VENETIANS' REVENGE BITTER FOR BEAVERS

Hogan's Cohorts Retaliate for Four Straight Defeats and Take Two Games.

HENLEY AND HITT CAUSES In First Contest Which Portland Loses, 6 to 0, Only 3 Hits Allowed and Higginbotham Is Driven From Box—Error Costs Run.

Pacific Coast League Standings. W. L. Pct. Portland... 25 17 .594

At Venice—Venice 6-2, Portland 0-1. At San Francisco—Missions 3, San Francisco 1.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Venice defeated today for four straight defeats at the hands of Portland and won two games from the Beavers, 6 to 0 and 2 to 1. Henley and Hitt, the Venetian pitchers, were largely responsible for the outcome.

In the first contest Henley only allowed three hits, while his teammates lined out three triples. Higginbotham was driven from the box.

Hitt allowed only one safety in the second game, Portland's lone tally resulting from an error and a wild pitch.

Hitt subjugated Elmer Rieger. A single by Ryan in the third, with an error and a bad decision by Hayes, gave Portland their only run.

Hitt advanced on Ryan's ninth, when Kane, Carlisle and Wilhoit slammed out the two runs needed.

Bancroft started in the fourth to center in the first game and was held at third while Borton was beating out an infield single to Bancroft, who made a brilliant stop.

Johnny Kane batted for Elliott in the eighth. He hit to center, Melan, batting for Hitt, fanned, Yantz making a bad throw off Kane at first, which put Johnny on second.

Rieger's third strike was a wild pitch that scored Bancroft. Yantz also tried to score on this wild strike, but Elliott had the ball there waiting for him.

Carlisle's third strike was a wild pitch that scored Carlisle in with the deciding tally. Bayless grounded to Rieger. Scores:

BRAVES OWE GAME TO DELAYED THROW

Failure of Barry to Shoot Ball to Third Responsible for Lone Tally.

MARANVILLE ENDS CONTEST

Lightning Double Play Eliminates Athletics' Last Chance to Score. Teams Work Like Machines Until Last Inning.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—There were many preliminary conferences between the umpires and the team captains, as the crowd waited for the world's series game to start, and umpire Hildebrand called "Play ball" at precisely 3 o'clock.

The veteran Eddie Plank, said to be the oldest man on either team, received hearty encouragement as he walked to the pitcher's box.

Mann, who heads the Boston batting order when the opposing pitcher is a left-hander, let the first ball go by, as it was wide. Plank then grooved one for a strike and then the batter shot a hot grounder to center, who backed up to get the ball and make a rifle-shot throw to McInnis to get the runner.

Evers Draws First Real Cheer. Evers brought the first real cheer from the Boston rooters when he leapt down a single to the infield. Plank got a base on balls late to throw to first. Three straight strikes sent Cather back to the bench, but Whitted got a free trip to first on four bad balls.

The Bostonians saw visions of a run, but Schmidt spoiled the dream by sending up a fly to Strunk, retiring the side.

Eddie Murphy was the first of the Athletics to face James. He did not like the balls James was pitching and eventually was rewarded with a pass. Murphy took a long lead to go down to second on a sacrifice. James tried to keep him close to the bag and in throwing to first hurled the ball too wide for Schmidt to get it and the ball rolled toward the grandstand. Murphy sprinted toward second, but a fine throw by Schmidt to Maranville finished the speedy runner at second.

"Boston's got the breaks," shouted an Athletic roter.

Oldring was an easy out. Deal to Schmidt, and Eddie Collins, after waiting for the ball, went out by the same route.

Catcher Gowdy, who popularized himself yesterday by his hard hitting, got a base on balls at the opening of the second inning and went down to second on Maranville's sacrifice, the latter going out. Baker to McInnis. Deal hit a little foul fly to center, but Gowdy was trapped between second and third. Plank threw to Baker and the black man charged back almost to second before he reached the ball.

Collins, who got the runner. Deal played away off first and sprinted for second when Schang hurled the ball to McInnis to catch him. He reached the middle station safely.

Attempt to Nip Deal Falls. Schang, who was throwing to bases with reckless confidence, also tried to nip Deal off second, but his throw was too high for Barry to get him as he slid back to the bag.

James ended the inning by striking out. The second inning of the White Elephants was quickly over. Baker sent a high foul fly to Schmidt, just as he did yesterday on his first at-bat. Innis and Strunk were fooled by James and struck out. The big Boston pitcher received a hand as he came off the field.

The Braves in the third inning got a man on base. After Barry threw out Mann by a fast throw of the ball, a bounder, Evers smashed a single to center field. Schang made Evers hug the bag and once nearly nipped him.

Evers Caught Trying to Steal. Cather, who got a fly which Baker gathered in. Then came a battle of wits between the Athletic battery and the clever Boston runner. Evers gave Plank a high jump when he pitched two wide ones to Whitted in the expectation that the runner would attempt to steal. Evers evidently did not think Plank would waste another ball and started to steal. The pitch was a wide one and Schang made a great throw to Collins, who tapped Evers out three yards from the base.

The bottom of the Philadelphia batting order came up in the third. It was a procession. Barry lifted a fly to Cather and the same holder sprang near the left-field foul line to get Schang's long drive. Plank closed the inning by striking out on three pitches.

Braves Get Two on in Fourth. The National League champion got two men on in the fourth inning. Get two men on in the fourth inning. Get two men on in the fourth inning.

James Strikes Out. James struck up for the second time in the fifth. Mann raised a cheer by singling over the keynote sack. Evers sent a high fly to Strunk. Mann, evidently thinking that his captain had hit safely, kept on to second and was able to get back to first by the narrowest margin. He was out a minute later on a force hit by Cather, Barry to Collins.

"Homerun" Baker tried to hit the ball out of the park in the Mackmen's half of the fifth. He caught one of James' swift balls with a resounding smack, but the ball lofted too high and lingered waiting for it to come down in center field. With this dangerous man out of the way again, James mixed up his offering and retired both McInnis and Strunk on strikes. It was the second time in the game that each had fanned.
