METHODIST MINISTERS WILL BEGIN BUSY WEEK TOMORROW

All of Denomination to Join in Sessions at Twelfth and Taylor Street Church—Watch Service Is on Programme for Thursday.

N THE First Methodist Episcopal Church, Twelfth and Taylor streets, beginning tomorrow night and continuing all week, megtings will be held, in which all the Methodist churches of the city will unite and in which all the ministers of this denomination will participate. On Thursday night there will be a watch service. The Rev. R. J. Cooke, bishop of the diocese, will preside at all these gatherings. All who are interested will be welcomed and there will be no denominational line drawn. They are to be year-end services, prayerful, helpful, with the spirit of friendliness emphasized. They are not of the old style revival type, but doubtless will serve a purpose that will be of great strength for the church. Plans for big revival services, in which 11 of the evangelistic churches of the East Side will participate, are going on rapidly and are near perfection. These services will be conducted by Rev. E. J. Bulgin, the evangelistic who arrived in Portland last Thursday morning and who will speak today services are the speaker is one of international retails.

sociation. A large attendance at this afternoon's meeting is anticipated, as the speaker is one of international renown. By some authorities he is ranked with Billy Sunday and is compared favorably with the late Dwight L. Moody.

There will be Christmas services to-day in some of the churches and the musical programmes will be exception-ally fine. The choirs have worked diligently to prepare programmes that will be artistle triumphs. A high stand-ard for sermens and song service has been set and Portland ranks among the highest in this respect.

Edwin Hubbell Chapin, the matchless orator of the Fourth Universalist Church, of the Fourth Universalist Church, of the Kourch, Broadway and East Twenty-fourth street, this morning at 10:30.

Besides giving wonderful impetus to the largest and most spiritual religious truth, Dr. Chapin inspired his people to found a Home for the Aged, which is fittingly known as the "Chapin Home." A hundred or more men and women find a delightful home there in Greater New York. While founded and supported by the Universalist Church, its doors are open to people of every faith. The motto of the home is a sentiment of Dr. Chapin, "Not what is your creed, but what is your need." How truly universal it is may be seen from the fact that besides Universalists there are Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Episcopallans, Christmastide was that held by the First Universalist Sunday school

PLACE OF RELIGIOUS INTER-EST AND MEN LEADERS IN CHURCH AFFAIRS.

The Methodist Church is celebrating the 101st anniversary of its foundation this year and it was in a little "shack" at Morris-ville, N. J., that the church had ville, N. J., that the church had-its beginning. This was used as a place of worship for many years. Then a new building was erected and in later years a mod-ern church was built. But the old first church is still a place of nligrimage.

entertainments generally given with-out being crowded out. Provisions of great variety were brought and distributed to families "near home." cantala will be repeated on tomorrov evening. Some of the Christmas musiwill be repeated on Sunday, and Rev. E. S. Bollinger, the pastor, will preach on "The God That Binds the Years," and "The I Don't Care and 1915."

Tonight in the Third Presbyterian Church the chorus choir of 30 voices directed by E. Maldwyn Evans will render the cantata, "Morn of Glory." The solos will be given by Mrs. L. M. Leland, Miss Sarah Edwards, Miss Matheson, E. Trevor Jones and Mr. Evans. Miss Evelyn Ewart will pre-side at the organ and Miss Roxanna Womelsdorf will be violinist. Last Sunday a carol service was given with fine effect.

The first Sunday school entertainment in the new Piedmont Presbyterian Church was held on Wednesday evening. A good programme was rendered by the children, who had been carefully drilled for the occasion, and in which the Christmas tree formed a prominent feature. Santa Claus, the North Wind, Jack Frost, elves and fairles, each in appropriate costume, made proceedings lively and left the little folks on tip-toe of excitement. Some good singing was heard from Santa Claus, the North Wind, and especially from Jack Frost. Parents and friends crowded the room and, as usual, the minister, Rev. J. Snyder, presided at the distribution of the good things.

The Christmas entertainment of the First Christian Church was held Tuesday evening at the church, Park and Columbia streets. RICH WOMEN DENOUNCED er shame that the money they have taken in this manner they have law-ished in extravagance and waste.

"There is no fairness in the average business man in dealing with his fem-inine employe. He gets her for as low a wage as her necessities compel her to accept, works her for as many hours as she may endure and makes as much profit out of her as he possibly can without humane considerations.
"The working women themselves are largely to biame. They have accepted these conditions and pretended to be satisfied with them in order to get employment and gain the favor of those who exploit them. There should be a compulsory minimum wage law for every female laborer, whether she be in the factory, the store or the home."

ITCHED AND BURNED INTENSELY

Breaking Out Covered Whole Body. Came in Pimples, Clothes Irritated. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Healed.

2623 Stout St., Denver, Colo .-- "The breaking out started on my mother's back. Later it covered her whole body and caused intense burning and itching. It first came in pimples and later became rough and Itchy. The flesh then hardened. It was so itchy that she scratched and caused it to spread. Her clothes irritated the break-ing out; she could wear only silk garmenta. She got neither sleep nor rest. The eruption was also on her face and caused disfigurement. "She tried everything that was prescribed, but there was no relief. Then she began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they gave her relief at once. It lasted two weeks after she began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment and then she was healed."
