

CORN SHOW WILL INSURE 'FARMERS' HEARTS

Mr. Smith Besieged by Questions and Addresses Are Heart-to-Heart Talks.

ARGUMENT IS CONVINCING

Demonstrations Make Many Converts and Family of Producers Will Be Enlarged While Growers Hope to Improve Yields.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—All day there has been a stream of visitors pouring in and out of the O. W. R. & N. Corn Show, which closed its three days' session tonight.

Informality Is Feature. That is about a fair sample of the way the audiences felt about the matter.

The O. W. R. & N. officials are loud in their expressions of thankfulness to the people of this lovely city for courtesies extended, more particularly to Mayor Gillis, who has been insistent and persistent that everything, even to the freedom of the city, should be given the corn show promoters.

Event to Be Annual. In answer to this the railroad officials say it is their present intention to make it an annual event.

Walla Walla people want it held here, and really this seems the logical place. If it comes here next year it will more than likely thereafter be a fixed Walla Walla event, one that will grow with the years and draw most of the Westerners shows in the shade—and it ought to for it means more than even the great fairs to the people—more than anything else in the way of an educational event to the landowners.

One of the regrets is that President Farrell, of the O. W. R. & N. Company, did not get here to witness a show in which he has been so deeply interested. He fully expected to spend today here, but at the last moment found it impossible to be present.

Traffic Manager Miller, General Freight Agent Lowndale and General Passenger Agent McMurray have been here to do all in their power to make the show the great success it has proved to be.

MEXICAN POLICY SCORED

Chicago Educator, Democrat, Criticizes Wilson's Attitude.

MONMOUTH, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Dr. Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago, who spoke to the students of the Oregon Normal School and the citizens of Monmouth on "The Mexico of Today," said the policy of President Wilson in the Mexican situation had been a mistake.

I have made 14 trips to Mexico during the past 11 years, and not until Huerta took the Presidency were the inhabitants of Mexico commencing to feel the effects of the present. From the beginning, there was dissatisfaction with the administration of Madero.

There has been no way connected with the plot. Huerta became President of Mexico constitutionally, and the faction in the country were reaching the point where they would be satisfied with the present.

ROAD TO OPEN HARNEY

Oregon Eastern to Give "Granary of West" Transportation Facilities.

VALE, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—A large party from the Middle West passed through Vale on route to the Harney country this week. They were under escort of W. J. Finney, agent of the Oregon-Western Colonization Company and Mayor A. W. Trow, of Ontario.

Harney soon will be opened by the Oregon Eastern and will be the "granary of the West," with the advent of transportation facilities. Heretofore the Oregon-Western Colonization Company entered the Harney country through Bend, but the opening of the Oregon Eastern to its westward has made this new route preferable.

There has been some 800 homesteads and desert claims taken along the line of the new road and beyond the present terminals at Riverside the past year, indicating increased traffic for the road and improved lands in the two counties of Harney and Malheur.

FREE LYCEUM COURSE ON

Twin Falls Club Tries Out Innovation in Amusement Line.

TWIN FALLS, Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Twin Falls has put into operation an innovation in the way of a free lyceum course for the various communities of the Twin Falls tract. This was the idea of James McMillan, secretary of the Twin Falls Commercial Club.

Oregon Legislators Nos. 51, 52, 53, 54

Ben Selling, Representative-Elect of Multnomah; Arthur Langguth, Senator-Elect of Multnomah; Lloyd J. Wentworth, Representative-Elect of Multnomah, and Robert S. Farrell, Holdover Senator of Multnomah.

AMONG the prominent men selected by the people of Multnomah County to represent them in the lower house of the next Legislature is Ben Selling, who has been a leader for many years in civic, commercial, political and eleemosynary affairs.

Mr. Selling has been a resident of Portland for 22 years, and for 45 years he has found time, in the midst of his business, to give attention to public affairs and has served two terms in the State Senate.

Mr. Selling also is well known for his charitable deeds, and has been prominently identified with almost every movement for improvement of social conditions among the poor.

Mr. Selling received his early education in the public schools of Michigan and his legal training in the Detroit College of Law. He also worked for a time as reporter on the Detroit Journal.

Arthur Langguth, who has been elected to the State Senate from Multnomah County, is a native of Michigan. He has been a resident of Oregon, however, for nearly 12 years and has gained considerable prominence as a practicing attorney.

Mr. Langguth received his early education in the public schools of Michigan and his legal training in the Detroit College of Law. He also worked for a time as reporter on the Detroit Journal.

Lloyd J. Wentworth, manager of the Portland Lumber Company, is one of Multnomah County's representatives in the lower house of the Legislature. It is his first venture into public office, but he is well equipped to handle public affairs.

Mr. Wentworth is a native of Michigan and was born 42 years ago. He was educated in the public schools of his native state and in the University of Michigan. At the age of 22 he went to Minnesota, where he embarked in the lumber business.

Mr. Wentworth is a member of the Commercial Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Multnomah Club and a number of fraternal organizations. He served two terms in the lower house of the Legislature before his advancement to a seat in the Senate.

Robert S. Farrell, a member of the State Senate from Multnomah County, was elected in the Fall of 1912 for a four-year term. Mr. Farrell is 44 years of age, but has devoted 23 years of his life to an active business career.

He is best known, probably, as a member of the firm of Evering & Farrell, commission merchants. He also is connected with numerous other industrial and mercantile concerns, principal among them being the Pillar Rock Canning Company, the Alaska-Portland Canning Company and others devoted to the salmon industry.

Mr. Farrell is a member of the Commercial Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Multnomah Club and a number of fraternal organizations. He served two terms in the lower house of the Legislature before his advancement to a seat in the Senate.

OPERATOR OF FIRST PRUNE DRIER IN MARION COUNTY CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kurtz, who live on the River road near Salem, recently celebrated their golden wedding. More than 100 friends of the pair were present and a number of addresses by prominent residents of the county congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz upon their long and successful married life were made.

LEWIS-WILEY HYDRAULIC COMPANY HYDRAULIC CONTRACTORS. The Tide Is Turned

The NECESSITY which forced the owners of Westover Terraces to sacrifice any lot on the property at $3000 HAS BEEN MET!

Yesterday we were given orders that WESTOVER WOULD POSITIVELY BE WITHDRAWN FROM SALE AT $3000 DECEMBER 17, 1914. After that date the price will be $3500 and upwards.

In any SALE LIKE THIS many people BUY AT ONCE—others fully REALIZE THEY ARE GETTING A BARGAIN, but think they can wait till the end of the sale to buy. Hundreds who have selected sites on Westover told us they would buy before this sale was called off. IF YOU ARE ONE OF THEM, ACT AT ONCE—the $3000 price will positively be withdrawn on December 17, 1914.

After Dec. 17th Westover Terraces Will Be $3500 and Up

MALHEUR SEEKS AID

Oregon Irrigation Congress to Hear Pleas Soon.

OWYHEE PROJECT VITAL

Redemption of 20,000 Acres of Good Agricultural Land Important—Cost Placed at Low Figure—Financing Next Move.

Malheur County probably will ask the next Legislature for assistance in developing some of its irrigation projects, says J. R. Blackaby, president of the First National Bank of Ontario and vice-president of the Oregon Irrigation Congress in Portland.

Mr. Blackaby reports that Malheur will send a big delegation to the forthcoming session of the Irrigation Congress in Portland. A definite programme of legislation in which Malheur County is directly interested probably will be prepared at a meeting of delegates from that county preliminary to the main convention of irrigators on January 7, 8 and 9.

It is conceded that the people of Ontario, as well as those in other parts of Eastern Oregon, will ask the next Irrigation Congress for recommendations favoring development of the Owyhee project in Malheur County.

Owyhee Project Feasible. The Owyhee project has been under investigation by state and Federal authorities for many years. It has been pronounced one of the most feasible in the West. It is intended to redeem more than 20,000 acres of good agricultural land that now is only partially productive for dry farming purposes.

The plan provides for tapping the waters of the Owyhee River about 30 miles from the City of Ontario and building a ditch nearly 30 miles in length to a contact with the objective acreage. The probable cost, it is pointed out, will be comparatively light.

Previous sessions of the Irrigation Congress have recognized the feasibility of this enterprise, but a means of financing it has not yet been presented.

It is probable that the Malheur people will ask the Legislature for an appropriation or a bond issue. In that event an active campaign for such a measure will be conducted before the Legislature.

Irrigation Need Great. Mr. Blackaby points out that the need of irrigation in the extreme eastern part of the state is urgent. He declares further that in no place in the country has irrigation been more successful than in Malheur County. Scores of private irrigation enterprises now are operating with good results. There, he says, more than 40,000 acres in the immediate vicinity of Ontario are watered in this manner now. All kinds of agricultural and horticultural crops are produced.

"Malheur County is the premier corn county of Oregon," says Mr. Blackaby. "We had a corn show at Ontario this year that showed wondrous works. Our best representative acre produced 121 1/2 bushels. While that seems high, considering that the average yield of corn an acre in the United States is only 23 bushels, we had 35 exhibitors who produced an average of more than 85 bushels to the acre. We ship three or four carloads of hogs from Ontario to the Portland market every week. Most of this stock is matured on Malheur County alfalfa. These hogs are making some of our farmers rich."

Mr. Blackaby will be in Portland for several days.

WAYFARERS' INN POPULAR

Place Opened by Vancouver Ministers Houses 50 Men Out of Work.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—The Wayfarers' Inn at Third and Main streets, opened Thanksgiving by the Vancouver Ministerial Association and fraternal organizations of the city, and supported to a certain extent by the city, has proved unusually popular without any form of advertising, and last night the capacity of the place was taxed to give beds for 50 worthy men, nearly all of whom would be willing to work if able to find a job.

The building has been donated for use by Owen Mulligan, a retired capitalist, and numerous persons have given blankets, bedding, supplies and some money. Tickets good for a bath, bed, or meal, 5 cents per item, are being sold in all of the stores of the city and these will be given to those who apply at doors of people's homes, asking for work.

COTTAGE GROVE TO KEEP "DRY"

(Special.)—Cottage Grove is not going to be outcome when it comes to being "dry." Every physician in the city has signed an agreement not to issue prescriptions for intoxicating liquors and every drugstore in the city has signed another agreement not to sell such liquors.

Veterans to Install Camp.

LA GRANDE, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—A Grande Ronde camp of the United Spanish-American War Veterans will be installed in this city December 5, at which time department officers and a number of the members of Scout Young Camp, of Portland, are expected to be in attendance. The local camp now has a membership of 20 veterans.

COOS BAY SPAN GROWS

WILLAMETTE - PACIFIC CAISSON WORK PROGRESSES.

North Pier Foundation With Diameter of 35 Feet Is 90 Feet Deep—Water Traffic Passage Is 400 Feet.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—The Willamette-Pacific bridge that is to span Coos Bay is assuming an appearance of fast construction and the six preliminary caissons are prepared for the concrete work which was commenced November 23. The immense amount of work necessary before any material showing could be made accounts for the lack of impression the structure makes on an observer.

As an example of the scope, it is explained best in a description of what was necessary for the foundation for the north pier, one of the two from which the bridge will swing. Workmen drove piling for the foundation to a depth of 90 feet and completely filled a circle 75 feet in diameter. The muck, sand and earth was excavated below the bottom of the bay to a depth of 20 feet. This was then filled with concrete, and another 25 feet of the pier stands above the bottom of the bay at a height of the highest of the pier will be continued above high water to a height of 15 feet, making the concrete pier one of 35 feet in diameter and 90 feet from top to bottom.

The part of the bridge to be swung from this pier will open a 200-foot space in the channel and the same sized pier and swing will be constructed south of the channel, giving a passage for traffic of 400 feet.
