teas on the verandas and inspiration for social affairs and outings. They have had as guests many out-of-town visitors, who have been enchanted during the past week, there have been ever so many small affairs, that have kept the maids and matrons busy every day of the week. The motor outings have, perhaps, been the most popular mode of entertainment. Dinners at the country clubs and fashionable resorts in the country have afforded opportunity for the dispensing of hospitality in a most charming and appropriate fashion.

Although scores of society folk leave daily for the beaches and mountain resorts, there are still large numbers in town and of those many will remain here all Summer, except when short week-end trips are taken to nearby places which can be reached conveniently by auto. Portland society has discovered that in Summer entertaining in town there are many charms. Such dainty, chic dinners can be worn, such stunning costumes for afternoons and garden festivities, and the verandas are such delightful spots for the serving of tea for an hour or two at auction bridge. No large social functions have been announced for the coming week, but several matrons have planned small informal affairs, at which they will compliment visiting maids and matrons.

two prominent families. The couple had no attendants. The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of blue cloth with smart hat to correspond. Her bouquet was of orchids and maiden-hair fern. The music for the afternoon included organ solos played by Mrs. Edith Fullenius. After the ceremony the couple stood before the altar and their friends assembled to offer congratulations and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Mersereau left soon after for a trip throughout the Canadian Rockies.

It is interesting to note that just about a year ago Miss Lucille Parker, Eugene Mersereau, a brother of the bridegroom. The parents of both young men, Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford Mersereau, were among those who attended the ceremony and stood near the bridal couple at the informal reception after the marriage service. Mrs. Mersereau was admired in a hand-white lingerie gown. Summery afternoon gowns were worn by all the fair guests assembled. Mr. and Mrs. Mersereau will reside in Doty, Wash. after their wedding trip. The family has large timber interests in that locality.

An ultra-smart luncheon, exquisite in appointment, was that at which Mrs. Vincent Cook was hostess Thursday. Covers were laid for 12 society matrons. After the repeat three tables of bridge were played, the game occupying the afternoon hours. The rooms were beautifully decorated and the table appointments were original in arrangement and in perfect harmony. In the hall flaming red gladioli intermingled with gypsophelia banks the walls and in the reception room, which is finished in soft yellow and mellow golden tints, lavender thistle, heliotrope and lavender verbena formed a pleasing decorative scheme. The green walls and hangings of the library had as complimentary adornment rich red gladioli. The dining-room was decorated in the half-

Mrs. M. J. Buckley, Mrs. P. H. Flynn, Miss Helen McCusker, Miss Helen Calbreath, Miss Louise Doroughty, Miss Mamie Helen Flynn and Miss Hazel Johnson.

A charming recent addition to Portland society is Mrs. George Schaeffer, who came as a bride to this city a week ago from Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Schaeffer was formerly Miss Alma I. Blankenbaker. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Blankenbaker, prominent residents of Louisville and members of an old Southern family. Mr. Schaeffer and his bride met when recent marriage was the result of a romance of long standing. The bridegroom went back to his old home late in June to claim his bride. The young couple have had an extended wedding trip through the South and West. They stopped for some time in California, where they were entertained extensively. Several delightful affairs are being planned for the Southern belle, who will be welcomed by the local set. Mr. Schaeffer is well known in club and railroad circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Antoine G. Labbe are being congratulated on the arrival of a baby daughter, born last Wednesday. The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Auld has been brightened by the arrival of twins, a boy and a girl, who have been christened Martha Jane and Daniel Davis.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, a charming portrait of whom appears today, is being extensively feted by her many friends. Mrs. Montgomery was away in Europe for a long time and was greatly missed. She was identified with the social life of Portland as one of the leaders among the smart set. Her interest in things that are broad and good has always been an inspiration to all with whom she is associated. She is a woman of rare charm and is always thoughtful of others.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman and family left during the week for Seaside.

Mrs. Harry S. McCracken is planning to go to the beach soon. She will be accompanied by her three interesting little children and will remain out of town for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Branch Riley left yesterday for Tacoma, where they will join the Mazama party and spend two weeks camping in the wild and beautiful country on the north side of Hood River soon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Riley are out-of-door enthusiasts and have spent several Summers in mountaineering. Mr. Riley will have charge of the camp entertainments and "stage the shows."

Several distinguished Easterners have been in the city this week, en route to the Mazama outing. Among the visitors who have been entertained at social affairs, dinners and motor trips are Dr. C. Brack and his daughter, Miss Edna Brack, and Miss Mary Clem, of St. Louis, Mo.; Allen H. Bent, of Boston; Robert W. Raiman, of New York City; President W. E. Stone, of Purdue University, and Mrs. Stone; Howard W. Vernon, of New York; Frank E. Wynn, of Philadelphia, and several others.

Mrs. George E. Chamberlain and her two attractive daughters, the Misses Carrie-Lee and Fannie Chamberlain, have returned from Washington, D. C., and are guests for a short time of Mrs. H. B. Galtier, 405 East Twelfth street North.

Mrs. Chamberlain was quite ill in the East, but the ideal climate of Oregon is rapidly working wonders in restoring her health. The Misses Chamberlain have been among the popular girls of Washington society and have shared in the pleasures of the smart functions in the Capital City.

Miss Shirley Eastham will go to Hood River soon for a visit with Mrs. Phillip Carroll (Frances Nelson).

was that presided over by Miss Margaret Voorhies, who entertained 18 members of the younger smart set.

Several polo dinners were given on Monday night at the Waverly Country Club in honor of the visiting polo players. Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett entertained at an informal dinner for Francis Grosvenor and J. C. Fordham, of Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Edward Sherman added her quota of social interest to the week's happenings by entertaining charmingly at tea on Thursday.

Miss Barbara Mackenzie left on Monday for La Pine, Or. She will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Aya (Grace Honeyman).

Two engagements announced early in the week caused quite a buzz of excitement in social circles. Miss Ida Marie Shea made known her betrothal to Eugene Blaud, and Miss Mabel Ayers told of her engagement to Charles Elvon Musick, of Pasadena, Cal.

Miss Shea entertained at a bridge tea Tuesday, when she had as her guest of honor Miss Bernice Riley, of Chicago. When the game was over and the ices were being served, the guests were surprised to receive little red hearts attached to lady-fingers encircled with engagement rings. The hearts bore the names of the affianced pair and the date, August 27, which has been set for the marriage.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with red roses and other cut flowers. Miss Shea was prettily gowned in pink embroidered tulle. The brides were won by Mrs. William Castleman, of New York, and Miss Dagmar Korrell.

Miss Shea is a sweet, interesting girl, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Shea. Mr. Shea is a former resident of Illinois. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is a member of Phi Delta Phi fraternity. He is also identified with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. He will take his bride East to visit his parents and friends. Early in the Fall the couple will build an artistic home in this city.

Miss Mabel Ayers is a former student of Portland Academy, and while in school, and afterward in her social life, she made a wide circle of friends who are interested in her welfare, and so the announcement of her engagement to the Pasadena attorney created quite a stir. Miss Ayers visited her sister, Mrs. Ted Ludlum, recently, and was entertained at several delightful affairs. On Thursday Mrs. Ludlum and Miss Ayers went to San Francisco. Mr. Musick joined them in the Bay City. Miss Ayers is the daughter of Mrs. Alexander G. Orin, of White Salmon, Wash. Charles Elvon Musick, her fiance, is the son of Mrs. H. L. Musick, of Pasadena.

For the pleasure of her friends and several out-of-town visitors, Mrs. C. S. Jackson entertained yesterday at an auction bridge and garden tea. Six tables were arranged in the drawing-rooms and reception hall for cards and after the game the scene of entertainment was changed to the garden, where ices and tea were served. About 30 additional guests came in for the latter hour. Several society matrons and maids assisted the hostess in receiving and serving.

The Portland Art Association has issued an artistic book announcing plans for the coming year. The term will begin October 2. Miss Dorothy Gilbert is the honorary scholarship student.

Special Invitation to the Ladies

B. Sall, the ladies' tailor, formerly located at 411 Morrison street, has removed to 171 Eleventh street, one-half block south of Morrison. Mr. Sall has taken into the firm Mr. J. Pressman, also well known to the trade. The firm will carry a new and specially selected stock of the finest fabrics, which they will make to your order, combining perfect fit, style and workmanship. Our opening this week will be made popular by a big reduction in price as an inducement to introduce our new location.

Sall & Pressman
171 Eleventh Street,
1/2 Block South of Morrison st.

WE CARRY IMPORTED NECKWEAR EXCLUSIVELY

K.S. ERVIN & CO., LTD.,
GENERAL ENGLISH TAILORS
2D FLOOR SELLING BUILDING
SIXTH AND ALDER STREETS

LADIES—The new styles for Fall have arrived. Place your order now and avoid the Fall rush.

Prices Reasonable.

B. FINK
LADIES' TAILOR
407 Eilers Bldg.

J. K. STERN
Ladies' Tailor
445 Alder St.

is offering Suits at reduced prices, while he is in New York buying Fall goods. Latest styles. Order now. It's your opportunity.

W. G. SMITH & CO.

WEDDING AND VISITING CARD ENGRAVERS

Third Floor Morgan Building,
Broadway and Washington.