Land Show Gives Promise of Full Exhibit of Products Raised in Oregon.

CITY MAN DUE FOR JOLT

Possibilities and Accomplishments of Valley to Be Laid Before His Eyes—Veterans of Two Wars to Take Part.

That the agricultural and horticultural display at the coming Manufacturers' and Land Products Show will be the greatest exhibit of its kind ever assembled in the Northwest is the belief of O. E. Freytag, superintendent of exhibits.

"The response to our request for soil products has been wonderful," said Superintendent Freytag yesterday. "We have a display of soil products which will be the most complete since the Lewis & Clark Fair. I believe it will be better in many respects, since the work of installing exhibits is becoming more of a science each year.

"From the report on the exhibits to be shipped here, and in looking over displays now stored for the land show, I find we will have an excellent showing of grains and grasses. Processed fruits will be shown and jellies, jams, canned berries and fruits from homes in Oregon will prove an attractive display.

"Fresh fruits and vegetables will be given much space at the exposition and the space given each category of community will be of a size sufficient to permit the exhibitors to make an attractive display. Taken altogether, the exposition will be a liberal education on what Oregon really produces. The exhibits will not be picked, but will constitute a truthful representation of the agricultural greatness of Oregon."

As the date for the opening of the land show approaches many organizations in Portland are making final arrangements for their part in the exposition programmes. The Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish War Veterans and members of the Women's Relief Corps will join in the celebration of Veterans day, November 6. The afternoon is to be given over to the Relief Corps, when the programme will be in charge of Mrs. E. A. Sperry, chaplain of the order.

Organizations' Plans Programmes. The Spanish War Veterans and the Grand Army of the Republic will have a joint programme in the evening, when Captain James P. Shaw, of the Civil War veterans and Captain C. R. Hotchkiss, commander of Scout Young Camp, No. 2, Spanish War Veterans, will be in charge.

Veterans' night at the show will commence with a parade through the downtown streets. The parade will be led by the veterans of both wars and will meet at the Courthouse and march to the Armory, headed by the Land Show band and the drum corps. The programme at the Land Show will open with addresses and close with several scenes worked out in the form of sketches by a recruiting station of the Civil War period, a drill by an awkward squad and other scenes familiar to the veterans will be shown.

Both building at the Land Show will start this week. The temporary exhibition buildings on Couch and Eleventh streets have been completed and are ready to receive exhibits. One of these buildings has a theater seating 500.

Movie Theater Built. This will be used for lectures, motion picture programmes and the various entertainment features. The ballroom, on the second floor of the Armory, will be used for the art exhibits and the booths of various societies to have a part in the exposition. The programme for the exposition is so large that there will be free theater afternoon and evening, besides the band concerts. Campbell's band will play the first week and McElroy's band and the drum corps will play the second week. Out-of-town bands will come as escorts for delegations of business men coming in a body to the exposition. Support from fraternal organizations will be seen at the show, as will special entertainers from many social and fraternal organizations in the city.

HOTEL CLERKS FIX RULES

Portland Association Members to Resign if Service Disloyal.

Whenever a Portland hotel clerk feels that he is not giving his employer the most loyal service, he will automatically "fire" himself, provided he is a member of the Oregon State Hotel Clerks' Association, and was present at a recent meeting at which it was resolved that whenever a member finds that he cannot give enthusiastic and loyal support to his employer, he resign his position.

Another resolution adopted by the association at the same meeting provides that the members will support the made-in-Oregon movement by buying Oregon products whenever possible. A committee is making arrangements for an association dinner, the proceeds of which will be used to pay the expenses of two delegates to the annual convention at Philadelphia next summer. The smoker will be held in December. The members of the committee are: F. W. Beach, Ross Finnegan, A. L. Lundborg, A. M. Sedg and M. J. Slatky.

ART CLASSES AT WORK

INTERESTING EXHIBITIONS ARE SCHEDULED AT MUSEUM.

Collection of Photographs by Imogen Cunningham to Claim Attention of Enthusiasts This Week.

With the opening of the Fall season, activities in the Art Museum are well under way. The classes are taking up watercolor drawings, life work and modeling with great enthusiasm, and considerable talent is noticed in the Portland students.

Some interesting exhibitions are scheduled for the coming week. An attractive and unique exhibition of photographs by Imogen Cunningham, of Seattle, will claim the attention of camera enthusiasts and artists this week.

Miss Cunningham is quite a young woman, but her work is becoming well known for the amount of individuality and spirit she is able to express through the use of her camera. She concentrates her work on the subject, but chooses effects of light and sentiment in outdoor-figure pieces, quiet and well-arranged portraits, work, pure landscape and indoor figure arrangements. About 30 of Miss Cunningham's prints are shown, the other works of the gallery showing reproductions of drawings by the 13th century Frenchman, Watteau.

The work of the Wednesday art class was introduced by a clear and comprehensive lecture given by its president, Mrs. Ralph W. Wilbur, on the general subject for the winter, "Flemish and Dutch Art," on October 14. The first lecture of the art history class of the Art School will be given next Tuesday, October 20, at 8:30, at the Museum, Fifth and Taylor streets. Miss Putnam will speak on "Egyptian Ornament," illustrated by lantern slides.

THREE GROUPS ON WAY

Portland to Be Visited Friday, Saturday and Sunday by 20 Teams Now Touring Over Country Against Saloon.

Almost the final shots in the Oregon dry campaign will be fired Friday, Saturday and Sunday, when the members of the Flying Squadron of America will invade Portland for three days at the Rose City rink, East First and Morrison streets.

J. Frank Hanly, Ex-Governor of Indiana.

Clinton N. Howard, Rochester, N.Y.

IN WHICH of these groups are your children? Are they cooped up in some apartment-house or downtown dwelling flanked by shops, with only the hard pavement for a playground when they dare to venture forth for a bit of God-given fresh air?

Are they compelled, while playing the games you played when a boy with the whole world for your outlook, to dodge the ranting automobile with its raucous siren, or dispute every foot of vantage ground with a procession of grocers', butchers' and laundry wagons, and to be subject the while to the idle glances of every passer-by?

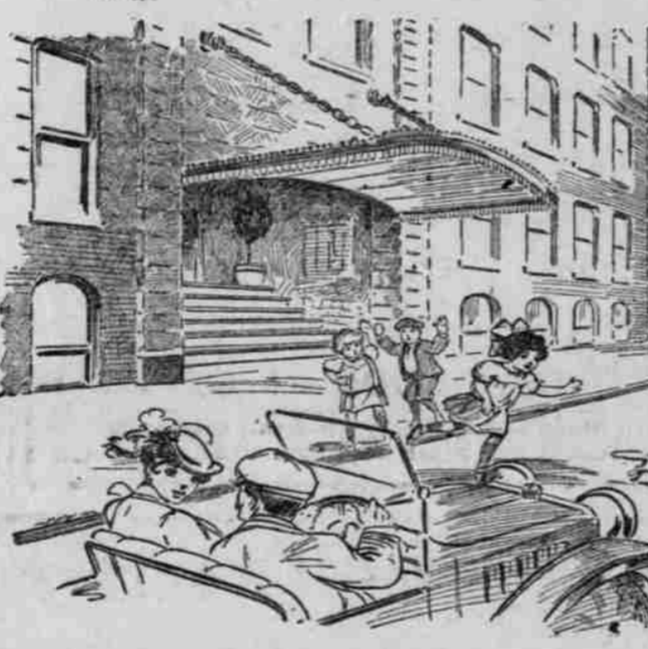

Under conditions like these, what will be their memories of childhood and "home"? What permanent youthful friendships can they make that will serve them in after life, living in one place one year, in another the next?

Would you want to exchange your memories of your own childhood for such as these?

What of the adult members of your family that pass in and out through the same portals through which pass a hundred others whom you and they do not know — whom you may never know?

Can you call such a place home — an abode which affords no spot where your foot may touch the earth, that you may be electrified by that potential, virile energy which comes from contact with the soil?

For your own sake—for the sake of your wife and children—make a change! It can be done! You can do it! We will help you do it!

SCHOOLS LEND HAND

Land Show Exhibit Pronounced and Special Day Named.

PUPILS JOINING ORCHESTRA

Ready Board to Parade Products With Exposition Band—Musical Programme by Oratorio Society Will Be Feature.

The public schools of Portland will take an important part in the coming Manufacturers' and Land Products Show. The School Board has decided to install the exhibit recently sent to the State Fair, and President Dunne has set aside Saturday, November 7, as "public school day" at the exposition.

A musical programme, arranged by Dr. Frederic E. Chapman, will occupy the entire afternoon. He is preparing an orchestra of more than 150 pupils from the grade schools.

Although "public school day" will bring thousands of children of the public schools to the fair, the educational exhibit will be one of the most complete ever assembled here. Space has been set aside in the ballroom at the Armory for the art, dressmaking, manual training and the trades school displays.

At a meeting of the Portland Realty Board Friday it was decided to participate in the land show. Friday afternoon, October 30, was named for a special entertainment. Headed by the exposition band, the real estate dealers will march from the Commercial Club to the Armory and each member will carry a pumpkin, squash, corn stalk, sheaf of grain, bundle of grass or basket of apples or potatoes.

A committee consisting of N. H. Atchison, Herman Moeller and George Englehart was appointed to arrange the Portland Realty Board programme.

Oratorio Society Plans Ready. The Armory will open Monday to receive exhibits, and the work of booth-building will start at once. The work of decorating the Armory will commence Monday, and by next Saturday it is expected to have the exposition more than 90 per cent complete.

Three hundred exhibitors will take part in the show. Exhibits are reaching Portland daily and are being held in cold storage until the middle of next week.

The Portland Oratorio Society, under Joseph A. Finley, director, assisted by the Handel Vocal Society and soloists Mrs. Gabriel Pullen, Miss Melle H. Woodby, soprano; Norman A. Hoese, tenor, and Andrew E. Caughy, baritone, will be the feature at the land show November 10, which also will be Woodby; "Hallelujah Chorus" (Handel's "Messiah"), chorus; "Toreador Song" (from opera "Carmen"—Bisetti), Mr. Caughy; "Unfold, Ye Portals" (Redemption), chorus.

Bladder and kidney weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Adv.
