GERMANY FALLS IN TORRENTS

British Bear Brunt of Foe's Counter Attacks, Acquiring Themselves Brilliantly.

PARIS, Sept. 19—The last official communication from the German front is that in a serious encounter near Crevants, the Allies have captured several prisoners and a standard.

The prisoners are reported to have put up no great resistance, neutralizing their violent assault attacks. The situation is described as unchanged.

The statement follows:

"On our left wing we have captured a flag; a staff of German."

British Bows to Allied Day.

"We have a number of people on the plateau of Creuse, and we have made several junctions, bringing together the Twelfth and Fifteenth corps and the French.

The Germans, neutralizing attacks which were of extreme violence, were able to gain some ground around Rhusin, which they have held throughout the day.

On our right we have made progress on the western side of the Argonne. There is nothing new on the right wing.

"The general situation remains favorable."

Resistance Report Urgent.

A dispatch from Bouchain says:

"The allies' left wing is slowly working in as a result of the battle of the Aisne, and will probably be in a position of advantage.

The French, British, and German forces are all being massed in the area."

Downing, Sept. 19—Accounts from French, British and German sources of the battle of the Aisne, now in progress, agree in the particular that
