

WAR'S CONTRASTS IN FIELD STRING

British Official Bureau Publishes Letters Written by German Prisoners.

MEN FEAR POISON FOOD

Regiments Declared Fearfully Reduced, Without Food and Enduring Rigorous Weather. Many Officers Slain.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The official information bureau issued today an account of some of the incidents of the fighting in France, to which it appends certain letters taken from German prisoners. This recital bears no date. It says:

"In the presentation of striking contrasts this war is no exception to the rule. Within sight of the spot where these words are being written the chauffeur of a motorcar attached to the general staff is making his toilet in the open. After washing his face and hands in a saucepan, minus its handle, he carefully brushes his hair with an old nail brush, using the window of the car in which he has slept as a looking glass. From the back of the ward sweep he gives his snowed-out long locks it is clear that he had once been a dandy."

Company Has No Officers Left.

A letter from a German prisoner tells how the enemy interrupted their needed rest and how, when the Germans attempted to advance on September 16, the enemy, firing from bushes and from houses, swept their trenches. This letter continues:

"On my right and left wounded comrades were being carried off. The enemy was shooting from houses. They found too easy a mark in us. If we assumed an upright position we were immediately fired on. After an hour, during which time our company lost about 25 men, we were forced to retire. This brought our total strength down to 80. We started with 251 men. We had no officers left."

On the 18th, at 4:30 o'clock in the morning, we reached a village, where we thought we would be able to rest.

Before half an hour had passed, however, the shrapnel had again found us out.

Village Constantly Under Fire.

"We spent the afternoon in this village, which was constantly under shell fire in spite of the fact that our guns were shelling the enemy's works. We heard our Colonel say our guns could not get at those of the enemy satisfactorily because the latter were so well concealed."

"Our condition is now really awful, for we have to sleep out in all weather. We were all looking forward to a speedy end. We are badly off as regards food. Some of our regiments can muster only from three to four companies."

Another letter written in the course of the retreat in front of the French from Mont Miral says:

"After a 'Mou' which we had a rest and arrived just in time for the fight. For three days we did not have a hot meal because our work was so hard. We got a hot meal last night. Although we are all just ready to drop, we must march on."

Polison in Food Feared.

"We found great quantities of food, but, fearing poison, we did not take possession of it until we had got hold of the proprietor of the house and compelled him to taste it first. We are near Rheims, after having gone through hard, bloody and most horrible days. Of our regiment of 3000 men there are now only 100 left."

"Let us hope that this battle, which ought to be one of the greatest of history, will leave me safe and well and give us peace. I am absolutely done, but we must not despair."

BRITON HAS NO ILLUSION

MILITARY EXPERT SAYS GERMAN RESOURCES "GROW ATOP."

Enemy is Still United and Fleet Will Strike When Hour Comes, Probably in Co-operation With Army.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The military expert of the Times today says:

"However much we may bend back the German right wing and relieve Antwerp, whatever confidence we have that the shock of the Russian masses in the East will prove decisive, we must not entertain the slightest illusion regarding the hard and trying condition which awaits all the allies in the future in operating against the German reduced to the defensive."

"Germany is still united. Her resources grow apace. Her might is in arms, all her arsenals are working at full pressure. Her fleet will strike when the hour comes, probably in co-operation with the army."

"The line of the Aisne, when forced, may prove to be only one of many similar lines prepared in the rear of it. It may take a long time for the allies to compel Germany to feel a weakness. It therefore devolves on the allies to look forward to a long war."

WHITE BREAD IS LUXURY

SCARCITY OF WHEAT FLOUR CONFRONTS HOLLAND.

Precautions to Prevent Shipments of Food From Reaching Beliegers Widespread and Thorough.

THE HAGUE, via London, Oct. 3.—Elaborate preparations have been made by The Netherlands government to see that shipments of foodstuffs brought into Holland shall not pass into the hands of the nations now at war.

There is now a complete belt of districts under martial law. Along the borders and coast in these districts all outgoing freight is examined by military authorities. In addition to the customs officials, the thoroughness of the embargo is shown in the arrest recently of many country people living along the German border, who exported small quantities of grain on wagons to that country.

Owing to the general scarcity of wheat flour in Holland, white bread is becoming a luxury. At Dordrecht, a town ten miles southeast of Rotterdam, the bakers have announced that, beginning Monday, they will produce nothing but rye bread.

A dispatch received here from Copenhagen says that on representation of farmers the Danish government has prohibited the exportation of all young horses.

Marooned Crew to Be Rescued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Through agents for the British tanker Elisnore, sunk by the German cruiser Leipzig while under charter of the Union Oil Company, it was learned today that C. T. Bowering & Co., the owners, shortly would dispatch a vessel from Guayaquil, Ecuador, to the rescue of the marooned crew, who were set ashore on the isolated Galapagos Islands, 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador.

Consul Is Last to Leave Rheims.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—William Bardel, American Consul at Rheims, accompanied by his wife, leaving the city left Rheims today for Troyes. There are no more Americans in Rheims, nor any other reason why he should stay; consequently he is seeking safety elsewhere.

DE WET HOOTED DOWN

ATTACK ON SOUTH AFRICA'S STAND CAUSES RIOT.

General Botha's Sympathizers Cast Eggs at Anti-Government Forces and Fight Breaks Up Meeting.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Potchefstroom, the Transvaal, South Africa, says that an attempt by General Christian de Wet to address a meeting of protest against the government's action in regard to the war resulted in the breaking up of the meeting after a demonstration which approached proportions of a riot.

Admission to the hall had been restricted to ticket-holders, but a crowd of sympathizers with General Louis Botha, who had taken command of the British operations against the Germans in Southwest Africa, gathered outside and, battering down the barricaded entrance, the anti-government forces with eggs and bricks. A free fight followed, in which the lights in the place were extinguished. Then the crowd from the hall moved into the open, where General de Wet again attempted to speak. Once more he was interrupted by singing, shouting and cheers for General Botha. Later the supporters of General Botha paraded the streets and ended the demonstration by adopting a vote of confidence in the South African Premier.

MISS MORGAN ALLIES' AID

RICH NEW YORKER GIVES HORSE TO FRENCH ARMY.

Daughter of Late Financier Arrives Home Telling of Popularity of War in France.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The French liner France, with only 378 passengers in all of the three classes, docked today. No more sailings have been booked for the France, and most of her crew expect to join the French army on their return to Havre.

Miss Anne T. Morgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, who was marooned in the Hait-Savoie at the beginning of the war, returned on the France, as did Miss Elsie de Wolfe and Miss Elizabeth Bonaparte. Miss Morgan's horses, including a valuable saddle horse, were commandeered by the French army.

Speaking of the war Miss Morgan said:

"Everyone has a heartick feeling about it and a longing desire to do something. It is a popular war in France. The spirit of the French men, women and children is wonderful. Their inspiration is beyond words to describe. Why? We saw children 7 and 8 years old carrying in hay and grain from the fields."

"I freely gave my saddle horse for use in the army."

A HAPPY BALD HEADED MAN

Well-Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has New Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A Western politician, well known on account of his baldness and ready wit, surprised his friends by appearing with a new growth of hair. Many of his old friends did not know him and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the remarkable growth of my hair to the use of the following simple recipe, which any lady or gentleman can mix at home: To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scaly humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."
