CATHLAMET, Wash., Nov. 14 .- (Spe CATHLAMET, Wash., Nov. 14.—(Spe-dist).—Representative Johnson passed the last three days of this week in Wahklakum County, speaking at Ska-mokawa and at Cathlamet. Owing to the big storm Thursday night Mr. Johnson was unable to visit other points.

In one of his speeches Congressman Johnson said that the people of the United States would now have an op-portunity to see the new Republican party at work, and said that although his party did not have control of either the legislative or executive branch of the Government, it could, in the next Congress, do much towards bringing about real economy and straighten up measures which are called for in the Administration programme, and which, in the speaker's opinion, are not quite Nation-wide in character. Mr. Johnson said that he doubted if there ever would be held another cau-

there ever would be held another cau-cus by the Republican party. During his term in Congress no Republican caucuses had been held and few con-ferences, which were open to the pub-lic and attended by the newspaper re-porters. At these conferences no vote was taken, and no member was asked to bind himself in any way.

Democrats Employ Gag Rule. Mr. Johnson predicted that except for the selection of Speaker, all the doings of those elected on the National Republican ticket would be done with the doors open and full inquiry and obser-vation requested. He declared that the Democratic Congress had been bound not only by caucuses in which the heavy portion of Southern representa-tives dominated the Northern Demotrees dominated the horizontal Pennocratic majority had operated under a gag rule more binding than anything thought of in the days of Speaker Cannon. He said that the control by four members from the Far South of the committee on rules was obnovious to all members of rules was obnoxious to all members of Congress, regardless of party, who de-aired to be free to vote their convic-tions. He explained the working of this committee on rules in detail.

During the past few months, Signer has made trips afoot over no less than seven routes between Colfax and Day-ton, varying in length from 64 to 125 miles. He has made half a dozen trips miles. He has made half a dozen trips between Meyers Falls, Stevens County and Davenport, Lincoln County, over routes of from 85 to 93 miles. Signer's tramps since the first of the year, highway officials estimate, would amount to considerably more than a walk from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coasts, while the rough character of most of the country traversed added greatly to the difficulty.

Mr. Olson Says With Dispersal of Army of Unemployed Industrial Worker Menace Will Disappear to Unions' Delight.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 14 .- (Special.) The Pacific Northwest may face its most acute labor problem with the completion of the European war, when unskilled foreign workmen may be expected to flock to this section in great numbers, declares State Labor Commissioner Olson, of Washington, in his biennial report, just issued.

The labor problem of the present in Washington is caused by lack of staple industries busy the entire year, Mr. Olson says. Statistics gathered by his department indicate that 23 per cent of the male labor in this state has only intermittent employment. In the Winter, Mr. Olson asserts, this

In the Winter, Mr. Oison asserts, this army of the unemployed flocks to the large cities and becomes the stronghold of the Industrial Workers of the World, which he characterizes as "the most baneful influence among our workingmen." He adds: "When we readjust our industrial affairs to such an extent that the 'army' exists no longer or is at least reduced to a minimum, we will have no Industrial Workers of the World. As a matter of justice to unions and to union men, it is well to add that the legitimate trades unionist is a bitter enemy of the trades unionist is a bitter enemy of the Industrial Workers of the World, lik-ing neither its theories nor its prac-

"We know that today 23 per cent of our workmen are shuffled back and forth around the state from one job to another in only intermittent employment, forming our army of the unemployed. Suppose immigration should double or treble the number of our workingmen, what then? The ratio of employed to unemployed would be inverted, and there would be nearer 23 per cent regularly employed, than 77 per cent as now. Or else there would per cent as now. Or else there would come so great a reduction of wages that labor, in addition to all the other evils of cheap wages, would become dissatisfied and might easily be led into one form or another of industrial strife."

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and incking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products. I would suggest that you try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hpt or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacld known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Adv.
