

HERE BUSINESS NOT CRIME IN BUSINESS

Court Enjoins Trade Boycott Practice, but Refuses to Dissolve Watch Concern.

FUTURE ACTION POSSIBLE

Absorption of Other Concerns Not in Itself Harmful to Community, but Tribunal Retains Power to Check Abuses.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—The United States District Court decided today that the Keystone Watchcase Company is not a combination in violation of the Federal anti-trust law, but declared that its alleged policy of boycotting is a direct violation of the law and should be enjoined.

After it was organized the Keystone Company absorbed several large watchcase manufacturing concerns in various parts of the country, and also took over the company which makes a certain watch of wide reputation. The court in its decision said that there was nothing unlawful in the operation of the Keystone Company and that it had not acquired plants by improper methods.

Trade Boycott Illegal. The court declared, however, that it found evidence that the company showed a "definite purpose to restrain trade by attempting to fix and maintain prices by using a species of boycott or blacklisting, in order to keep the trade of the country." In 1913, the court said, the company issued a circular to its customers fixing certain prices of the several varieties of cases it manufactured and also of a certain watch, the making of which it controlled.

The company, according to the circular, reserved the right to refuse to sell goods to others if its rules regarding prices were violated. The court declared that this circular "was not a request, but a real menace from a strong manufacturer" and "a direct and unlawful restraint of trade."

More Size Not Considered. With regard to the watch it controlled the court declared that the certain patent rights the Keystone Company had the right to make an agreement with jobbers whereby a minimum price was fixed at which the jobber might sell, but it had no right to control the retailers' price.

On the subject of the lawfulness of the company's absorption of other concerns the court says: "We think it no more than reasonable to say that when a large business has proved itself to be beneficial and not harmful to the community it should not be condemned because it is large."

"But," the court adds, "in case conditions in the future should make it desirable for the Government to ask for additional relief, even to the point of breaking up the defendant corporation, we shall retain jurisdiction of the bill, with leave to the Government to take such action hereafter as may seem appropriate."

LITERACY TEST IS PASSED

The President by the middle of next week. Among Senate amendments which House leaders have said probably would be accepted is one to exclude from the United States all persons of the African race or of negro blood. Another strengthens the phraseology of the prohibition of polygamists.

The Young Turk Cabinet today were devoted to an amendment by Senator Lodge to exempt Belgian farmers from the literacy test and from the provisions which prohibit Americans from soliciting or inducing immigration. Already several American organizations are endeavoring to induce Belgian refugees to settle in this country.

Belgian Farmers Exempted. The amendment, as finally adopted by a vote of 34 to 22, follows: "That the provisions of this act relating to the literacy test or induced or assisted immigration shall not apply to agricultural immigrants from Belgium who come to the United States during the course of the present European war, or within one year after its termination, owing to circumstances of the nature arising through the war, if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner-General of Immigration that the said Belgian immigrants come with the intention of engaging in agriculture in the United States and to become American citizens."

Pointed Fears Complications. The amendment precipitated long discussion. Many amendments were offered to include all subjects of belligerent countries whose homes had been invaded. Senator Root, who made an eloquent plea for the Lodge amendment, declared that it would not violate any treaty obligation. He pictured the Belgians as a people without a country and without a protecting government, who needed asylum. Many Senators from agricultural states protested against the limitation of these exemptions to farmers.

The literacy test as finally approved by the Senate is practically as it passed the House, all amendments to enlarge the exemptions to admit persons fleeing from political or racial persecution as well as religious persecution having been rejected. The section follows: "That after four months from the approval of this act, in addition to the aliens who are by law now excluded from admission into the United States, the following persons shall also be excluded from admission thereto, to-wit:

"All aliens over 15 years of age, physically capable of reading, who cannot read the English language, or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish;

"Provided, that any admissible alien or any alien heretofore or hereafter legally admitted or any citizen of the United States may bring in or send for his father or grandfather over 55 years of age, his wife, his mother, his grandmother, or his unmarried or widowed daughter, if otherwise admissible, whether such relative can read or not; and such relatives shall be permitted to enter. That for the purpose of ascertaining whether aliens can read the immigration inspectors shall be furnished with slips of uniform size, prepared under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, each containing not less than 30 nor more than 40 words in ordinary use, printed in plainly legible type in some of the various languages and dialects of immigrants. Each alien may designate the particular language or dialect in which he desires the examination to be made, and shall be required to read the words printed on the slips in such language or dialect.

Religious Persecution Given Entry. "That the following classes of persons shall be exempt from the operation of the literacy test, to-wit: All aliens who shall prove to the satisfaction of the proper immigration officer or to the Secretary of Labor that they emigrated from their country of origin to these last permanent residents for the purpose of escaping from religious persecution; all aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who have resided therein continuously for five years and who have, in accordance with the law, declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States and who return to the United States within six months of the date of their departure therefrom; all aliens in transit through the United States to other countries, and who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who later shall go in transit from one through foreign contiguous territory."

Other features of the bill which change existing laws are designed primarily to increase safeguards of health and morals and to protect labor of the country. The head tax on immigrants is increased from $4 to $6.

Excluded List Increased. To the general exclusion classes are added the following: "Aggravated persons afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with any disability which renders them incapable of earning a livelihood; persons who teach or advocate the unlawful destruction of property; those who previously have been deported; stowaways; children under 16 years of age unaccompanied or coming to one or both parents, and persons not eligible for citizenship."

The bill provides a pecuniary penalty against steamship companies which violate the proposed regulations. Under the bill persons or corporations would be prohibited from importing contract labor or soliciting or inducing the importation of immigrants, except that "skilled labor, if otherwise admissible, may be imported if labor of like kind unemployed cannot be found in this country." The question of the necessity for importing such labor is to be determined by the Secretary of Labor.

Labor Market to Be Watched. An amendment submitted by Senator Cummins today, and accepted, provides that the Department of Labor and Commerce closely observe the industrial conditions of the country and notify Congress whenever, in their opinion, expected immigration would materially increase the number of unemployed in the country or reduce the standard of wages to workmen.

The bill outlines a system of supervision of immigrant ships and also provides for immigrant stations at interior points for the distribution of aliens.

A provision of the House bill directing that American medical inspectors should be placed on immigrant ships in foreign ports was stricken out in the Senate after protests from foreign governments.

TURKS DECLARED TOOLS

RUSSIAN ORANGE BOOK ACCUSES GERMANS OF TREACHERY.

Foreign Minister Says in Orange That Ottomans Tried to Prevent Being Drawn Into War.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 2.—Sergius Sazonoff, Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, today published an Orange book, which deals with the events preceding the Turkish attacks on Russian seaports in the Black Sea.

The Orange book contains 39 documents and is intended to throw light on what is termed in a summary of the contents issued through the Petrograd Telegraph Agency "the clandestine and obstinate methods employed by Austro-German diplomacy in forcing the Turkish government to ally itself to war against the triple entente powers."

"The documents in the book," it is said in the official summary, "give evidence that the independence of the Ottoman Empire was already imperiled when the German military mission was established in Constantinople. It vanished definitely from the moment the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau took refuge in the Dardanelles.

"The Young Turk Cabinet, believing, perhaps in good faith, to conduct the destiny of the country, displayed a cunningness thoroughly Oriental in endeavoring to escape from Teutonic influences."

"The diplomats of Great Britain, France and Russia, perceiving the little eagerness which the Turks showed in showing to permit themselves to be drawn into the war, which would inevitably compromise the country, tried to persuade the pacific element in the Ottoman Cabinet."

"They succeeded, however, only in delaying the rupture which was a part of the Teutonic programme."

"As soon as the Austro-German diplomats became convinced that the Turks were hesitating as to what course to take, German hands led German ships to attempt landing on the peaceful shores of an empire which was maintaining perfect neighborly relations with the Turks."

YORKSHIRE IS PREPARING Fearing Invasion From Enemy, Corps of Civic Guards Organized.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Stimulated by the expectation that Germany probably some day would attempt landing on the East Coast of England, Yorkshire is making special preparations to resist the invaders by enrolling a corps of civic guards and volunteers, whose chief headquarters will be at Hull and is raising by subscription funds with which to provide uniforms, arms and equipment.

Baron Nunburnholme, who is the leading spirit in the project, said today that the movement was making satisfactory progress. Instructions have been drawn up by the military authorities as to the course to be pursued both by non-combatants and the new force in the event of an invasion.

WAR TAX REVENUES GROW

Custom Receipts Fall Off, but Internal Levy Increases $5,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The so-called war revenue tax began to figure in marked fashion in Government revenues during December for the first time. Customs receipts fell off, but internal revenue increased for the same period nearly $5,000,000.

How much of that came from the emergency tax is not shown in the Treasury statement, but probably it was a large part. Total receipts for December amounted to $51,429,362, compared with $54,282,256 in 1913. Ordinary disbursements amounted to $56,934,882.

The net balance in the general fund at the beginning of 1914, was $98,770,675 and the total cash assets in the Treasury were $1,524,318,692.

NEWBERG KEEPS OFFICIALS Valley Town Decides by 415 to 26 Against Commission Form.

NEWBERG, Or., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—All plans of the backers for the commission form of government were killed here today in the election which resulted in a vote of 415 to 26 against changing the present form of government to the managerial system, now in vogue in La Grande.

After much consideration of various city charters under the commission form of government, a committee of seven was appointed to draft a report to the Council on the proposal. It was accepted by the Council and ordered printed in pamphlet form for general distribution, and the date of election to pass upon it was fixed for today.

COST OF FIVE MONTHS OF GREAT WAR MORE THAN 6,000,000 IN KILLED, WOUNDED AND MISSING, $7,000,000,000 MONEY.

At the beginning of the New Year foreign statisticians estimate that the war in Europe, which has raged for five months, has cost the nations involved 6,000,000 men—killed, wounded and captured—and $7,000,000,000. These figures are subdivided as follows:

Table with columns: Country, Killed, Wounded, Missing, Total. Includes Great Britain, France, Russia, Belgium, Serbia, Austria, and Totals.

The estimates of wounded and prisoners are incomplete in several instances, because of lack of data from which to formulate them. Austrians assert they have taken 30,000 Serbian prisoners, who are not included in the list.

SPECIFIC PROTEST IS MADE TO BRITAIN

Listing of Naval Stores as Absolute Contraband Calls for Explanation.

CARGOES NOW ON OCEAN Second Detention of Brindilla Expected to Cause Complications. Italy Explains Cause of Demand for Copper.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—While no word came from Ambassador Page today as to the character of the reply which Great Britain will make to the American note of protest concerning interference with American trade, there were several developments in the general shipping situation.

The United States asked Great Britain for information as to how the latter's statement, made early in November, that naval stores, including rosin, copper or turpentine, would be regarded as non-contraband, will be reconciled in actual practice with the notification of the British Foreign Office of a week ago saying these products now are absolute contraband.

Information is sought as to how cargoes now en route are to be affected, and whether resinous products are included in the classification.

Italy Explains About Copper. The Italian Ambassador informed the State Department that while statistics would make it appear that extraordinary amounts of copper shipped from the United States to Italy might be for the British purposes, the fact was that as Germany needed her own copper Italy could no longer import from the country immediately to the north of her, but must seek the metal in the American markets.

Much gratification was manifested at the State Department because of the release by Great Britain of the American oil tankers Tiflis and Narragansett and the freighter George R. Hawley, which had been held at Falmouth since November 29. The case of the Brindilla, originally detained at Halifax and rearrested on her return journey from Egypt and taken to French port, looks on as likely to produce complications.

Registry Precedent May Be Set. Should the question of change of registry be raised, a precedent may be set, the discussion of which has recognized the transfers when of a bona fide nature, the attitude of France has never been explicitly communicated which the State Department sent concerning naval stores is said to be the first protest on specific articles listed by Great Britain as absolute contraband. In the American note of protest it was said that while the United States objected to some of the classifications made, the discussion of them would be reserved until another time.

The protest concerning naval stores was communicated to the Governors and Senators of several Southern States. Rosin and turpentine had been intended for ballast with cotton cargoes, and the British government is on record as saying that cargoes so made up would not be regarded as contraband. The State Department had no sooner sent notification to this effect to shippers than the British Foreign Office published its new list.

To prevent the recurrence of charges that American shippers conceal copper and contraband articles in cotton and other non-contraband cargoes to President Wilson's warning of last week, was issued today by Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce.

"The attention of shippers of goods to neutral countries is called to the importance of having manifests complete and accurate. It is essential also to avoid mixing contraband goods in cargoes otherwise not contraband. It is alleged that some American manifests have omitted certain contraband goods, also that efforts have been made to conceal contraband articles or to alter their appearance so that they will be allowed to pass.

A single case of the kind is enough to embarrass all American commerce to neutral countries by throwing doubt on the correctness of our manifests and on the neutral nature of our cargoes, and the possibility of delay through examining cargoes that otherwise would be avoided."

ARGENTINA BUSINESS STIMULATED BY BIG WAR.

Every Indication Points to Prosperous Year, Says Secretary of Argentina Commission to Panama Fair.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Business relations between the United States and Argentina have shown a marked improvement during the last two months as the result of the European war and the evidenced desire of American firms to stimulate trade, said Alberto M. D'Alkaine, secretary of the Argentine commission to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, who arrives here today on the steamship Vestris.

LORD MAYOR ASKS AMERICAN TO AID IN SAVING SOLDIER.

Death Penalty For Attacking Guard in German Prison Camp Protested to Minister at The Hague.

LEEDS, Eng., via London, Jan. 2.—Lord Mayor Bedford has appealed to the American Minister at The Hague, Henry Van Dyke, in behalf of Private William Lonsdale, an English soldier who has been sentenced to death in Germany by a superior court martial, for attacking one of the guards at the prisoners' camp at Loebnitz.

Lonsdale's home is in Leeds. The Lord Mayor, in a telegram to Mr. Van Dyke, said that the citizens here were much distressed as a result of the sentence and added:

"Can you use any means whatever to save his life?" Lonsdale at first was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment, but when the case was referred to a superior court martial, the German military authorities decided that his offense was punishable by death.
