prize for the player holding highest score of the afternoon was awarded to Mrs. Lyddon Veysey. In addition to this prize, corsage boquets were given to the one holding high score at each table. The rooms were decked prettily with huge clusters of pink chrysanthemums, carnations and fernery. In the dining-room, where the punchbowl was placed, an artistic effect was obtained by the use of Autumnal foliage.

For the first time in the history of the Irvington Club tiny tots held full sway in the evening. They had a jolly Halloween party Friday night, and, with the natural unrestrained gaiety of childhood, the little ones entered into the spirit of revelry that was a rare treat for the adults to see. The club was decked in truly gala attire, black cats, Jack O'Lanterns and crafty witches lending a festive air to the handsome interior of the club. One hundred and seventy-six children in grotesque costumes and masks were in the grand march, which was led by two three-year-old tots, Harriet Hofmann and Max Metcham. The committee was assisted in the formation of the dances by Miss Beth Ludlam and Miss West in costume, who also arranged game and fancy dance figures. The committee of arrangement was Mrs. A. H. Cousins, Mrs. Lewis Mead, Mrs. J. R. Burke, Mrs. E. L. Pettis, Mrs. Marion Versteeg.

Miss Edith Clerin's engagement to Edward Glenn Smyth was announced Wednesday by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. G. P. Clerin, at a charming reception. The Clerin residence was filled during the calling hours with prettily gowned matrons and maids, the attractive floral decoration of the rooms making a pleasing foil for the gowns of the guests. A color scheme of yellow was developed in the drawing-room with huge clusters of chrysanthemums and in the dining-room dahlias were used with artistic effect. The tea table, prettily decked, was presided over by Mrs. W. Y. Masters and Mrs. Robert A. Lamberson. They were assisted by the Misses Margurite Deering, Genevieve Caughey, Elizabeth McGaw and Marion Grebel.

The hostess was assisted about the rooms by Mrs. Frank Swanton, Mrs. Herbert Taylor Scott, Miss Louis Boyd and Miss Agnes Beach. Little Miss Mary Clerin and Annette Byford received the cards at the door and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Sidney Smyth, received with the hostess and her daughter.

Miss Clerin is a charming and popular girl, a member of Delta Gamma Sorority and attended the University of California. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smyth, a graduate of the University of California and a Beta Theta Pi man. He is a mining engineer, engaged in quarries in Southern California.

Miss Geraldine Whittaker, whose wedding to Burton Charles Haines takes place in December, was the guest of honor at an elaborate bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Levi M. Lacy and Mrs. Edward Keller at the home of the latter recently. Covers were laid for 26.

In the drawing-room mountain laurel and red tulle were used profusely, while in the dining-room and den red carnations and ferns formed beautiful center pieces and corners. Red hearts and flying cupids were in evidence. Clusters of red rosebuds and maidenhair ferns adorned the tables. A cupid perched on the mantle held the chair occupied by the honor guest with reins of red tulle.

Card honors were awarded to Mrs. Shirley Parker and Mrs. George W. Akers.

Mrs. Ralph Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. Percy Allen on the violin and Mrs. Whittaker at the piano, sang several pleasing numbers, after which the bride-elect was showered with a complete aluminum and electric kitchen outfit.

Those present were: Mesdames George W. Akers, Percy Allen, George Anderson, Alexander M. Clark, C. C. Colt, B. C. Darnall, Walter P. Dickey, J. Harvey Fenner, Fred Glenn, Frank Ilin T. Griffith, Edward Keller, Otto Kettenbach, Levi M. Lacy, F. J. Leonard, W. G. Lloyd, Robert Menefee, J. Howard Miller, C. M. Noe, of Cincinnati, Shirley Parker, Ralph Robinson, Edwin C. Veasey, Andre J. Wolff, George Waggoner, R. M. C. Whittaker and the Misses Agnes Hickman, Bess Lloyd, Geraldine Whittaker.

This week's calendar included an interesting assemblage Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. H. Howard and Mrs. G. A. Burton, 324 Tenth street, when friends of their girlhood days gathered for an old time chat. The rooms were attractive with carnations and cactus dahlias, while the dining table was especially adorned with Halloween features. Covers were laid for 17.

Mrs. F. J. McGettigan sang popular selections from the light operas and several classics.

The guests were: Mrs. M. Goulet, Mr. D. P. Bradley, Mrs. S. V. Fuller, Mrs. L. H. Poujade, Mrs. M. A. Flynn, Mrs. F. Goulet, Mrs. J. Kelter, Mrs. S. L. Taylor, Mrs. A. W. Cauthorn, Mrs. T. G. Coleman, Mrs. J. S. Stott, Mrs. J. R. Glendenning, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. E. L. Brown, Mrs. Oscar Olsen, Mrs. H. Madernach, Mrs. Richard Mason, Mrs. George Settlemeier, Mrs. Harvey Buxton, Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mrs. M. Murphy, Mrs. Henry Koester, of Gervais; Miss Esther Mitchell, Miss Jeanette Mitchell and Matthieu Howard.

The Vernon Christian Church at East Nineteenth and Wygant streets was where Amanuel Sears and Highland Mary Sears celebrated their golden wedding recently. Mr. and Mrs. Sears were married on October 13, 1864, at Bedford, Ind., while Mr. Sears was at home on a furlough during service in the Civil War as a special assistant body guard to President Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Sears spent their honeymoon period in Washington, D. C.

Rev. J. A. Melton, pastor of the Vernon Christian Church, and members had decorated the church with a large arch trimmed with Autumn leaves and floral decorations. The church choir rendered special music, after which Miss Genevieve Cochran played a wedding march and the couple marched into the church escorted by the matron of honor, Mrs. J. A. Melton, and J. Horton, and the little flower girls, Misses Pauline Sears and Edna Morrison. Under the archway at the altar the pastor met the party, and in a fitting and unique ceremony reunited the couple to go on another 50 years' journey together.

Mr. and Mrs. Sears spent the greater portion of their lives at Fayetteville, Ind., where two children were born to them—Arlie and William A. Sears. The daughter died several years ago. The son, William A. Sears, and family are residents of Portland.

There were present about 250 friends and relatives.

Gordon Grange Post, No. 43, presented Mr. Sears with a beautiful emblem pin. The ladies of the Relief Corps of Gordon Granger Post, No. 43, presented Mrs. Sears with a golden clock. On the rostrum of the church was a table loaded with presents from the church members, friends and relatives.

After the ceremony refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

Complete reversion to the rural Halloweens of several years ago was carried out in the dance by the Maxixians Friday night at Cotillion Hall. Decorations emphasized the general scheme while the hall was cleverly worked into an English farm scene. A ghostly reception committee welcomed the guests and the members of the orchestra, dressed as farm hands, revived all of the old favorites and scattered a few of the latest song hits by way of contrast.

The club colors, orange and purple, were worked into the decorative scheme in an effective way. Cider, drawn from a barrel, and served in tin cups, old-fashioned candy and a "taffy pull" were some of the features.

The members of the committee in charge of the programme were: Misses Mabel Mascot, Margaret Harvey, Irene Mosher, Edith Miller, Eleanor Hawkins, Hazel Gallagher, Martha Weidenhold and Alice Burke and Paul R. Dickenson, George E. Love, Elmer A. Hansen, Charles Bauer, Walter M. Dickenson, Dick Mulin, William H. Gwaltney and Carl Taylor. The patronesses were: Mrs. F. A. Dickenson, Mrs. Chester A. Derrance, Mrs. H. P. Love and Mrs. C. W. Bauer.

The club will give a "European war dance" on November 20.

A Halloween party of more than ordinary interest was given by the San Graal Christian Endeavor Society at the First Presbyterian Church house, 454 Alder street, on Tuesday evening. Ghosts lurked in the corridors and half-veiled figures beckoned the adventurous into mysterious bypaths, whence many retreated in unseemly haste, telling tales of clammy hands outstretched to impede their intrepid advance, of swishing garments and unearthly sounds and floating faces with fiery eyes. An animated tombstone wandered restlessly about. Witches plied their black arts and generated mysterious potions in their huge cauldron.

It was an hour of witchery, which presently melted into a thoroughly mundane and 20th-century joy-hour for 150 young people who frolicked through the regulation Halloween stunts. The evening ended with a general vote that the San Graal Society had achieved a Halloween party of unrivaled novelty and satisfying interest for the large crowd of young people who were its guests.

The ladies of the Midway Embroid-

PORTLAND COUPLE CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Matin.

Amid a host of relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. M. Martin celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday at their home, 226 Sherman street. Born in Russia in 1846, Mr. Martin married when but 18. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Martin lived in Russia until 1906, when, following a terrible massacre of the Jews, they emigrated to this country and have resided in Portland since.

Mr. Martin continues the teaching of Hebrew, which he has followed for the last 30 years. To comfort them in their old age, Mr. and Mrs. Martin have their son and his wife and grandchildren—the Misses Bertha, Anna, Abe, Lozer and David.

IT'S WONDERFUL TO SEE ALL THE BEAUTIFUL STYLES IN CLOTHES AT CHERRY'S

"Certainly the war hasn't had any effect on their getting the new things, Clara; you know I'd planned to make over that serge dress of mine for Fall, and I was looking around to see what the styles are.

"I dropped into CHERRY'S; you know I've bought most of my clothes there for years, while in California, on account of the GENEROUS CREDIT PLAN; well, by the time they had showed me two or three dresses, I dropped the idea of making over some old things and bought one of the basque effects on the spot.

"To tell you the truth, Clara, I can buy new garments at CHERRY'S for really less than I can hire a dressmaker and worry and fret at home on my own sewing. And the coats and suits and dresses they're showing now are simply beautiful.

"I know you've been talking about a new coats—take it from me, you'll do well to buy it at CHERRY'S—for they make such awfully easy TERMS and mark their goods so reasonably that everybody ought to be a patron of theirs. Why, you know where CHERRY'S location is at 389-391 Washington street, Pittock Block.—Adv.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In cool weather this interferes greatly with the elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time uncloggine the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy, younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.—Adv.
