MODERN DANCES LARGE FEATURE AT OAKS PARK

La Serrinta, Young Argentinian, Will Present Long List of Late Steps. Swimming, Picnics and Music Attract Many.

CLAIBORNE AND TROMBLEY.

All the modern and even the ultra-modern dances will be at the Oaks next week. They will be presented on the stage by La Serrinta, a young Argentinian, assisted by Huntington Freeman.

Not only will La Serrinta dance both the formal and stage varieties of several tangoes, maxixes and gavottes, but she will offer in her repertoire a number of Egyptian and Oriental tepsichorean novelties.

La Serrinta will appear on the stage every afternoon and evening as part of the new bill this week at the Oaks. Despite the fact that the season is coming to a close, the Oaks continues to offer unusually good bills, while other attractions, particularly swimming, lure the public. The warm temperature of the river at the Oaks is due to the dry season.

McElroy and his band will give concerts at the park today, while the week-day musical offering will be by the American Orchestra.

A novel and funny number is promised by Claiborne and Trombley, the Hebrew messenger and the soubrette. Mr. Claiborne is declared to be a late edition of Howard and Howard. Both members of the team come with excellent promises and recommendations.

A number of picnic gatherings are scheduled for this week at the Oaks, several reunions of beach parties being among the number.

In addition to musical concerts and vaudeville, motion pictures are also on the bill every afternoon and evening this week.

MRS. MARSH INDICTED

SECOND DEGREE CHARGED IN LINDSTROM KILLING.

"I Loved Him, but He Treated Me Cruelly and I Often Thought I Would Kill Him," Says Woman.

Holding that there was no premeditation on the part of Mrs. Della Marsh, who admits shooting and killing Bernard C. Lindstrom on August 7, the grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against Mrs. Marsh on a charge of murder in the second degree.

Lindstrom, who was manager of the Oregon Artificial Limb Company, was accused by Mrs. Marsh of having been the cause of her divorcing her former husband, the alleging that he promised to marry her.

"I loved him, but he treated me cruelly," Mrs. Marsh said to Deputy District Attorney Ryan, Diech and Hammerley, when arrested, "and lots of times I thought I would kill him."

Despite this alleged statement and the fact that Mrs. Marsh had borrowed the revolver with which the shooting was done just before the crime, the grand jury held, by its action yesterday, that there was no premeditation of the murder. Mrs. Marsh called upon Lindstrom at the latter's office early in the evening on August 7. Later she went to Lindstrom's room in the Palace Hotel.

"We quarreled there," Mrs. Marsh explained. "When he thrust me from the room I drew the gun and shot him as he stood in the hall. I don't know how many shots I fired."

Since her arrest, Mrs. Marsh has remained in the county jail until yesterday, refusing to see any one with the exception of her attorneys and her foster-mother, Mrs. Alma McMahon.

PHOTO SUPPLIES RISE

ADVANCE IN PRICES FROM 50 TO 500 PER CENT.

Shortage Prevails in Many Classes and Supply in Some May Be Exhausted Soon.

Nearly all articles used by photographers and photo-engravers have been advanced sharply in price. Most of these articles come from Germany and the supply of some kinds is likely to be exhausted in a short time.

Matthew Woll, president of the International Photo-Engravers' Union, has issued a warning to the members of the union advising them to be careful in the use of all chemicals and supplies. Sixty-five per cent of all the chemicals used in this line are imported, and the prices have advanced as readily from 50 to 500 per cent. Practically everything in the way of imported chemicals has been marked up and dealers are daily canceling quotations.

If the war continues long many of the small plants will have to close this year and photo-engraving recently.

Among the articles that have risen in price is menthol, which formerly sold at $3.50 a pound and is now worth $11.50. Potassium Bromide, although made in the United States, has increased in cost more than 100 per cent. Iodide of cadmium and such salts, which are brought from Germany, have advanced 40 per cent and iodine is 75 per cent higher. Cyanide prices have not yet been raised, but the consumers look for a change any day. The regular price of iodine of potassium is $2.25 a pound. At the opening of the war it advanced to $4.50, but as the country is well supplied with the German article, the price later declined to $3.75.

The bases of all photo developers come from Germany and these are steadily going up in price. Photographic plates have advanced 15 per cent. These are made in France and only a small supply is known to be in New York.
