ter, Miss Isabelle, left for an Eastern trip yesterday. After a visit of 10 days in Chicago and Detroit they will go to Millbrook, N. Y., where Miss Clark will enter school. En route to Portland Mr. and Mrs. Clark will pass some time visiting in New York, Washington, D. C., and other Eastern cities.

Miss Sara McCully will entertain on Tuesday for a party of girls who will leave the latter part of this month for schools in the East and South.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and children have closed their summer home at Gearhart and returned to Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Murphy and Mrs. James A. Dougherty also returned to Portland early in the week, after summering in their handsome new beach residence.

Miss Minnie Fleischer and her fiancé, William Ehrman, have claimed a large share of the social attention of the week. Two attractive luncheons had Miss Fleischer for honor guest, one being presided over by Miss Ruth Rosenfeld on Monday, when covers were laid for 12.

Wednesday evening Miss Gladys Lang was hostess for a jolly dinner-dance at the Claremont Country Club, her guests numbering about 30 of the younger contingent. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Metzger acted as chaperons.

On Wednesday Miss Emily Ehrman presided at a luncheon complimenting the bride-elect, when covers were laid for Miss Fleischer, Miss Gladys Lang, Miss Ruth Rosenfeld, Mrs. Henry Metzger, Miss Feidenheimer, Miss Stella Wolfe, Miss Amy Neuberg, of Cologne, Germany, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sigmund Frank, Miss Mary Citron, Miss Helen Simon, Mrs. Edward Ehrman and the hostess. The table appointments were particularly pretty, low bowls of scarlet carnations forming the chief decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Blumauer presided at one of the most attractive dinner tables at the Hotel Multnomah last night in honor of Miss Fleischer and Mr. Ehrman. Their guests were the families of the bride-elect and her fiancé and Mrs. Hazel B. Litt.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischer will give a smart dance this evening in honor of the much-entertained couple, Miss Fleischer and Mr. Ehrman, and they will share honors with Miss Fanchon Davis, of San Francisco, a cousin of the bride-elect, and Miss Linda Bachman, a cousin of Mr. Ehrman's, who also came up from San Francisco to be present at the nuptials. Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischer were hosts for a charming dinner party Thursday evening, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ehrman of San Francisco, parents of the bridegroom-to-be. The table was exquisitely appointed, and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ehrman, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Fleischer, Miss Fleischer and her fiancé, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Metzger, Miss Helen Simon, Joseph Ehrman, Jr., also of San Francisco, and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Richard Hoge entertained at one of the prettiest luncheons of the week on Thursday at her home, honoring her house guest, Mrs. Frederick H. Mason, of Spokane. Additional covers were laid for Mrs. W. P. Kent, of Chicago, Mrs. Herbert H. Calvin, of San Francisco, Mrs. John F. Forbis and her attractive daughter, Miss Marjorie Forbis.

Coming as a complete surprise is the news of the marriage of Miss Ella Elizabeth Wilks, of this city, to George C. Reed, which was solemnized Friday evening. Rev. Frank Findlay officiating. There were no attendants, and only the immediate family were present. Mr. Reed and his bride have been engaged for some time, but the wedding day had not been chosen. He is a brother of Medford Reed, whose wedding to Miss Rosalind Kingsley will be a brilliant event of Wednesday evening. Mr. Reed is the son of James Sykes Reed, a brother of Mrs. Harney Lounsbury, and is a graduate of O. A. C., and is very well known in this city. He is an agricultural engineer, and is at present in charge of the E. L. Thompson farm, known as Cloverhill Farms, at Deer Island, where he and his bride will make their home after a short wedding trip.

Another delightful affair at the Waverly Country Club was the dinner and dance for which Miss Sarah Hart was hostess last night, in honor of Miss Lora Cumming and her fiancé, Paul E. Woll of Philadelphia, Pa., and the bride's attendants, the Misses Shanna and Harriet Cumming, Miss Louise Burns, Miss Katherine Holbrook, Miss Margaret Hewitt, Miss Clementine Lambert. The dinner was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perrell, also of Philadelphia, the latter being a sister of the bride-elect.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edward Hart have asked a few friends informally to tea to compliment Mr.

and Mrs. William D. Wheelwright. The guests will be the intimate friends of the newlyweds.

Miss Hazel Dolph, who is passing a month at Seaview, Wash., with her mother, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, and brothers, was in town for a few days last week and visited Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Dolph.

Holt W. Cookingham left Thursday evening to resume his studies at Harvard College. He was accompanied by Dwight Fullerton, who is also going to take up his school work in the East.

Mrs. Frank Gilchrist Owen, who recently moved to Medford, Or., will arrive in Portland tomorrow and will be at the Hotel Benson for a few days. She plans to attend several social functions this week in Portland.

Marion Jackson, who has been visiting the Owens during the summer, returned to Portland last week.

Kurt Koehler gave his bachelor dinner last night at the Arlington Club, and it was a very festive affair. His guests included his best man, Irving Webster, the ushers, Frederick A. Forster, Jordan Zan, Edward W. Ortman, Harold S. Wells, and a few additional close friends.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery presided at a charming luncheon Friday at the University Club complimenting Mr. and Mrs. William D. Wheelwright. Covers were laid for the honor guests, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Burdell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot, Colonel and Mrs. Henry C. Cabell, and the hostess.

A distinguished visitor in Portland during the week was Mrs. Alice B. Chittenden, of San Francisco, who visited with Mrs. James G. Daud for a few days prior to leaving for New York, where she will establish a studio. Mrs. Chittenden is a very clever artist, specializing in portrait painting. During her visit here she was delightfully entertained by several prominent matrons.

Miss Hazel Reed also complimented Miss Rosalind Kingsley, who is one of the most entertained of the Fall bride-elects, with a pretty tea on Tuesday at her home. The occasion was elaborately decked with a profusion of brilliant-hued blossoms, and the daintily appointed tea table was graced by Mrs. Sanderson Reed and Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton Stowers. They were assisted by Mrs. Harvey Lounsbury, sister of the hostess, Miss Charlotte Laidlaw and Miss Alice Gadsby.

Mrs. Jay J. Morrow and her pretty little niece, Lucretia, left Thursday night for a month's visit in Texas.

Mrs. John Klosterman and daughter, Miss Kemna Klosterman, have taken up their residence for the winter at the Hotel Mallory. The Klostermans had planned an extended European trip, but were unable to carry out their plans, due to the war. Miss Klosterman will pass part of the winter in charge of the E. L. Thompson farm, known as Cloverhill Farms, at Deer Island, where he and his bride will make their home after a short wedding trip.

Miss Anna Liebenthal, an attractive San Francisco belle, is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford P. Lowengart for several weeks. Miss Liebenthal will be the honor guest at a large dance that the Lowengarts are planning to give on Wednesday evening at the Tuatlati Country Club.

The first dancing party of the season of the Irvington Club will be held Friday evening, September 18, and thereafter the first and third Friday of each month. The first party will be formal, with the grand march beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The committee and patronesses will be named later. The card parties will be held the second and fourth Fridays of each month, beginning with September 25. Whenever there is a fifth Friday in the month it will be a children's dancing party.

F. S. Fields, chairman of the card committee, desires a large attendance the first night, September 25, because at that time the permanent season arrangements will be made. Those who expect to attend the card party on September 25 will kindly telephone or write Mr. Fields, 681 Telephone street.

The patronesses for the affair are: Mrs. Andrew Porter, Mrs. W. P. Jones, Mrs. Emory Olmstead, Mrs. S. L. Eddy, Mrs. Chester Deering, Mrs. W. F. Woodward. The floor committee consists of Walter Holman, E. J. Tenner, R. L. Aldrich, H. R. Hayek and J. H. Beckley.

The French lecture to be given by Dr. Y. B. De Lory in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday, September 15, will be "Modern Military Painters in France." Another lecture will be delivered in the same place Friday. The subject then will be "Descartes." Both lectures are in French and will begin at 11 A. M. The lectures are intended for those who are studying French.

As a pretty farewell compliment to Mrs. Raymond McCarthy (Irene Flynn), of Pueblo, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. William F. Greer entertained at supper and a musicale Sunday. Covers were laid for 10 at a prettily appointed table. American Beauty roses forming the main decoration. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. McCarthy, the host and hostess, and piano numbers by Miss Mamie Helen Flynn made the evening a most enjoyable one.

Dr. David Trainer Kerr, who had been visiting relatives in the East for the past three months, returned to Portland last week. He was a delegate from this city to the National dental convention held in Rochester, N. Y.

NEWS FROM THE ARMY POST

During the week practically all the officers and ladies of the post, and also the soldiers, attended the Columbia River Interstate Fair in Vancouver. They were particularly interested in the Wild West events, and the 90th anniversary celebration in honor of the founding of Fort Vancouver. Captain Armistead, with Company K, Twenty-first Infantry, camped at the grounds Thursday and Friday and gave the Butts manual drill to the music of the Twenty-first Infantry band, and took part in the night show depicting scenes of '48, when a homesteader's cabin was attacked.

Lieutenant-Colonel John F. Morrison, of the Twenty-first Infantry, is to be promoted to a full Colonel within a few days. It is expected that he will be assigned to command the Sixth Infantry. He is being congratulated upon his promotion. Colonel Morrison is a recognized authority in military tactics. He has studied much in foreign countries.

Colonel Lassiter, the extra Colonel assigned for duty to the Twenty-first Infantry several weeks ago, has been

PORTLAND GIRL MARRIED AT HOLY ROSARY CHURCH.

Mrs. Philip T. Meaney.

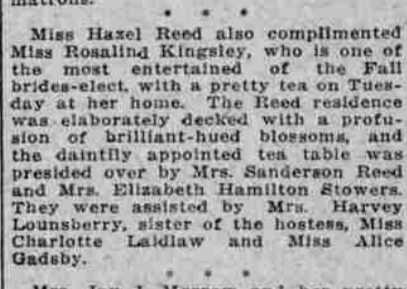

A simple, but pretty, wedding of the week was that of Miss Mary Elizabeth Sharkey and Dr. Philip T. Meaney. The ceremony was solemnized Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Holy Rosary church, Rev. Father O'Brien officiating.

The altars were prettily decorated with chrysanthemums and palms. Miss Antonia Nappach played the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Edward J. Sharkey. She wore a handsome gown of ivory charmeuse with a tunic of princess lace. She carried an artistic shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Irene Sweeney, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Peter J. Meaney, of The Palms, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sharkey.

Mrs. Philip T. Meaney

granted a month's leave of absence and left Monday for San Francisco.

In commemoration of the writing or composing of the National emblem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," by Francis Scott Key, a National salute of 21 guns was fired Saturday noon. All of the officers and soldiers of the post were at "attention" and the band sounded off and played with unusual effect the famous song which was just then a century old. It will be recalled that Mr. Key was detained on a British ship at the bombardment of Fort Mifflin. Mrs. George S. Young, wife of Colonel Young, post commander, herself, daughter of the American Revolution, called the attention of the Women's Relief Corps and other patriotic organizations in Vancouver to the fact that the salute would be fired.

Miss Polly Young returned from Portland, where she had been visiting in the younger set.

Major Jere B. Clayton, of the Medical Corps, has been ordered for Fort Sam Houston, at San Antonio, Tex., and will go there about October 1, accompanied by Mrs. Clayton. Major and Mrs. Clayton have lived in the post for four and one-half years and have made many close friends in Vancouver and Portland, all of whom will regret to learn of their departure.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beeson, 324 East Twelfth street North, were happily surprised Saturday evening by about 20 of their relatives and friends in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Among those present were Mrs. L. C. McCabe, who was present at the wedding in Delavan, Ill.; Mrs. M. M. Ryneason, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beeson and son, Ray; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Beeson and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Christopherson and son and daughter, Mrs. Mary Fiske, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Keeney, Dr. L. C. McCabe, Harry McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meeker, Karl Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Vellage and A. T. Elliott.

A dozen beautiful silver pie forks were presented. The evening was enjoyably spent. Cards were played, refreshments served and music was furnished by Miss Gladys Beeson.

Miss Edith Dye entertained a number of young people at her home, 1837 1/2 Belmont street, Saturday evening in honor of the return of Jack Wallace, Jr., and Miles McFarland from Seaside. The young people danced
