

SENATOR OF MORO OUT TO SAVE FUNDS

Mr. Ragsdale in Favor of Consolidating Bureaus if It Is Economical.

HURST DROPS CONTEST

Linn Democrat to Join Republicans in Constructive and Remedial Measures—Hal D. Patton Works for Eaton.

"I am not altogether satisfied with the plan for consolidating state boards and departments that the boys here in Multnomah County have prepared," said Senator Ragsdale, of Moro, who joined the local legislative colony yesterday.

"There is plenty of room to cut expenses and to eliminate unnecessary work," he said, "and it will be one of the greatest duties of the coming session to make these changes."

"I think I enjoy the distinction," said Senator Von der Hellen, of Wellen, who was another of yesterday's arrivals.

"Don't think that because I am a Democrat I won't have anything to say," remarked Senator Garland, of Lebanon, to his Republican colleagues.

Senator Cusick, of Albany, who will represent the Lane-Linn joint district, also visited in Portland yesterday.

Ex-Senator Hal D. Patton, of Salem, is on deck. He came to town Friday night and yesterday morning pulled off his coat and plunged into the Eaton campaign.

Patton has been one of the chief rollers at Salem for years and always has been active on behalf of the Marion County institutions when state appropriations were being distributed.

Roscoe P. Hurst, who was the Democratic candidate for Representative from the Multnomah-Clackamas joint district against C. M. Hurlbut, has abandoned his plans for a contest.

In a desperate effort to break into Ben Selling's strength for the speakership, Allen Eaton and his supporters yesterday began to circulate a report around political headquarters.

It is the custom for Eaton or one of his henchmen to go to a Representative who has agreed to vote for Selling and say something like this: "Now we have 20 votes and none of them can get away. You come over and we can win."

Each man is led to believe that he will be the third-first and that with his support Eaton will win. So far he has been unable to break into the Selling ranks and it seems certain that he will remain unable to.

KANSAS MAN MADE HEAD

AMERICAN EXPRESS COMPANY PROMOTES E. M. WHITTLE.

Charles L. Chase, of Topeka, Named Superintendent for Oregon and Washington—Office Here.

Charles L. Chase, of Topeka, Kan., superintendent of the American Express Company on the general lines of the Kansas division, arrived in Portland yesterday.

Mr. Whittle left Portland last night with J. A. D. Vickers, of Chicago, vice-president and general manager of the Western lines of the company, for an inspection trip of all the larger offices west of the Missouri River.

J. E. Sanborn, who has heretofore been commercial agent of the company at Seattle, also has been appointed general agent of the company at Portland, to succeed W. H. Carroll, who died recently.

Charles L. Chase, of Topeka, Kan., Who Yesterday Became Superintendent of the American Express Company's Offices in Northwest.

has also been connected with the company offices at Chicago, Denver, St. Louis and New York and he said last night that he was quite happy to come to Portland.

In announcing the changes yesterday Mr. Vickers said that all promotions had been gained by merit alone and that the transfers were made for the benefit of the service.

WASTE MAY AID ROADS

ENGINEER SAYS LIQUID FROM PULP MILLS SUPERIOR TO OIL.

Plant at Oregon City Dumps Into River 180,000 Gallons Daily That May Be Tested on Stretches.

OREGON CITY, Jan. 9.—(Special).—The 180,000 gallons of waste dumped into the river each day by the local paper and pulp plants is the best road building material that can be secured, according to County Road Engineer Hodson.

The waste is thrown away in the form of a liquid and consists of sulphite, pitch, turpentine, calcium chloride and water. The sulphite dissolves the minerals in the rock in the road, while the pitch and turpentine holds the material together.

The same liquid in a condensed form has been used in Eastern states for about seven years. There it is sold under the trade name, glutin, and has an extensive market. New York has built many miles of road, with the liquid from all the pulp mills in the state, too, have adopted this material in road building.

As a first step toward testing out the sulphite liquid, Mr. Hodson will treat a stretch of road in West Linn. If the experiments meet success, the liquid probably will be applied to many miles of Clackamas County road during the next year.

This sulphite liquid may change completely the method of repairing, building and maintaining roads in Clackamas County. Mr. Hodson prefers the liquid to oil and believes that an oil-bound macadam is not superior to sulphite-bound macadam.

HEALTH BILLS URGED

Mr. Mickle Advocates Laws to Regulate Sanitation.

VIOLATIONS MADE CRIMES

Sleeping in Bakeries or Like Places and Other Acts Prohibited and Labeling of Goods 30 Days Old or More Provided.

Improved sanitation in all places where food products are handled and better facilities for keeping food under cold storage are proposed in two bills in a "sanitary condition."

The "sanitary bill" would require all such institutions as bakeries, confectioneries, canneries, packing-houses, bottling-houses, slaughter-houses, restaurants, hotels, dining cars, groceries, meat markets, dairies, creameries, butter factories, cheese factories and the like to be maintained "in a clean, healthy and sanitary condition."

It will give the Dairy and Food Commissioner and his deputies the authority to designate when a place is not, and would define what circumstances would cause a place to be classed as "unsanitary."

Contagion Guarded Against. No persons would be permitted to live or sleep in any part of a bakery, kitchen, dining-room, confectionery or other place where food is prepared, served or sold.

It would be further provided that all persons operating meat markets, slaughter-houses, bakeries, candy factories, eating-houses, restaurants, lunch counters, canneries, bottling works, cheese factories, creameries or any public place where food is prepared, served or sold, should apply to the Dairy and Food Commissioner and receive a license.

Violations of the provisions of the act would merit fines of not to exceed $100 and jail sentences not to exceed 30 days.

Heavy penalties also would be provided for violations of the law. "We now have no laws safeguarding the public against any food vendor, other than a dairyman, who may handle food in an insanitary way," said Commissioner Mickle yesterday.

WEST GETS ADVICE

"Follow the Law," Senator Tells Retiring Governor.

CLARK ACTION HURTS

In Reply to Woman's Right to Seat in Senate Should Contest Arise, Senator Kiddle Says: "I Advise You to Follow Law."

Governor West got back some of his own advice last week. The Governor wrote to all members of the State Senate asking them their probable attitude on his proposed appointment of Miss Kathryn Clark of Glendale, to succeed George Neuner, as State Senator from Douglas County.

He asked for telegraphic replies, as the time before the Legislature convenes is short. Some of the Senators replied. Some did not. But the replies were in general favorable to the appointment of Miss Clark.

"I believe in strict law enforcement. I advise you to follow the law," said Senator Kiddle, of Clatsop, in his reply to Governor West.

"This office has appointed Kathryn Clark, of Glendale, Or., as State Senator to succeed Hon. George Neuner, who recently resigned. A question having arisen as to the right of the Governor to appoint her, (see article 17, article 5, of the constitution), I am writing to ask your view of the situation and whether you would see your way clear to favor her being seated should a contest arise.

"Should I find that Miss Clark is not likely to be seated, it will be necessary for me to call a special election, and I desire to avoid throwing this expense upon Douglas County which has prompted the appointment and caused me to request your cooperation in the Legislature. I would ask that you kindly wire me your position in the matter."

SEWER BID HELD TOO HIGH

Only Offer on Sunnyside Trunk Work May Be Turned Down.

Because a bid submitted by Giesbich & Joplin, contractors, for the reconstruction of the Sunnyside trunk sewer in East Alder street from near East Second street to the river, is 22 per cent higher than the estimate for the work prepared by City Engineer Dater, City Commissioner Dieck will ask the City Council to reject the bid and advertise for new proposals.

AFRICAN MISSIONARY BACK

Fred W. Neal Has Record of 1300 Conversions in Past Year.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 8.—(Special).—Fred W. Neal, Albany College graduate, who has established the remarkable record of securing 1300 conversions during the past year in the Presbyterian mission field in Gorman West Africa, has arrived in Albany next Friday.

Mr. Neal has been in the Kamerun district of West Africa the past three years. He is now stationed at a new mission at Fulasi. In the last year of his work there he preached to immense audiences, talking to as many as 800 people at one time.

OLD SEAL WANTED BACK

Oregon Bodies Act to Restore Territorial Mark of Commonwealth.

The Oregon chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Oregon Historical Society are preparing a bill which, if adopted by the coming Legislature, will restore the old territorial seal, which was discarded when Oregon became a state in 1859, as the official mark of this commonwealth.

Industry and intelligence. It will be necessary to change the seal only by replacing the words "Territory of Oregon" with "State of Oregon."

Regents Accept Appointment.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 9.—(Special).—Governor Lister announces that E. T. Coman, of Spokane, and W. A. Hitz, of Walla Walla, both have accepted tendered appointments on the board of regents of Washington State College. The positions have been vacant nearly two years but this action insures a full board to select a successor to President Bryan, of the State College, who has submitted his resignation to become effective at the end of the present calendar year.

Railroad Officers Hold Over.

WATERVILLE, Wash., Jan. 8.—(Special).—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Waterville Railway, there was no quorum and the same directors will remain in office another year. These are George P. Wiley, C. A. Granis, C. V. Ogle, J. C. Brenneholts and J. D. Bonar. No dividend was declared as it seems desirable to create a fund for new equipment and other improvements.

Highway Views to Be Shown.

There will be shown in the White Temple next Friday, at 8 o'clock, a series of views of the Columbia Highway. Samuel Lancaster, the highway engineer, will give a stereopticon lecture on the places.
