

VICTORY IS WON BY REPUBLICAN STAFF

County Committee Most Efficient in Outlining Great Campaign Contest.

FIGHT IS ON 4 AND 3 WIN

Multnomah Organization Headed by George J. Cameron Attains Biggest Success Recorded, All Tireless in Party Work.

Now that the political battles of the season have been fought and victory has been won, the Republican county organization, with all other political bodies, has closed its headquarters and is prepared to rest its glory until the next campaign rolls around.

OFFICERS OF MULTNOMAH COUNTY REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE WHO HAVE CLOSED SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN.

J. L. Day, Geo. J. Cameron, Elmer L. Amedon.

In history, it certainly was the most active, and by many it was considered as the most efficient.

Headquarters were opened in the Morgan building May 16 and kept open every day, including most Sundays, until yesterday.

When the campaign opened the Republican leaders realized that but four positions on the state and county tickets would be contested. All other places seemed won. These four offices were United States Senator, Governor, Representative to Congress and Sheriff.

Flight Centers Around Four. So the work was concentrated on these four offices. All plans were made with that object in view.

Early in the season it became evident that the Republican candidate for United States Senator would lose Multnomah county by a margin of about 10,000 votes. The hope of electing the Senatorial candidate lay with the outside counties.

The Multnomah county committee set out to keep the adverse plurality down to 10,000. Anything below that figure was expected to add to the plurality that the candidate seemed certain to receive in the outside counties.

How well the county committee did its work is evidenced by the fact that the Democratic Senatorial candidate received a plurality of approximately 9,000 votes in the county.

The success of the committee's efforts is further illustrated by the returns, which show that each of the three other contested positions were carried in the county by varying margins.

The committee did successfully all the work that it set out to do.

328 Men in Field. At the beginning of the active campaign the county committee consisted of 328 Republicans, workers in various parts of the county.

Before the end of the campaign a committeeman had been appointed in each of the 328 precincts and professional men were members.

The committee organized by electing George J. Cameron, chairman, Elmer L. Amidon secretary and John L. Day treasurer. The executive committee was composed of Dan E. Powers, Lou Wagner, Percy C. Head, Frank Caprio, C. P. Peterson, James C. Walsh, J. L. Hammersley, C. R. Hotchkiss, D. F. Hartman, O. A. Neal, J. L. Day, Charles Cleveland, J. F. Morrison, Fred Valentine and Creed T. Evans.

The executive committee held 21 meetings and at all times was in close touch with the situation. None of the workers was paid. All were patriotic and enthusiastic.

In connection with the regular county headquarters, C. N. McArthur, Republican candidate for Congress, conducted his campaign. In the last two weeks preceding the election the McArthur headquarters were in charge of John L. Day. Just how effective were the efforts in behalf of McArthur is shown by the fact that districts like St. Johns, Lewis, Morrison and others that voted against him in the primaries voted for him in the general election.

Women Aid Materially. A material part of the success is due to the faithful work of 50 women who were members of the general committee. Each precinct was independently organized under sub-committees. About 800 women were members of these sub-committees.

"I want to thank every member of the central committee for the splendid work he did," said Chairman Cameron yesterday.

Other members of the organization point out that a small part of the result was due to the ability displayed by the chairman himself.

Probably the most zealous worker in the organization was Amidon, the secretary, who labored incessantly from the time the campaign started until long after it ended. He devoted all his time to the work.

As a token of appreciation of his efforts other members of the committee yesterday presented him with a handsome watch fob.

MINES IN SHIPS' PATH

Coast Guards' Discovery Jumps Risk on Travel to Double Price.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A notice posted recently at Lloyds caused considerable excitement. It was to the effect that the coastguards at Malin Head, on the north coast of Ireland, had been discovered a mine field.

A Fleetwood trawler also reported the sinking of the steamer. Lloyds insurance premiums on North Atlantic voyages, which had been not above 10 shillings, immediately jumped to 20 shillings.

The opinion expressed in shipping circles is that the mine field has been placed in the direct route of the Atlantic.

BRIDGE TO STAY OPEN

CITY AND O.-W. R. & N. AGREE TO SECOND 30-DAY EXTENSION.

Further Efforts at Rental Settlement Yet to Be Made Though Part of Council Prefers Closing.

In hope of being able to agree on a rental with the O.-W. R. & N. Company for the use of the Steel bridge for streetcar, vehicular and pedestrian traffic, the City Commission and the company at a meeting yesterday agreed to leave the bridge open for another 30 days.

The railroad company has asked a rental of $52,000 a year, while the city has been willing to pay no more than $18,000 a year. Deducting the revenue to be derived from the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for use of the bridge for streetcars, the city at the $18,000 rate would pay only about $6000 a year for the use of the bridge.

The railway officials presented figures yesterday to show that their bridge is used as much as the other bridges and costs the city considerably less to operate and maintain on the old basis of rental. It was shown that in 1913 the Burnside bridge cost the city $74,512; the Morrison bridge $65,160; the Hawthorne bridge $63,156; the Broadway bridge $128,479; and the Steel bridge $70,737.

Mr. W. Cotton, representing the company, said he did not think the city should expect the use of the bridge involving an investment of over $800,000, for a matter of $18,000 a year. He said the railroad company had invested its money in the bridge in good faith and the city should show its good faith by giving the company a reasonable return on its investment.

WORKMEN UNCOVER GRAVE

Health Bureau Advice for Disposal of Body, Buried in 1862, Asked.

While excavating on a lot owned by K. L. Fenton at 1507 East Salmon street yesterday, workmen uncovered the headstone of a grave in which is the body of Henry L. Richardson, who died October 24, 1862.

The headstone, although covered over for many years, is still in good condition. It bears the words, "In memory of Henry L. Richardson, born at Cayahoga Falls, Ohio. Died October 24, 1862. Aged 30 years six months."

TEACHERS MUST USE TACT

History Instructors Discuss War in Relation to Students' Work.

How far matters pertaining to the European war might be discussed in the Portland schools was a matter of comment yesterday at a meeting of the history teachers held in room 304 of the Courthouse.

City Superintendent Alderman has issued instructions that war topics must be approached with tact, so that the children of the respective nationalities affected will not be offended. But he thinks the war gives a splendid opportunity to interest the pupils in general matters of geography and history.

The first monthly meeting of Portland school principals for the year at the Hotel Benson yesterday was largely attended. The speakers for the occasion were George M. Hyland, chairman of the Panama-Exposition Commission for Oregon; Allen H. Eaton, of Eugene; and R. H. Crozier, of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway Company.

Actress Tells How to Obtain It.

Mrs. Rose, the well-known actress, who played on one of the leading vaudeville circuits the past Winter and who is especially noted for her long, beautiful hair, in a recent interview in Chicago made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can promote the growth of their hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. This is not only the finest hair grower I have ever known, but it prevents the hair from falling out, removes dandruff and scalp humors, darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. The ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost."
