

never more than town distant from Studebaker Service

THE automobile owner has the right to demand service—and prompt service, honest service, economical service.

You could never hope to get the Studebaker type of service with the source of supplies a thousand miles away.

You must have the source of supplies, the executive headquarters—THE COMPANY ITSELF within prompt and convenient driving, telephoning and transportation distance—within your own state if possible.

And Studebaker is continually subdividing its selling territory—either under a Branch, a Distributor or direct from the factory. It seeks direct representatives in every hamlet and township in the Northwest in order that its Service may be still more comprehensive. If this message should reach a dealer or garage owner in a small town where Studebaker does not happen to be represented, if there is such a town, he is invited to write to the Branch at Portland NOW. If he can measure up to the Studebaker Service standards he can be assured of a permanent and profitable business proposition from Studebaker, the oldest, best known, and one of the largest manufacturers of motor cars in the world. By writing to the Portland Branch you may obtain Studebaker's motor car merchandising book "How to Make Money Selling Motor Cars." And better than this—it is well worth your while to take a trip to Portland to investigate thoroughly the HOME OF STUDEBAKER.

Studebaker has a Factory Branch in Portland

IF necessary complete Studebaker cars could be assembled in this Branch. Studebaker carries $1,000,000 worth of parts in its branches. It maintains a large force of automobile experts under this Branch—part of the Studebaker factory is literally located in Portland.

Studebaker has a wonderful organization of dealers, operating not only under the Portland Branch—but all over the United States—drive across country in your Studebaker from British Columbia to Mexico, from Maine to California, and you will never be more than "town distant" from Studebaker Service. "Because it is a Studebaker" is not an empty phrase.

THE STUDEBAKER CORPORATION OF AMERICA PORTLAND BRANCH, CHAPMAN AND ALDER ST., PORTLAND, OREGON.

CHEESE TO BE SHOW

Oregon Butter Exhibits Due, Too, at Big Convention.

SILVER TROPHIES OFFERED

State-makers' Association to Meet Here December 9 to 12 With Programme of Note for Session With Stock Exposition.

Keen competition is expected at the 1914 annual convention and show of the Oregon Butter and Cheese Makers' Association, which will be held in Portland, December 9 to 12. The meetings will be at the Imperial Hotel and the Company's showrooms in connection with the Pacific Livestock Exposition at North Portland.

Butter makers are preparing exhibits in an endeavor to capture two silver cups, the $50 trophy offered by the Vermont Farm Machine Company, and the $100 cup offered by the Rural Spirit.

Cheese manufacturers will compete for the J. E. Ford trophy and several special prizes. In addition to these, there will be special offerings for exhibits. According to the rules for the exposition, competition is open to Oregon makers only. All butter entered must be in two-pound squares, in plain wrappers and exhibits must be not less than six squares.

Cheese entries are limited to 20-pound packages, and must be American grade, without marks of identification. No entry fee will be required. The railroads have offered one and one-third fare rates during the meeting.

The programme opens Wednesday morning, December 9, at the lecture-room of the Union Meat Company, and is as follows:

- Address of welcome, O. M. Plummer, Portland.
Response, annual address, President Chris Myhre, Junction City.
"Creamery and Cheese Factory Sanitation," L. E. Ziemer, Portland.
"Dairying in Coos County," Charles T. Skeels, Coquille.
"Quality of Cream," L. F. Holgersen, Junction City.
Wednesday, December 9, 3 P. M.—"Cream Grading," J. W. Bickford, Elgin.
"Echoes From the National Dairy Show," M. S. Shrock, Portland.
"Marketing Suggestions," C. C. Van Houten, Washington.
"Creameary Association, Seattle, Wash.," ten-minute talks by managers: Albany creamery, F. C. Fatio; Ashland creamery, D. Perenzi; Branded creamery, C. A. Brandes; Corvallis creamery, H. W. Kaeppel; Damascus creamery, Peter Vetch; Farmers' creamery, B. B. Cortis; Hazelwood Cream Creamery, Carl Schallinger; Independence creamery, K. C.

Elidridge; Northwest Butter & Produce Company, Walter Ely; Portland Pure Milk & Cream Company, Robert Ireland; Superior creamery, T. A. Johnston; Sunset creamery, J. H. Norris; Townsend creamery, T. H. Townsend; Union Meat Company, A. H. Lea; Tillamook Cheese Association, F. W. Christensen.
Wednesday, December 9, 3 P. M., room 208 Imperial Hotel—"Buttermakers' Problems," discussion led by G. B. Neptune; music, Buttermakers' Quartet.
Thursday, December 10, 10 A. M.—"Educational Scoring Contests," Professor O. G. Simpson, Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis; "Cream From Farm to Factory," C. W. Sly, Eugene; "Moisture, Salt and Acidity Tests," O. B. Neptune, Albany; "Cheese Making in Curry County," Dr. J. H. Westerbe, Langlois.
Thursday, December 10, 1:30 P. M.—Report of secretary-treasurer, election of officers; announcement of scores; address, "Defects in Butter," G. E. Prevert, United States dairy division.
Thursday, December 10, 3 P. M.—Commercial Club banquet, Portland Commercial Club.
Friday, December 11, 9 A. M.—Inspection of city creameries.

OREGON PIONEER PASSES

Body of William H. Foss, 81, Taken to Salem for Interment.

William H. Foss, an Oregon pioneer, died at his home in this city November 30. He was born in Iowa May 7, 1833. The funeral was held at the undertaking establishment of J. P. Finley & Son, December 5, and the body was taken to Salem for interment.

The services were conducted by Rev. O. P. Burrin, of the Rodney-Avenue Christian Church. Mr. Foss is survived by three sons and two daughters.

BODY IN LAST REST

Late Professor Warren Laid in New Mausoleum.

LIFE ONE OF SERVICE

Interests in Philanthropy and All Forms of Church Work Keen and Impression Lastingly Made on Minds of Friends.

The handsome mausoleum has been erected to his memory by friends, and is an impressive testimonial of the esteem in which he was held.
Western Trip Early Taken.
Professor Warren was born in Bath, N. Y., endowed with a sturdy physique that enabled him to endure many hardships in the educational work of the early seventies. Professor Warren came fresh from college at the age of 22 to take up his work in the West.
He taught for a short time in Clatsop County, when he was called to the public school work of this city. After several years of successful work, he accepted the presidency of Albany College. From Albany College he came to Portland, and was elected principal of the only high school then in this city. He occupied this responsible position for several years, when he resigned to enter a business life, engaging in realty work.
Professor Warren was a devout Christian and was always found in his pew for the Sunday services, and at the mid-week prayer meeting, in which he loved to take part. He held the official position of elder in the First Presbyterian Church for more than 40 years and during that time served as delegate to presbytery, synod and general assembly.
Religious Poems Written.
Much of his thought found expression in prose and poetry. The following poem, "The Risen Savior," was composed by Professor Warren and was sung as a baritone solo at the First Presbyterian Church by Dom J. Zan on March 31, 1907:
Majestic, He arose,
From calm, divine repose.

The handsome mausoleum has been erected to his memory by friends, and is an impressive testimonial of the esteem in which he was held.

Western Trip Early Taken. Professor Warren was born in Bath, N. Y., endowed with a sturdy physique that enabled him to endure many hardships in the educational work of the early seventies.

He taught for a short time in Clatsop County, when he was called to the public school work of this city. After several years of successful work, he accepted the presidency of Albany College. From Albany College he came to Portland, and was elected principal of the only high school then in this city.

He occupied this responsible position for several years, when he resigned to enter a business life, engaging in realty work. Professor Warren was a devout Christian and was always found in his pew for the Sunday services, and at the mid-week prayer meeting, in which he loved to take part.

He held the official position of elder in the First Presbyterian Church for more than 40 years and during that time served as delegate to presbytery, synod and general assembly. Much of his thought found expression in prose and poetry.

When night dissolved to first glad Easter-day,
Earth trembled, glory shone,
Rolled back the ponderous stone,
And keepers, awe-struck, fell in dread dismay.

Then forth from rockbound tomb,
Eratwhile involved in gloom,
Victorious, walked the Savior of the world;
And stood sublime—with eyes
Upturned to song-rapt skies,
While Satan's vanquished hosts their banners furled.

Where, Death, thy stinging pain?
Where now, thy haughty reign?
Thanks be to God, through Christ, our victor,
Thou art slain!
Then hail, the Victor-King!
Let strains triumphant ring!
He lives! He reigns! And man with God is one.

The last public service rendered by Professor Warren was enjoyed by the Adult Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church. In appreciation of his helpfulness, the full class membership united in fitting up a room at the Men's Resort, called the Warren room.

YOUNG GIRL ACCUSES MAN

Head of Family on Trial With 14-Year-Old as Complainant.

KALAMA, Wash., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Mr. Swofford, bookkeeper for the Collins Lumber Company at Ostrander, is on trial in the Superior Court here accused of a statutory offense against 14-year-old Elizabeth Root.

The defendant, who has a wife and two little children, has been studying for the ministry and only recently was acquitted at a church trial on information filed by the County Attorney.

The girl's father is dead and her mother an invalid. Swofford admits having been in the woods at the time charged in the complaint, but denies having met the girl there.

COHEN CASE CALLED AGAIN

Habeas Corpus Argument to Be Made for Portland Attorney.

United States District Attorney Reames will leave tonight for Tacoma, where tomorrow he will argue against the motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Max G. Cohen, under sentence at McNeil Island for subornation of perjury. Cohen will be represented by Thomas Mannix, of Portland, who recently was shown in Cohen's trial that he had persuaded Esther Wood to testify falsely in a white slave case in which her husband was defendant. Cohen's contention is that he is guilty.

You Cannot Carry Water in a Sieve, nor can you carry the tone and quality of different pianos in your mind while going from one store to another. At Eilers you can find over 40 of the world's leading makes side by side under the same roof. You can compare them point by point, and actually judge which suits you best. The manager of our tuning department will be glad to assist you with his expert advice. Read our ad on page 13, section 1, this paper.—Adv.

CUPID BUSY AT CITY HALL

Pretty Stenographer and Fire Captain Latest Victims.

Cupid, who has been working overtime at the City Hall during the past few months, has speared another victim. Announcement was made yesterday that Iva Olmstead, one of the pretty young stenographers in the City Auditor's office, is to become the bride of Edward Grenfell, a captain and formerly Acting Battalion Chief of the Fire Bureau. The wedding will take place in April.

Miss Olmstead has been in the city service several years. Captain Grenfell is one of the best-known members of the Fire Bureau. He is captain of the engine company at East Third and Pine streets.

Jistokishas, rubber tired, with ball bearing and nickel-plated wheels, are popular.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY advertisement for North Coast Limited Atlantic Express, featuring routes to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, and St. Louis. Includes details about service, fares, and contact information.

IMPRESSIVE RESTING PLACE OF LATE PROFESSOR ROYAL K. WARREN, OF PORTLAND.