FIRST AUTHENTIC MOTION PICTURES OF GREAT WAR SHOWN NEXT SUNDAY

For the Benefit of Belgian Red Cross Fund and Portland Charity Funds The Oregonian Will Present Unparalleled Photographs in 4500 Feet of Film Divided Into Four Reels.

er; Red Cross workers helping the wounded; the rush of the refugees fleeing from the battle zone; burning buildings; buildings tossed into the air by bursting shells; broken bridges and bodies of dead soldiers and civilians piled in the roadway are caught in the films.

Practically all of the typical modern engines of warfare are shown in action. Woman Recognizes Relatives.

When the pictures were shown in Chicago, Mrs. Emma Maartens startled the audience at one of the shows, recognizing in one of the crowds of refugees caught on the films her sister

The burning of Antwerp is one of the striking and impressive scenes that close the remarkable series of war pictures.

Seats for the productions will be 25 cents and will go on sale at the busi-ness office of The Oregonian and at the Heilig Theater, Friday, December II, at noon. The Heilig Theater has extended every courtesy to The Oregonian in arranging a special rate for the theater for this great production in behaif of charity.

The first show will begin at 6 o'clock, Sunday, December 13, No show will be given Monday and Tuesday because of previous bookings in the theater. On Wednesday and Thursday the pictures will be run from 12 o'clock, ngon, to 11 o'clock P. M. On Friday they will be shown from noon till 6 o'clock. The McCormack performance will be held that evening. and on Saturday the war films again will have the theater from noon to 11

"These are the real war pictures!" exclaimed Theadore Phillip, in Chicago, formerly on the staff of a German paper, when the films were first exhib-ited in Chicago before a selected

They are the only real war pictures that have been shown thus far," sup-plemented Major M. L. C. Frankhouser at the same time. Major Frankhouser said that the majority of the war pic-tures, so-called, that have been shown thus far either have been mere maneuver pictures captioned as "war pictures," or have shown nothing of pictures," or have shown nothing of the real action at the battlefront.

The films were shown in Washing-ten, D. C., before many of the military men in that city, and were pronounced

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE FREWING.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Frewing, 291 East Fifty-first street, was the scene of a surprise party Tuesday evening, December 1, when a large group of relatives and friends gathered to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frewing.

A dinner was served and musical selections were given. Mr. and Mrs. Frewing received many gifts.

Mr. Frewing received many gifts.

Mr. Frewing and Miss Mary Sumpton were married in Histon, Middlesex, England, in 1854, coming to America six years later. They came to Oregon in 1879, making their home on a farm in Washington County, near Tikard, until 1911, when they moved to their present home. Of nine children, five are living, all of whom, with 15 grand-children, were present to celebrate the golden wedding.

CITY NOW HAS $1,289,376 Total of Standing Funds Given in Semi-Monthly Report.

The city has a total of $1,289,376.53 on hand in the various standing funds, according to the semi-monthly financial statement issued yesterday by City Treasurer Adams.

Auto Truck Runs Down Mounted.

Patrolman, Throwing Horse.

Running his delivery automobile into Mounted Patrolman Short at East Twelfth and East Madison streets last night, Harry Turner, a driver for Mace's Market, discovered the shortest possible route to the City Jail.

Short reported that he was riding north on East Twelfth street when the accident occurred. He heard the machine coming up behind him, he says, but paid no attention.

Suddenly, he says, his horse was knocked down and himself sent rolling along the street for 40 feet.

Turner was released on $50 bail. Short was badly bruised but not seriously injured. The horse was skinned badly.
