

ON RECALL FRAUD

Grand Jury Ends 90-Day Session, Having Returned 117 True, 47 Not True Bills.

WIDE INVESTIGATION MADE

County Officials Lauded for Conscientiousness and Institutions Commended, but Need of Hospital Emphasized.

Seven secret indictments in connection with alleged frauds in circulating petitions for the recall of Mayor Albee and Commissioner Dieck and Brewster were returned by the grand jury yesterday.

Fourteen other true bills, two of which are secret, and six not true bills were returned by the October grand jury, which made its report to the Circuit Court and was discharged by Judge Morrow.

In its report the grand jury strongly urges the construction of a new and more commodious county hospital, reiterating the recommendations made to the budget committee on December 3.

District Attorney's Office Praised. An open letter to the public, giving high praise to the conduct of District Attorney Evans' office and of Deputy District Attorney Hindman, who was assigned to grand jury cases, was another feature of the closing day of the long term.

Among the open indictments returned were two against A. L. Killman and John A. Killman, of Lents, for assault with a dangerous weapon. One of the Killmans shot and seriously injured Claude Rinehart. The shooting followed the attempted suicide of Miss Ethel Killman last month.

A. M. Brunwick, an attorney, was indicted for embezzlement for alleged misappropriation of funds which he had collected for a client.

John Solasky and Joe Dedonsky were indicted for malicious destruction of property for cutting down a telegraph pole. The men said they cut down the pole to get into jail, where they hoped to spend the winter. They are said to have remarked that if they were released they would cut down another pole to get back into jail again.

James Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold were indicted for receiving $150 from a woman who had befriended Mrs. Arndt. The two men were also indicted for forgery.

Harry Fulcher, Jesse Vayngard and Robert Wilson were indicted for assault and robbery and Joe Bernardo for threat to commit a felony.

Not true bills were returned against the following: C. J. Dean, conducting an indecent and immoral act by running a so-called "museum for men" at Second and Morrison streets; Harold Burns for stealing an automobile; D. B. Porter, of Linton, for contributing to the delinquency of a minor; M. Gillmore, of Roseburg, for receiving stolen goods; and George Hines, for larceny.

Following is the report of the grand jury to the Circuit Court: "We have examined 117 true bills and 47 not true bills and have examined 602 witnesses and have referred two cases for the consideration of the grand jury and the grand jury has completed all business that has been brought before us for attention.

The grand jury made a careful inspection of the jail and found it to be kept in a very excellent condition. The corridors and cells are provided with an abundance of fresh air and everything about the institution seemed to be clean and sanitary. We also made a careful inspection of the food being served and found it to be of the best. The kitchen was clean and sanitary and it is possible to make them and we could find nothing about the institution to criticize. In fact, we feel justified in saying that the officers in charge are performing their full duties and we feel that it is only just to compliment them on the manner of their performance of their duties.

"Our visit to the County Poor Farm satisfied us that Multnomah County has a model institution of this character. We made a careful inspection of every part of this institution and found to our satisfaction that all things were in the very best condition. We went to both the male and female inmates, many in private, as to their treatment, and failed to find a single person who had a word of complaint. In fact, all claimed to be satisfied. In fact, all content and each person had a good word to say of the management.

"After a careful inspection of the Frazier Detention Home, we can unqualifiedly commend those in charge of said home for their efficiency in the management of this institution. We believe, however, that the south end of the attic should be finished and a dormitory for the larger boys who are under detention. To this end we think that part of the attic should be properly ceiled and finished and the dormitory installed. The repairs that are being made are entirely necessary and we commend the authorities for their promptness in that respect.

"Our visit to the County Poor Farm satisfied us that Multnomah County has a model institution of this character. We made a careful inspection of every part of this institution and found to our satisfaction that all things were in the very best condition. We went to both the male and female inmates, many in private, as to their treatment, and failed to find a single person who had a word of complaint. In fact, all claimed to be satisfied. In fact, all content and each person had a good word to say of the management.

"After a careful inspection of the Frazier Detention Home, we can unqualifiedly commend those in charge of said home for their efficiency in the management of this institution. We believe, however, that the south end of the attic should be finished and a dormitory for the larger boys who are under detention. To this end we think that part of the attic should be properly ceiled and finished and the dormitory installed. The repairs that are being made are entirely necessary and we commend the authorities for their promptness in that respect.

"Our visit to the County Poor Farm satisfied us that Multnomah County has a model institution of this character. We made a careful inspection of every part of this institution and found to our satisfaction that all things were in the very best condition. We went to both the male and female inmates, many in private, as to their treatment, and failed to find a single person who had a word of complaint. In fact, all claimed to be satisfied. In fact, all content and each person had a good word to say of the management.

PORTLAND HOTEL MANAGER RESIGNS

G. J. Kaufmann, Head of Caravanary for Eight Years, to Take Long Rest.

FIRM EXPRESSES REGRET

Boniface and Graduate Railroader Likely to Open High-Class Dry Cafe Here After Vacation.

G. J. Kaufmann, who for the last eight years has been manager and secretary of the Portland Hotel Company, has resigned that position.

Mr. Kaufmann will leave Portland for a three months' vacation, part of which will be passed in the Panama Canal Zone.

Mr. Kaufmann resigned last November, but, on request of the stockholders and directors of the Portland Hotel Company, withheld the resignation until this time. He had originally planned to go East and accompany the party of the Great Northern, the first of the Great Northern Pacific steamship company on the trip to the mouth of the Columbia prior to starting the fast steamship service between Astoria and San Francisco.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

PORTLAND HOTEL MANAGER RESIGNS

G. J. Kaufmann, Head of Caravanary for Eight Years, to Take Long Rest.

FIRM EXPRESSES REGRET

Boniface and Graduate Railroader Likely to Open High-Class Dry Cafe Here After Vacation.

G. J. Kaufmann, who for the last eight years has been manager and secretary of the Portland Hotel Company, has resigned that position.

Mr. Kaufmann will leave Portland for a three months' vacation, part of which will be passed in the Panama Canal Zone.

Mr. Kaufmann resigned last November, but, on request of the stockholders and directors of the Portland Hotel Company, withheld the resignation until this time. He had originally planned to go East and accompany the party of the Great Northern, the first of the Great Northern Pacific steamship company on the trip to the mouth of the Columbia prior to starting the fast steamship service between Astoria and San Francisco.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

PORTLAND HOTEL MANAGER RESIGNS

G. J. Kaufmann, Head of Caravanary for Eight Years, to Take Long Rest.

FIRM EXPRESSES REGRET

Boniface and Graduate Railroader Likely to Open High-Class Dry Cafe Here After Vacation.

G. J. Kaufmann, who for the last eight years has been manager and secretary of the Portland Hotel Company, has resigned that position.

Mr. Kaufmann will leave Portland for a three months' vacation, part of which will be passed in the Panama Canal Zone.

Mr. Kaufmann resigned last November, but, on request of the stockholders and directors of the Portland Hotel Company, withheld the resignation until this time. He had originally planned to go East and accompany the party of the Great Northern, the first of the Great Northern Pacific steamship company on the trip to the mouth of the Columbia prior to starting the fast steamship service between Astoria and San Francisco.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

PORTLAND HOTEL MANAGER RESIGNS

G. J. Kaufmann, Head of Caravanary for Eight Years, to Take Long Rest.

FIRM EXPRESSES REGRET

Boniface and Graduate Railroader Likely to Open High-Class Dry Cafe Here After Vacation.

G. J. Kaufmann, who for the last eight years has been manager and secretary of the Portland Hotel Company, has resigned that position.

Mr. Kaufmann will leave Portland for a three months' vacation, part of which will be passed in the Panama Canal Zone.

Mr. Kaufmann resigned last November, but, on request of the stockholders and directors of the Portland Hotel Company, withheld the resignation until this time. He had originally planned to go East and accompany the party of the Great Northern, the first of the Great Northern Pacific steamship company on the trip to the mouth of the Columbia prior to starting the fast steamship service between Astoria and San Francisco.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Mr. Kaufmann became affiliated with the Portland Hotel in 1907 through H. L. Corbett, J. W. Newkirk and others associated with the First National Bank, which was then secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann took hold, and following the departure of H. C. Bowers as manager of the Portland Hotel, Mr. Kaufmann assumed the double duties of general manager and secretary of the corporation and house manager.

Mr. Kaufmann was interested in making the trip, as for 23 years before becoming identified with the Portland Hotel he had been in active railroad business, having risen from the ranks, his first "position" having been that of messenger boy for the old Union Pacific.

The officers and directors of the Portland Hotel recently adopted resolutions regretting the leave taking of Mr. Kaufmann, and Vice-President Edward Boice and H. L. Day, one of the directors, now acting in the stead of possible successors in the endeavor to select a man capable of taking Mr. Kaufmann's place.

Gill's Annual Clearance Sale

Books Sacrificed to Close Out. Gill's Annual Clearance Sale presents innumerable money-saving opportunities. While the book items predominate below, it is not to be considered that in this department alone are savings to be found, for every section offers its quota of bargains.

The Century Dictionary and Encyclopaedia At Nearly 50 Per Cent Discount

By special arrangement we offer this magnificent reference work at the following prices. These reductions are rare, indeed, and it will pay you well to make your purchase early before the supply is exhausted.

$3.00 Cloth Set, special, $25.00; $5.00 Three-quarter Morocco Ed., $37.50; $7.50 Full Morocco Ed., $50.00; $8.00 One-half Pigskin Ed., special, $55.00.

Fine Library Editions Reduced

All new and perfect books, save when noted. Your satisfaction guaranteed in every instance or your money refunded. Mail orders filled at these rates as long as stock lasts.

Table listing various books and their prices, including titles like 'The Century Dictionary', 'The Encyclopaedia', and 'The Bible'.

Children's Books Reduced 20 to 25 Per Cent

All Bibles and Testaments Reduced 25 Per Cent.

Second Floor Money-Saving Opportunities

Calendars at Special Prices—Broken Lines of Stationery in Half—Boxes at Reduced Prices—Leather Handbags One-Third Off—Leather Briefcases One-Fourth Off—All Other Gifts—Bazar Lines at Special Reductions—Second Floor.

Gill's

The J. K. Gill Co. Booksellers, Stationers, and Complete Office Outfitters. Third and Alder.

MURDER AFTER FUNERAL

BARE IS BURIED, THEN MAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF. Frank Larue, Garage Keeper, of Condon, Or., Murderer and Suicide at Lewiston, Jury Declares.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The bodies of Frank Larue and his wife, a bullet hole in the right temple of each were found here today in the apartments of Sullivan. At the coroner's inquest this afternoon the jury returned a verdict that Larue had shot his wife in the night with a .22-caliber revolver, and then committed suicide.

The funeral of the 3-months-old child of the Larues was held yesterday. The body of Mrs. Larue was completely intact and its posture indicated that she was murdered while she knelt at the bedside. Larue's body was lying on the bed and a revolver was found within seven inches of his hand.

At the coroner's inquest it was testified that Larue was cruel to his wife and child and had often tortured Mrs. Larue by pulling her hair and burning her with a hot poker. He had threatened many times to kill his wife and baby, times ago to make their home at Condon, Or., where Larue was manager of the Wheat City Garage. Three weeks ago Mrs. Larue and her baby returned to Lewiston and lived at the home of her mother, Mrs. O. W. Travis. A week ago Larue followed her here and engaged a room at the residence of Mrs. Mary L. Sullivan at 1322 Main street.

After the baby's funeral yesterday Larue called at his wife's room and related to her the details of the murder. When Mrs. Sullivan opened the door at noon today she found the two bodies.

1133 of School Age in District. McMinnville, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—A report by the Clark County superintendent of schools for the McMinnville and adjacent territory, fixes persons of school age at 1133. This is a gain of only one over last year, when this district became first class.

DEPARTMENT MANAGER GOES TO NEW FIRM. Henry Jenning & Sons, furniture dealers, who have just moved to their new building at Fifth and Washington streets, have secured the services of W. Dorres as manager of their carpet department. Mr. Dorres is well known in Portland, as he for some time has been in charge of the carpet department of Meier & Frank, later becoming a member of the firm of Gelsler & Dorres. He was called to his present position by Gelsler & Dorres, who have made an extended trip to Eastern carpet centers.

2 BURGLARIES REPORTED. Gladstone Residence and Barton Postoffice Entered.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The residence of Miss Eva Mountain on Perry Ridge, near Gladstone, was burglarized last night and two watches, a ring and a Coits' automatic revolver stolen. The same party, it is believed, entered the Barton postoffice, where they also stole a watch and a bottle of milk.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yergen. AURORA, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—More than 100 guests gathered here yesterday for the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yergen. Cards and dancing prevailed until late in the afternoon when the guests were served. The dinner was given by the Pythian Hall where music, cards, dancing and readings entertained them.

A. J. ZUMWALT IS DEAD. Oregon Pioneer of 1851 Succumbs to Pneumonia at Age of 82.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—A. J. Zumwalt, pioneer, and member of the Oregon Legislature in 1856, died today at his farm near Irving, five miles north of Eugene. Death, occurring at the age of 82 years, followed an attack of pneumonia which he contracted from a cold. A. J. Zumwalt was one of 11 children of Solomon and Nancy Zumwalt, pioneers, from whom have sprung 150 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, now living in Lane County.

FARNUM JURY INQUIRES

DELIBERATES AFTER TWO HOURS SEEK FURTHER INSTRUCTION. Roseburg Opinion is that Second Trial Also Will Record Disagreement. Defender Talks Two Hours.

ROSEBURG, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The jury in the second trial of Roy Farnum, charged with a statutory crime against 15-year-old Edna Morgan, of Glendale, retired for the night at 10 o'clock this afternoon. At 5:30 o'clock the jury sent for Judge Hamilton, asked for further instructions concerning reasonable doubt, and the jury returned at 10 o'clock this afternoon. At 11 o'clock the jury returned at 11 o'clock this afternoon.

The instructions of Judge Hamilton were about the same as delivered by him at the former trial. The second day of Farnum began Tuesday. Farnum's arrest and indictment on a statutory charge followed the discovery of Edna Morgan's body at 2 o'clock this afternoon. At 5:30 o'clock the jury sent for Judge Hamilton, asked for further instructions concerning reasonable doubt, and the jury returned at 10 o'clock this afternoon.

LEBANON "KIDS" SEE FILM. Many Are Guests of Mayor on New Year's and Four Travel Six Miles.

LEBANON, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—Every child in Lebanon probably attended the moving picture show on New Year's day as the guest of Mayor Corlier.

One woman came six miles with four children from 4 to 10 years of age, none of whom ever had seen a moving picture. The children were not only frightened but were almost frightened to death by the sight of the thrilling railroad accident in "The Trey o' Hearts."

SALMON PACK RUNS HIGH. More Than 6,000,000 Cases Estimated With Export Demand Brisk.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 2.—The salmon pack of 1914 for Alaska, Puget Sound, British Columbia and the Columbia and other Northwestern rivers is estimated at 6,310,000 cases.

AURORA COUPLE CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yergen. AURORA, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—More than 100 guests gathered here yesterday for the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yergen. Cards and dancing prevailed until late in the afternoon when the guests were served. The dinner was given by the Pythian Hall where music, cards, dancing and readings entertained them.

A. J. ZUMWALT IS DEAD. Oregon Pioneer of 1851 Succumbs to Pneumonia at Age of 82.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—A. J. Zumwalt, pioneer, and member of the Oregon Legislature in 1856, died today at his farm near Irving, five miles north of Eugene. Death, occurring at the age of 82 years, followed an attack of pneumonia which he contracted from a cold. A. J. Zumwalt was one of 11 children of Solomon and Nancy Zumwalt, pioneers, from whom have sprung 150 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, now living in Lane County.

GERMANS REPORT GAINS IN POLAND

Attacks Declared to Have Made Progress East of Vistula's Tributaries.

BERLIN, Jan. 2. via London.—The German Army Office issued the following statement today: "The eastern front is reported from the eastern Prussian frontier is unchanged. 'East of the Vistula River our attacks have progressed under somewhat more favorable weather conditions. In Poland to the east of the Pilica River there have been no changes in the situation.'"

RUSSIA HAS PLenty OF MEN, Says Army Officer, but Lacks Material of Every Kind—Russians Tell Defeat of Austrians.

BERLIN, Jan. 2. via London.—The German Army Office issued the following statement today: "The eastern front is reported from the eastern Prussian frontier is unchanged. 'East of the Vistula River our attacks have progressed under somewhat more favorable weather conditions. In Poland to the east of the Pilica River there have been no changes in the situation.'"

FORESTER TRACES FIRES. BIENNIAL REPORT SAYS HAZARD IS IN DISPOSAL OF SLASH.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—In his biennial