YAKIMA WATER IS SHORT

Supply for Indian Reservation Cut From 900 to 275 Second-Feet.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Recent decline in the natural flow of the Yakima River has resulted under the rules of the Reclamation Service in cutting the irrigation supply of the Yakima Indian reservation to 275 second-feet. Until recently the reservation was using 900 second-feet. A few days ago it was dropped to 400 second-feet, and now is 275.

The present supply is far below the amount needed to irrigate the 36,000 acres under cultivation on the reservation, but only a few of the ranchers have as yet applied for storage water, for which they would be required to pay a charge fixed by the Reclamation Service. Rotation of the available supply is being made in order to enable the ranchers to save their crops so far as possible.

City Ruling Is Asked on Spite Fence.

Little Barrier 18 Feet High Gracing Mr. Dahl's Boundary Is in Conflict With Ordinance.

THE European bitterness is small in comparison with the attitude of Mrs. Hannah E. Scoffin, Michigan and Beech streets, and her next door neighbor, J. Dohl, whom she accused of all manner of villainous acts.

In desperation Mrs. Scoffin appealed to the City Commissioners, and Commissioner Dieck and Building Inspector Plummer selected a "war" map of Multnomah addition and journeyed to the scene of the hostilities late yesterday.

After considerable scouting, the officials finally located Mrs. Scoffin's home behind a board fence 18 feet high, erected by Dohl, Mrs. Scoffin asserts, out of spite.

"I want the City Commissioners to enact an ordinance to forbid these spite fences," declared Mrs. Scoffin. The fence is on the line between our properties and is 18 feet high. It keeps the sunshine out of my home and makes it dark. When Dohl excavated to build his present house, he turned on the water in my basement and flooded it," she complained.

After going through the regular process of red tape at the City Hall, Mrs. Scoffin's written appeal for assistance finally came back to the office of Commissioner Dieck with the information, furnished by Deputy City Attorney Davie, that an ordinance prohibiting fences more than six feet high already existed. Dohl, consequently, must reduce his fence 12 feet to make it conform to the city ordinance.

BOY BABY SCORES HIGH

FORREST GLENN HOGG WINNER IN WOODSTOCK CONTEST.

More Girls Than Boys Are Entered in Competition—Girl Wins Second Place, Scoring 97.

More girls than boys were entered in the Woodstock "better babies" contest held last week, but it was a boy that carried off the honors for having the highest score. Forrest Glenn Hogg, the 11-months-old son of James Hogg, of 4750 Pike avenue, scored 99 per cent.

He and Marion Irene Higley, daughter of B. F. Higley, of 921 East Fortieth street, were the medal-winners. Marion is also 11 months old. Her score was 97 per cent.

The complete list of prize-winners includes, besides these two: Charles Virgil Elwell, Roland Osborne, Fannie Augusta Louise Smith, Fordes Simonson, Arnold Deters, James Marion Shoemaker, William Taylor Hamilton, Chasleen Roberta Purcell, Violet Elizabeth Deaver, Elizabeth M. Hogmer, William Tennyson Smith, Arthur Berthold Smith, James Cauthorn, Icle Inene Ellis, Ruth A. Glenz, Gertrude M. Chandler, Charles William James, Helen Elizabeth McCoy, Hazel LaVelle Wells, Nellie Boordman, Lester Luther, Joe Lamser, Anna Anderson, Francis S. O'Neal.

Several other better babies contests are being planned by Dr. Mary V. Madigan, who has charge of the contests, and will direct the state-wide test that will be held at the State Fair, September 28, 29 and 30. Dr. Madigan is urging all who have charge of county fairs or of commercial clubs in both small and large cities to hold these local tests so that the parents will be able to know how the children score and to enter them in the state event.

SING INDORSED BY MANY

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN APPROVE IDEA.

Community Affair Remedies Fault of Musical Clubs, Says Chairman of Monday Club Committee.

Leading business and professional men and musicians are sending their indorsements of the Community Sing to the Monday Musical Club's committee. The event is set for August 18 at Multnomah Field. It has been planned to encourage the love of music among the general public. Mrs. Chester Deering is chairman of the committee, and is assisted by several prominent club women and musicians.

"I hope the 'Sing' will lead to many others of a similar kind," said Mrs. Russell Dorr, vice-president of the Monday Musical Club. "Two years ago the president of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs said to me: 'I have a quarrel with your musical clubs; they have made the people stop singing. All this talk about voice-placing and proper breathing, etc., is making us afraid to open our mouths.'

"When I read of the immense crowd of 10,000 persons that assembled and took part in a 'Community Sing' at Tacoma last Spring, I said to myself, 'There is the answer.'"

Carl V. Lachmund, an interested patron of the "Community Sing," says:

"The singing of folk songs, if only by ear, would bring tenfold results toward developing the child's sentiment, love for melody and a future appreciation of the highest and best in musical art.

"I have always deplored that we Americans do so little toward fostering or promoting the beautiful folk songs. If it is true that the Germans are the most musical nation, it is no doubt due to their love of folk songs."

ARTISANS AID CHILDREN

Special Train Bears Youth to Tillamook on Outing Bent.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—A special train bringing about 200 United Artisans, their families and friends, with 75 poor children taken for an outing from Portland, arrived today. The train was met by citizens in automobiles who took the visitors to a lunch-basket picnic supper in Stillwell's grove.

In the evening a dance and reception was held in their honor in the rooms of the Commercial Club. Tillamook people are especially interested in giving the children such an outing as will make this one bright spot that they can remember with happiness all their lives. To this end, churches, lodges and other organizations have united to provide entertainment.

Tomorrow morning the visitors will be guests at a big free clam bake at Barview, given by citizens of that place.

The general reception committee of Tillamook citizens is composed of Mayor F. R. Beals, chairman; Grant Mills, E. T. Haltom, Webster Holmes, H. T. Botts, A. K. Case, M. Ackley, L. Hiner, Burr Beals, Jr., W. G. Tait, Erwin Harrison, W. J. Stephens, J. C. Holden, H. Crenshaw, C. I. Clough, Carl Haberlach, J. H. Dunstan and Charles Kunze.

Grain Yield Reported Excellent.

JOHNSON, Wash., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Threshing is in full blast in the country surrounding Johnson, and the yield so far as reported is excellent. Some fields are badly damaged with smut, but the excellent crop of Spring grains is clear of it. A large number of threshing machines have blown up in Whitman County, and there is a strong suspicion that a gang of men is putting matches and explosives in the wheat shocks. There are not enough machines left to finish threshing the crop, and the situation is serious.

Mr. Sullivan Denies Interview.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 6.—(To the Editor.)—The following appears in your issue of today on page 12: "The Oregon division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will take up the matter of lending aid to England at the next meeting, according to P. E. Sullivan, state secretary of the organization.

"England must win," he said, "and Ireland will give her its full support. All factions will unite and battle for the mother country. Don't forget that General Bob Roberts and Lord Kitchener are Irish."

May I be permitted to say that I have no authority to speak for the Ancient Order of Hibernians in a matter of this kind? Your representative must have entirely misunderstood me. I made use of none of the language he has attributed to me and I did not discuss with him any of the matters he represents me as talking about. I may add that I am an American citizen and as such am not taking an active part in the unhappy conflict now raging in Europe. Respectfully yours, P. E. SULLIVAN.

An Oregonian reporter had a telephone conversation with a person representing himself to be Mr. P. E. Sullivan, state secretary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, who made the statements quoted in the interview.

Macey DESK FILE

It is a personal desk system. Keeps the details of your work always at your finger tips. It automatically reminds you of your appointments and engagements, it calls attention to collections due, prospective orders that need attention; it's a sort of mechanical memory—an automatic collector, salesman and correspondent. It's the prod for the forgetter—the office alarm clock—the safety valve of the over burdened pigeon hole. Ask us about it.
