

Society

Mrs. C. D. LaCourrette, A Social Gatherings Editor

Mrs. Thomas Ellsworth Selars, who was raised rebel scout

Photos by C. Emory Groves

Miss Carrie Lee and Miss Fanny Chamberlain daughters of Senator and Mrs. George E. Chamberlain

George Seymour Beechwood, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Honolulu; Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hockenberry, Dr. and Mrs. Newell Lee Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Babson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Mackie, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Thompson, R. L. Lewis, Mrs. W. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. L. G. McAloney, Mr. and Mrs. George W. McMath, Mr. and Mrs. William Reid, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Aitchison, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denton, Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Creadick, Mrs. Samuel Creadick, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Marsh, Judge and Mrs. C. E. Wolverton, Mrs. August Klosterman, Miss Klosterman, Miss Abby Whiteside, Miss Fanson La Mont, Fritz Behrends and a few others.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Templeton and daughter have returned from the beach. They closed their seaside cottage earlier this summer than usual, as Miss Marguerite will leave for California tomorrow to attend the State University. She graduated from Portland Academy in June. Several of Miss Templeton's poems have appeared in print during the past year.

Mrs. J. Coulsen Hare was hostess early in the week, entertaining in compliment to Miss Hazel Quick, of Berkeley, Cal., who was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. William B. Hare.

The Monday Afternoon Club enjoyed a matinee party at the Hellig on Wednesday, when the members saw "Omar the Tentmaker." A tea at the Hazelwood followed the performance. Covers were laid at an artistically appointed table for Mrs. J. Coulsen Hare, an honorary member; Mrs. G. A. Combs, Mrs. R. E. Watkins, Mrs. W. B. Hare, Miss Nina Joy, Mrs. W. D. Lockwood and Mrs. McFarland. The club members meet on alternate Mondays for an afternoon, at which sewing and study are features. While one member reads aloud from some of the best books of fiction or from a classic the others sew. Tea concludes the gathering.

Among Portlanders on the Continent of Europe at the present anxious time is Mrs. Wesley S. Censer, of 1124 Cleveland avenue, Walnut Park. Mrs. Censer is a member of a tourist party which is making a European trip, and the last intelligence of her to friends was from Italy.

The most original social affair of the season was that given on Friday night at the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kline. The invitations had been issued in the form of tickets for an excursion on the "Never Was and Never Will Be Railway." Mr. and Mrs. Klein had planned every detail with the greatest forethought. A typical depot was found by the guests upon their entrance to the beautiful garden that surrounds the Kline residence on Chapman street, Portland Heights. Every one came with hand bags and luggage. One guest brought her pet dog on a chain. There was the peanut butcher, the porter, the conductor and brakeman. Cards were played at various stations and when the supper was ready, in came the waiter calling "Supper is now ready in the dining car." While the game of bridge was most interesting, suddenly, out went the lights and there was a realistic hold-up. A large number of friends shared the pleasures of this unique and jolly entertainment.

Mrs. John Francis Shea, Mrs. William P. Castleman and Master John Pryor Castleman left Wednesday for San Francisco. They will be the house guests of Mrs. Rowland Chapman and will return the end of August. Mrs. Castleman will leave the first week in September to join Mr. Castleman in New York after passing the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Shea.

Mrs. George Stovall and Mrs. George Stovall, Jr., were hostesses on Wednesday afternoon, entertaining at a charmingly planned card party in compliment to Miss Katherine Jackson, of Chicago. The party was held in the home of Mrs. Stovall, Sr., which was artistically decorated with bowls and baskets of pink sweet peas mingled with white flowers and feathery ferns. Miss Naidyne Baker gave some charming readings that were appreciated by the assembled guests. Miss Celia Berger assisted the hostesses in serving. Among those present were Miss Jackson, Mrs. H. T. Burntrager, Mrs. E. M. Baker, Mrs. E. A. Sealls,

Mrs. Lee Arnett, Mrs. Preston Smith, Mrs. George Akers, Mrs. V. M. C. Silva, Mrs. E. R. Erwin, Mrs. Edwin James, Mrs. C. M. Kiggins, Mrs. George Parrish, Mrs. Fred Mellich, Mrs. Henry Thompson, Mrs. William Bacon, Mrs. F. F. Boody, Mrs. John Clark and others.

All the members of the younger set, interested in the approaching marriage

PROMINENT WASHINGTON COUPLE ARE WED.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. White, of Roosevelt, Wn.

ROOSEVELT, Wash., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Miss Anna Laura Billington and Horace A. White, of Roosevelt, were married Thursday evening at Mabton, Wash. The wedding was a delightful home affair. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Billington, of Mabton, Wash. She is the younger son of Richard D. White, a prominent sheepman at this place. He has been in partnership with his father for a number of years.

After a wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. White departed in Mr. White's touring car to visit many places of interest in the state.

Upon their return Mr. White will build a house at Roosevelt.

of Miss Virginia Carolyn Ryder and Andrew Giesy Miller. The wedding will be an event of next Wednesday. The announcement of the engagement caused quite a flutter among the friends of both bride and bridegroom, elect. The latter is one of the Miller twins. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Aurora. The charming young bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ryder, of this city. The young couple were students at Washington High School, and it was there that the romance started. Mr. and Mrs. Ryder made known their daughter's betrothal by a formal announcement last Thursday. Mrs. Miller is manager of the Washington High School football team. Both the Miller twins are prominently identified with amateur athletics.

Mrs. Robert Treat Platt has returned after a year's absence in Italy and is being welcomed by her many friends in Portland.

Charming in every detail was the large party given by Miss Elizabeth Hobbs at her home on Larrabee street last Thursday evening. In honor of Mrs. William Kline, a prominent young society leader of Los Angeles. Music, dancing and jolly games formed the evening's entertainment. The guests participated in an enjoyable impromptu program.

Following the music the guests repaired to the dining-room, where a dainty repeat was served. A number of brilliant golden-glow, artistically combined with ferns, centered the beautifully appointed table, and dainty place cards carrying out the color scheme of pink and yellow marked the places. Upon leaving the table each guest was presented with a unique and appropriate souvenir which created much amusement. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a profusion of cut flowers effectively arranged making the rooms a bower of beauty.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Francis Clarno, Professor and Mrs. Lucien Becker, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McNaught, Judge Cameron and Mrs. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. William Kirke, of Los Angeles; Dr. William Elsen, Mrs. June MacMillen Ordway, Mr. and Mrs. MacCormack, Miss Esther Sundquist, John MacKinnon, Mr. Riddiman, Norwegian Consul Andre M. Cederburgh, Mrs. Cederburgh, Frank D'Arcy, Captain Andrew Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hobbs and the Misses Hobbs.

Mrs. William Thrift Pangle and Miss Florence Pangle, her daughter, returned from Seattle, where they were entertained at numerous outings and social affairs. They are now at home at the Nortonia.

Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Young and family were among the Portlanders who motored to Mount Hood for a week-end trip. The Youngs have visited a number of interesting nearby places this summer. They formerly resided in Chicago, where they have large interests, but have become enchanted with the beauty of Oregon scenery and with the delightful climate.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Warner and daughter motored from Seattle and are guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Dobie.

NEWS FROM THE ARMY POST

Brigadier-General George Bell, Jr., and Mrs. Bell arrived Thursday from San Francisco. They will occupy the Commanding General's quarters, where they already have taken quarters. General Bell succeeds General Ramsay D. Potts, retired May 1, and has assumed command of the Seventh Brigade of the Tenth Infantry, accompanied General Bell as aide-de-camp.

When the General arrived he was saluted with 21 guns fired by a detachment from the Twenty-first Infantry. When General Bell was stationed here before he was Inspector General of the Department of the Columbia, which has since gone out of existence through reorganization. He was with the troops at the joint maneuvers held at Gato, Wash., in July, 1912, as an observer, having then just returned from Europe, where he was detailed as an observer of the European armies. Major Adrian S. Fleming, now temporarily absent, is the brigade adjutant. Colonel R. H. Wilson, of Fort Lawton, Wash., who was in command of the brigade since the retirement of General Potts, has been relieved of this duty.

Great interest is manifested by all in the post concerning the European war now in progress. All of the officers have studied the situation for years and all manner of war problems have been worked out. The daily newspapers are eagerly read for the latest news and the Mexican crisis attracts no attention.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of Lieutenant Taylor, in honor of all the post visitors, gave a delightfully informal tea to all the ladies of the post Friday afternoon. Assisting her in serving were Mrs. Joseph C. Castner, Mrs. John F. Morrison, Mrs. Ruthward S. Harts and Mrs. Walter C. Sweeney.

Mrs. Fairfax, wife of Lieutenant Fairfax, gave a reception Friday night at her home in honor of the 51st anniversary of her father, Lieutenant Colonel Otis W. Pollock, who arrived for a visit Wednesday. Colonel Pollock served most of his time in the infantry, so the color scheme of blue and white was carried out consistently throughout the quarters. In the receiving line with Colonel Pollock and Mrs. Fairfax were General George Bell, Jr., and Mrs. Bell, General John H. Page, Sr. (retired), and Mrs. Page, and Colonel George S. Young, post commander. Mrs. John H. Page, Jr., served punch. Mrs. Jere B. Clayton poured coffee and Mrs. Edgar A. Fry served the ice cream.

Mrs. George M. Parker, Mrs. H. L. Taylor, Mrs. W. H. Gill, Miss Van Cise and Miss Kirkpatrick assisted serving the guests in the dining-room. In the center of the dining table was a large white cake, on which had been placed 51 tiny candles and the numerals, "1833-1914." All of the officers and ladies of the post were invited.

Company F, engineers, now on a mapping detail near Gilroy, Cal., are expected to return here the latter part of this month. Captain R. C. Moore is in command.

Captain Walter C. Sweeney has been ordered to Topeka, Kan., to be on duty with the organized militia of the state. Just now he is returning home with his

PORTLAND GIRL IS MARRIED IN YOKOHAMA.

Mrs. George Irving Adams. Cabled news from Yokohama tells of the marriage of Miss Bertha Barin, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Harding Barin, of this city and the late L. T. Barin, to George Irving Adams. The ceremony was performed at the American consulate in Yokohama and after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Adams went to a Summer resort in Japan for their honeymoon.

The bride has been a kindergarten teacher in Manila for some time and met Mr. Adams while in the islands.

Mr. Adams is a mining engineer of large experience in the United States and in the Orient, and is occupying the chair of mineralogy and geology in the University of Tientsin, China, to which place they will go late in August.

company and he may leave about August 15 for his new position. Mrs. Sweeney may remain a month here owing to the more pleasant weather.

Lieutenant Robinson, who recently returned from a year's course at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., has been ordered to return to the staff school and he will leave for Fort Leavenworth in a few days.

Dr. Harry Ebert, son of Colonel Ebert, who had been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Ebert, in Vancouver, left Monday for his station in charge of the quarantine station at Astoria. His younger brother, George Ebert, presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. John C. Fairfax cut the loaves. The prize-guessing contest was won by Mrs. Nevcut, of Chicago, who is visiting Mrs. Cromwell Stacey.

Mrs. Bennett, wife of Captain L. C. Bennett, Tuesday afternoon entertained the ladies of the post for her mother, Mrs. Blessing, who is visiting her. Mrs. Stewart, mother of Lieutenant Stewart, poured tea, Mrs. Walter C. Sweeney presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. John C. Fairfax cut the loaves. The prize-guessing contest was won by Mrs. Nevcut, of Chicago, who is visiting Mrs. Cromwell Stacey.

Mrs. Harts, wife of Lieutenant Harts, with her two children, will leave on the Beaver in Portland Monday, bound for Ocean Park, in Southern California, where she will be joined by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Granger, who has visited in the post here. Mrs. Harts expects to be gone six weeks.

Mrs. Hagood, wife of Lieutenant Hagood, and Mrs. Herbert C. Gibner, at the home of the latter, entertained the ladies of the post at bridge, five hundred and tea Wednesday afternoon. The house was decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. Mrs. Morrison poured coffee, Mrs. Wilson Chase cut the loaves and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Mrs. Harts, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. W. H. Gill assisted in serving. A color scheme of pink was used effectively in the dining-room. At bridge

Never were styles so radical or so chic. Sketched above is the new

"Cossack" Turban

an original creation of black velvet—very smart.

See them in the window

Daily, charming hats selected by our Mr. Kerble while in New York are being unpacked.

$5 to $25

Mrs. Robert L. Weeks and Mrs. Wilson Chase won the prizes and Mrs. Wilkes and Mrs. H. L. Taylor scored highest at five hundred.

Mrs. Morrison, wife of Lieutenant Morrison, entertained all of the ladies in the post at tea Thursday afternoon in honor of the departing ones. Mrs. Castner, Mrs. Elmer W. Clarke and Mrs. Oliver F. Robinson, Mrs. James M. Hobson, Jr., cut the loaves and Mrs. Clayton poured tea. Miss Anne Trotter and Mrs. Wilson Chase assisted. The rooms were decorated beautifully with pink sweet peas, a pink color scheme being carried out.

Major Joseph C. Castner and Mrs. Castner left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend Wat College for a year.

Lieutenant Hagood will leave here soon for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the Army Medical School. Mrs. Hagood will accompany her husband.

Major Adrian S. Fleming, Brigade Adjutant, left Wednesday for Sparta, Wis., for target practice. He will be gone two weeks.

Major Chase and Mrs. Chase Wednesday evening gave an enjoyable dinner (Continued on Page 2.)

A LAST GOODBYE TO WASH DRESSES

Every ladies' and misses' wash dress in the store leaves us tomorrow far below the wholesale cost; these are the prices at which you will own them:

- $4.85 and $6.85 Dresses
- $1.95
- $8.85 and $10.65 Dresses
- $3.35
- $12.85 and $14.85 Dresses
- $5.85

Models both dainty and graceful in midsummer fabrics. Please be on hand early, for the quantity is limited.

BEN SELLING

The Ladies' Smart Clothes Shop Morrison at Fourth

Exclusive High Grade

Caruso Chocolates
$1.00 THE POUND

Bring welcome smiles and joy to sweet lovers. Absolute in purity and flavor. Mail a box anywhere in the world.

Wall's Sweet Shop
291 1/2 Morrison Street.
Phone Marshall 3123.

Removal Sale

For the early Fall. Save 15 per cent on all ladies' tailor-made Suits

SALL & PRESSMAN,
171 Eleventh, So. of Morrison.
Formerly B. Sall, 411 Morrison.