

WEALTHY CHINESE INFECASHE DINES

Assailant, San Francisco
Tongman, Escapes After Stabbing Foe in Back.

POLICE FEAR WAR BEGINS

Jim Wong Is Attacked in His Store
at 263 Flanders Street—Wound
Is Not Fatal—Gamblers
Blamed for Deed.

Jim Wong, a well-to-do Chinese merchant, was stabbed in the back while he sat eating dinner in his store at 263 Flanders street last night. Other Chinese declare his assailant was Lum Chong Ying, said to be a gunman and a member of the Sues Sing and Bow Leung tongs. Jim Wong belongs to the Hip Sing Tong in Portland. Lum Chong Ying escaped after the stabbing, and the police, fearful that the attack presages the opening of a tong war in Portland, are taking every precaution to prevent an outbreak of hostilities.

Jim Wong was seriously wounded, but will recover. Other Orientals quickly removed him to 255 Everett street, whence he was taken to the Police Emergency Hospital. Later he was removed to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Gamblers Are Blamed.
That he has been active in Chinatown in trying to suppress gambling is the only motive Jim Wong could offer for the attack on him. He said he knew Lum Chong Ying by reputation only, but recognized him as soon as he came into his store last night.

Wong told the Police that Ying walked up to him with a smile, leaning over the table and asked if he was enjoying his dinner. Wong's reply was scarcely spoken, he said, when the other Oriental shoved a knife between his shoulder blades. Ying bolted out of the door, taking his knife with him, before other Chinese could interfere.

Tong Feud Feared.
Rumors of bad feeling between the Hip Sing and the Sues Sing have been current in Portland for some time. Members of the Hip Sing Tong said last night that Lum Chong Ying arrived from San Francisco only a few days ago. They said he was known there chiefly for his connection with the Bow Leung Tong, but that he had come to Portland at the behest of the Sues Sing.

Sergeant Harms and Officers Wise and Martin, who were on duty last night, scoured Chinatown last night for Lum Chong Ying, but were unable to locate him.

PHONE FRANCHISE USELESS

Court Holds That Sunset Cannot Use Home Company's Agreement.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The Superior Court today handed down a decision holding that the Sunset Telephone Company cannot operate under the franchise of the Home Telephone Company, which latter it absorbed when the Home Company went into receivership.

The Sunset Company's franchise in Tacoma expires next March, and having met with many obstacles in attempting to acquire a new franchise from the city it took over the Home franchise, which has 16 years to run.

The decision probably will be appealed.

GRANDSON OF PORTLAND MULTI-MILLIONAIRE AND SISTERS THEY WILL WED IN SAN BERNARDINO, CAL.

Miss Maude Marie Roberts

Miss Louise Eliza Roberts

SHIP ROMANCE SPUN

Double Wedding to Result
From Ocean Acquaintance.

BROTHERS TO WED SISTERS

Philip and Walker Kamm, of Portland, on Way to San Bernardino to Chalm Misses Maude and Louise Roberts as Brides.

From a chance meeting on an ocean greyhound speeding toward Europe in the year 1910, a pleasant acquaintance ripened into cordial friendship, which in turn developed into more tender affection, with the result that Philip Schuyler Kamm and Walker Willis Kamm, grandsons of the late Jacob G. Kamm, Portland multimillionaire, and sons of Mrs. Charles T. Kamm, swung aboard the steamship Linnet, yesterday bound for San Bernardino, Cal., where a double wedding will be solemnized next Saturday.

Notes of motoring, Misses Maude Marie Roberts and Louise Eliza Roberts, prominent young society girls of San Bernardino, Cal., found kindred spirits in the Messrs. Kamm, when they met on their way to the Continent. The friendship developed during the voyage was renewed on the Continent when the routes taken by the two parties crossed. The girls were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. E. D. Roberts, and took many automobile tours. Philip and Walker Kamm were motoring through the countries and that their paths converged at frequent intervals was not always the result of chance.

Upon their return Messrs. Kamm finished their studies at Amherst, at which time, as luck—or Cupid—would have it, the Misses Roberts were attending a finishing school near Boston. Friendship further progressed, so that when school days were over the California trips made by Philip and Walker Kamm, who were then in business in Portland, were of amazing frequency. Hitherto they have come back alone, but in about five weeks they will return here from their honeymoon with two charming additions to Portland society.

Walker Kamm and Louise Roberts and Philip Kamm and Maude Roberts will be married in Glenwood Inn Chapel, San Bernardino, by the Right Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles. The bridal party will include the bride's 10 ushers and four little flower girls, all of whom will be guests at a houseparty at the Roberts home this week.

Mrs. Charles Kamm and her daughter, Mrs. James A. McKinnon, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gray Kamm leave tomorrow for the South, to be present at the ceremony.

The Misses Roberts are daughters of State Treasurer Roberts, of California, and with their mother have made several visits to Portland. Last Spring Mrs. Roberts and daughters visited Mrs. William C. Knighton, of Salem, and later were entertained in Portland.

The place where the honeymoon will be spent has not been divulged by the young people.

BAKER TO EXHIBIT STOCK

Ed Coles, of Haines, to Enter Carload at Portland Show.

BAKER, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—That Baker County will be well represented at the North Pacific Livestock Exposition, at Portland, December 7-12, was assured today when Secretary Meacham, of the Commercial Club, received word from the Haines stockman, that he would enter at least one carload for the carload exhibit of stock and several individual entries.

Mr. Meacham also expects other stockmen of this vicinity to send high-grade entries and believes that Baker will have as representative an exhibit as ever at the big show.

CHAPIN LEAVES HERALD

Retirement From Management of Chicago Newspaper Announced.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—W. W. Chapin, who has been publisher of the Herald for the last 16 years, has announced his retirement from the management of the paper, following the consolidation of the Chicago Record-Herald and the Inter-Ocean several months ago, has retired from that position.

James Keeley, editor of the Herald, in announcing Mr. Chapin's retirement, said:

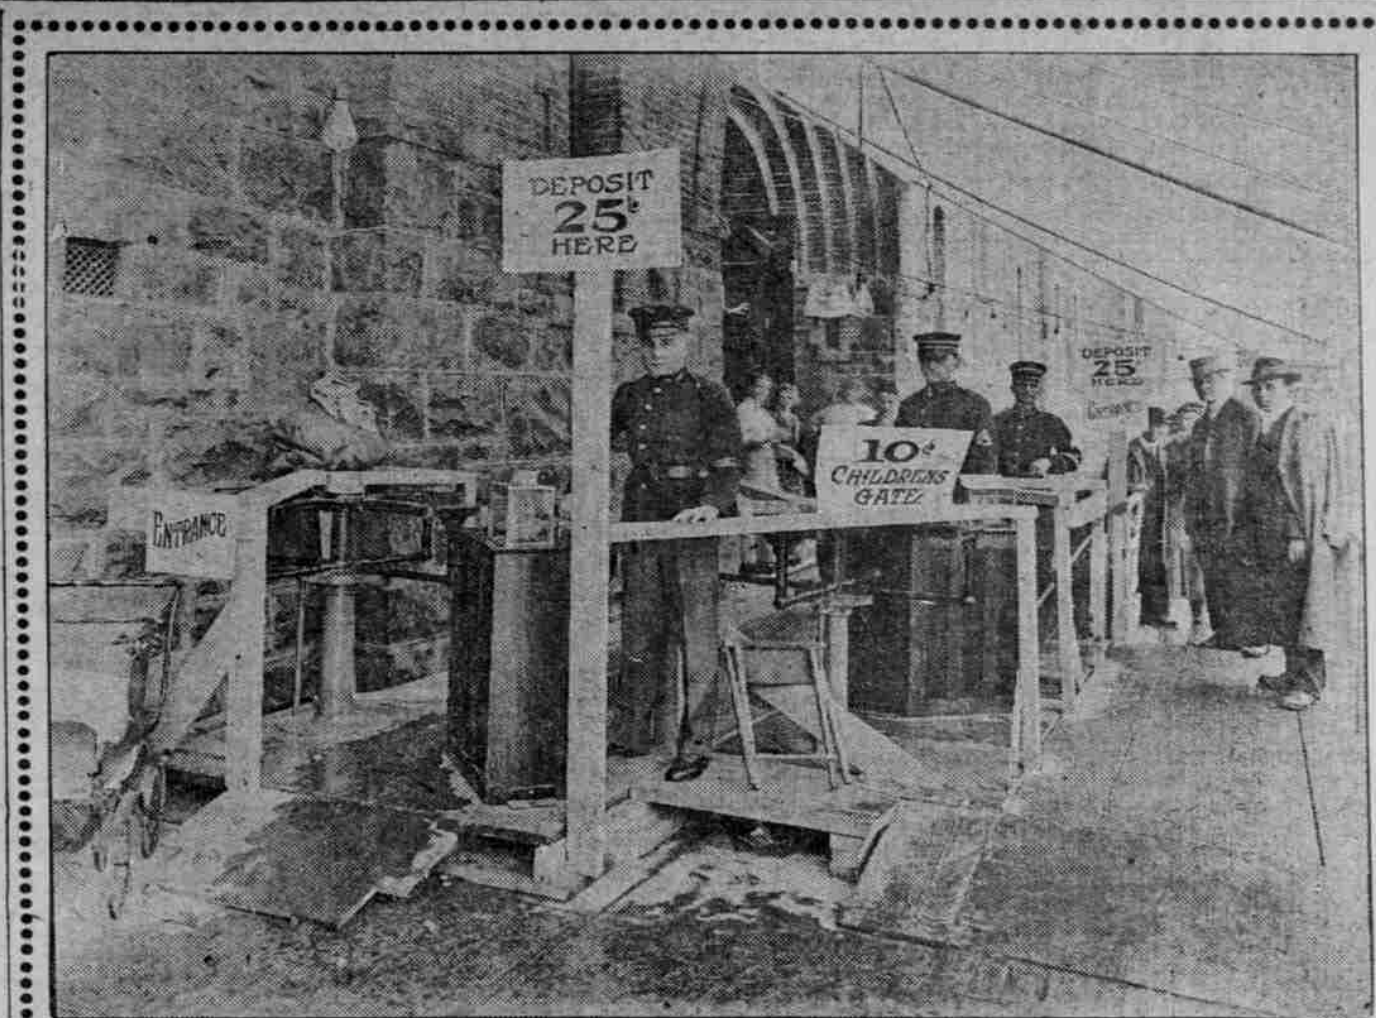

"All official relations of Mr. W. W. Chapin and the Chicago Herald have this day terminated."

Mr. Chapin previously had been connected with the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and the San Francisco Call.

The Retort Frosty.
(New York Herald.)
"I suppose, captain," said the inquisitive ocean voyager, "that the passengers make you dreadfully tired with the questions they ask."

"Yes, indeed," replied the captain. "What else is it you want to know?"

Exhibitors are determined to make

One of the feature exhibits of the "Made in Oregon" goods at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show has been the automatic turnstiles, or coin machines used on the main gates at the Exposition. The machines at the Land Show are part of an order of 175 to be used at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco next year and were held here for demonstration purposes at Portland's Exposition. More than seventy-five of the machines will also be used at San Diego.

The machines at the main entrance to the Armory will be shipped to San Francisco immediately on the close of the Land Show. Already the Portland-made machines are in use at the San Francisco Exposition and were selected over many competitors after a severe test on the rapid handling of crowds, preventing confusion and delay and proving accurate in checking the financial tally of the day's receipts. It is the purpose of the Coin Machine Manufacturing Company of Portland, building the Potter Automatic Turnstiles, to place the Portland-made machines with the Portland stamp in expositions, fair and amusement parks over the United States.

The turnstile does away with ticket selling and all expense incident to the ticket system, eliminates the details of counting ticket stubs and checking tickets. It also prevents errors, over-changing, short-changing, collusion between ticket seller and ticket taker and besides indicates the number of people who have passed through at any given time.

The officers of the Coin Machine Manufacturing Company are T. Irving Potter, President; L. E. Kern, Vice-President and Treasurer; H. D. Ramsdell, Secretary, and H. C. Wortman, W. J. Clemens, E. V. Reardon and F. S. Doenbecher, Directors.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA PRAISED

Oregon Agricultural College Also Participates at Show.

That the concert by the public school orchestra yesterday was the most striking musical feature that has been introduced among the many special features at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show was the opinion freely expressed at the Armory yesterday.

Practically all of the schools of the city were represented in the personnel of the orchestra, which is composed of more than 100 pieces. Professor Chapman, head of the department of music for the public schools of the city, directed the concert, which consisted of a number of brilliant selections, in which were included the "Buerto March," "Grand March," "Silver Star Overture," "Romanza" and descriptive pieces.

The Oregon Agricultural College divided the afternoon with the schools, giving its programme in the little theater in the Land Products pavilion. Dr. Hector McPherson, of the department of economics, gave a lecture upon methods of agricultural production and rural life conditions in the countries of Europe before the war, illustrating his address with a series of stereopticon slides. Dr. McPherson was a member of the Rural Credits Commission which visited Europe about a year ago to investigate systems of farm credits.

Members of the Oregon Agricultural College Glee Club and musical department gave a programme in the little theater in the evening, preceding the lecture of Professor Wood on the recreation movement and the programme offered by the students of the Christian Brothers College.

The Land Show will be opened this afternoon for one of the most important musical programmes in point of the number of participants, that has been held in the Armory. It is a "Community Sing" under the auspices of the Monday Musical Club, with Mrs. Lou Gray as conductor. The programme will be held at 3:30 P. M.

More than 1000 copies of patriotic songs will be distributed to the audience and a chorus of 25 voices will lead in the singing.

The members of the committee on arrangements are: Mrs. C. J. Frankel, Mrs. Hermann Heppner, Mrs. Russell C. Dorr and Mrs. Lou Gray.

C. H. McGill, designer of the battleship Oregon, which has attracted so much attention, has had a new flag made and will make the community sing the occasion for the raising of the new flag to the mast of the battleship. The flag-raising ceremony will be at the beginning of the "sing."

CARMEN PREVENT INJURIES

Quick Action When Richmond Hits Montavilla Car Saves Many.

Quick action and coolness on the part of Motorman P. McGuigan of a Richmond car and the motorman on a Montavilla streetcar probably saved 40 passengers on both cars from serious injury to a deadly stop. McGuigan applied the emergency brakes and the reverse, with the result that the damages were slight and the injuries none.

FUN IN SALOON ALLOWED

Commission Refuses to Revoke License on Request of Chief Clerk.

Noise caused by the playing of Italian games in Italian saloons is not disorder. This was the decision of the City Commission yesterday when it concluded hearing testimony in the case of an Italian saloon at 641 Fourth street, which Chief of Police Clark recommended should be closed.

A number of policemen who have patrolled the beat in South Portland testified that they have heard much noise in connection with the playing of Italian games, but have seen but few things of color in the place. The Commission voted not to revoke the license of the place.

Brewery May Become Cannery

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The stockholders of the North Yakima Brewing & Malting Company, confronted with the prospect that their business must be closed within the next year at the longest, already have turned their attention to other uses for the brewing plant of the company in this city. If it cannot continue as a brewery, they expect to make it a great fruit-by-products plant for the canning and evaporation of fruit of all kinds and the manufacture and bottling of grape juice and other similar products. It also will be used as a fruit cold-storage warehouse.

East Side Meeting Monday Night.
