

DEMOCRATS ENLIVEN CAMPAIGN

Race for Governor Close as Alexander Tours State With Tax Promises.

BOISE HAS ALL CANDIDATES

Haines Says He Has Reduced Cost and Stands on Record, While the Progressives Yet Have Hope. Charges Are Made.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—The gubernatorial race in this state is waxing warm, and, if political signs can be taken as an indication as to how the three-cornered contest is coming out, the general election result may develop into something of a surprise.

The race for Governor is between the incumbent, John M. Haines, Republican; Moses Alexander, Democrat, and Hugh E. McElroy, Progressive. A strange coincidence all three are from Boise. Haines is a capitalist and real estate dealer. Alexander is one of the city's leading sporting sports and has a string of branch stores. McElroy is a lawyer and agriculturist.

After his election Governor Haines increased and was instrumental in having created a State Tax Commission so that the state could be given a fixed revenue plan on which to work. He says that during his first administration he has lessened considerably the taxes in the state.

Alexander Promises Tax Cut. Alexander is stumping the state from end to end, contradicting the claim of Governor Haines. He promises to start the reduction of taxes within 60 days after his inauguration and to "clean" the Statehouse of all "lame ducks" and "pork-barrel" hangers-on as soon as he takes office.

O. A. C. TABS LIFE WORK

NEW SYSTEM OF FILING RECORDS OF GRADUATES ARRANGED.

College, baffled on question of recommendations, will try to answer calls in future.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Through a newly-arranged system the Oregon Agricultural College is now prepared to keep track of all its graduates through their life work.

Although this programme is more ambitious than generally is contemplated by educational institutions, the value of the record, both to the graduates and to managers of the state's larger industries, will doubtless repay the added cost many times over.

CHURCH CENSUS IS TAKEN

Y. M. C. A. College Members Designate Attachment or Preference.

KITE CONTEST IS PLANNED

Albany Schools Also Organizing Fire and Drum Corps.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—To stimulate interest in school work and to provide them with clean, wholesome and enjoyable diversion during their spare moments, C. V. Hostetler, superintendent of the Albany public schools, is planning a "kite day" for next Spring.

Another feature that is being introduced into the public schools here is rifle, drum and bugle corps. Each school will be represented by a corps and already the boys of the Madison School are organizing and 65 pupils of that school have volunteered to procure uniforms and rifles and to practice regularly.

BREEDERS MAY RAISE ELK

Washington Meat Supply From Olympic Peninsula Farms Likely.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Peninsula to raise elk to provide a new meat supply for the State of Washington is the novel proposal advanced by Dr. H. S. Graves, acting Commissioner of Agriculture, upon his return from a ten days' trip to the interior of the peninsula.

The tameness of the wild elk of the Olympic Peninsula and their rapidly increasing numbers have brought disaster to the Hoh Valley settlers. Dr. Graves states, and they see in the proposal to raise elk for the market their only salvation. One settler who upon first coming to the region was able to graze 400 head of cattle in his immediate vicinity now can find grazing for 30 head only by driving his herd far down the river.

GOVERNOR LISTER BUSY

Opening Address Will Be in Olympia Tomorrow Night.

Republicans Hope to Have Senator Borah Speak in Washington for Wesley L. Jones.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Governor Lister will step into the Washington State campaign Monday night at a meeting arranged in the Olympia Opera-House in behalf of W. W. Black, Democratic Senatorial candidate, and Charles Drury, Democratic candidate for Representative in the Third District.

Most of Governor Lister's political activities probably will be devoted to efforts in behalf of Democratic candidates for the Legislature.

The legislative campaign is showing a strong tendency to develop on the issue of whether or not the Governor was justified in the free use of the veto power during the last session of the Legislature in cutting down appropriation bills, with incidental attacks upon the conduct of the state administration for the past two years.
