

PLEA MADE FOR NEW MEDICAL BUILDINGS

Dean of Department at Oregon Says High Standard Demands Unstinted Fund.

PORTLAND UNIT CROWDED

State School at Portland, as Only One in Big Radius of Northwest, May Lose High Rating if Appropriation is Lacking.

That it is essential to secure adequate appropriations for the maintenance of the medical department of the University of Oregon and for the provision of better facilities in the way of buildings and equipment was declared yesterday by Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, dean of the department.

He said that the only state medical school in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana is the one conducted for many years in Portland as part of the University of Oregon. The institution is considered one of the best in the country and it will be necessary to maintain its high rating in order to secure expected assistance from the Rockefeller Foundation, said Dr. Mackenzie.

In order to secure financial aid from that source and at the same time to thwart a movement in the State of Washington to establish a medical school, it will be necessary to have better facilities for teaching, to have more commodious and modern buildings and to install equipment to meet the demands of the institution," said Dr. Mackenzie.

Largest Territory is Served.

"The State of Oregon is situated peculiarly in regard to medical education, and it is so remote from the centers of learning in the East and Middle West that the education of the youth of the state in medicine has to be studied with more than ordinary care. It occupies geographically the largest territory served by one medical school in the United States and by a friendly arrangement with the profession of the neighboring states it conducts the only school of medicine in this large territory."

It should be known, however, that the State of Washington and the City of Seattle are watching the situation closely and would be quick to open a medical department of their generously-endowed university, if for any reason the school in Oregon lost its present rating because of the poor facilities that we have for teaching on account of the lack of proper buildings for our laboratories and lecture-rooms. If anyone has any doubt as to the adequacy of the present quarters, I should be only too pleased to conduct him over the present building at Twenty-third and Lovejoy streets to show how hopelessly imperfect and overcrowded the quarters are. One laboratory is by 10 feet is occupied by 20 students and there are no facilities for the full-time professors to conduct their work of research and scientific investigation. In some instances the professors have surrendered the space they occupied to make room for the students. There is also no opportunity to build up a library, as there is no space for books.

Campus Gift Stimulates Interest.

"The acquisition of a splendid campus, the gift of the Oregon-Washington Railway & Navigation Company, has done a great deal to stimulate interest in medical education and will have a far-reaching effect in the future in building up hospitals for the sick and the indigent. The state has made no provision so far for its crippled and there are countless cases throughout the state of crippled and afflicted women and numerous little children whose limp and crippled state appeals most to the heart of the state of which they are a part."

"The state has not yet built one institution to take care of the hundreds of persons who suffer so needlessly, and who, in a state hospital, could be restored often to normal efficiency and at least to the enjoyment of an existence free from suffering. This campus offers an opportunity to the people of the state to have built upon it institutions and buildings which would be a token of their public spirit and a fulfillment of one of the greatest duties of citizenship. There could be no charge of extravagance involved in erecting buildings which typify the works of necessity and mercy."

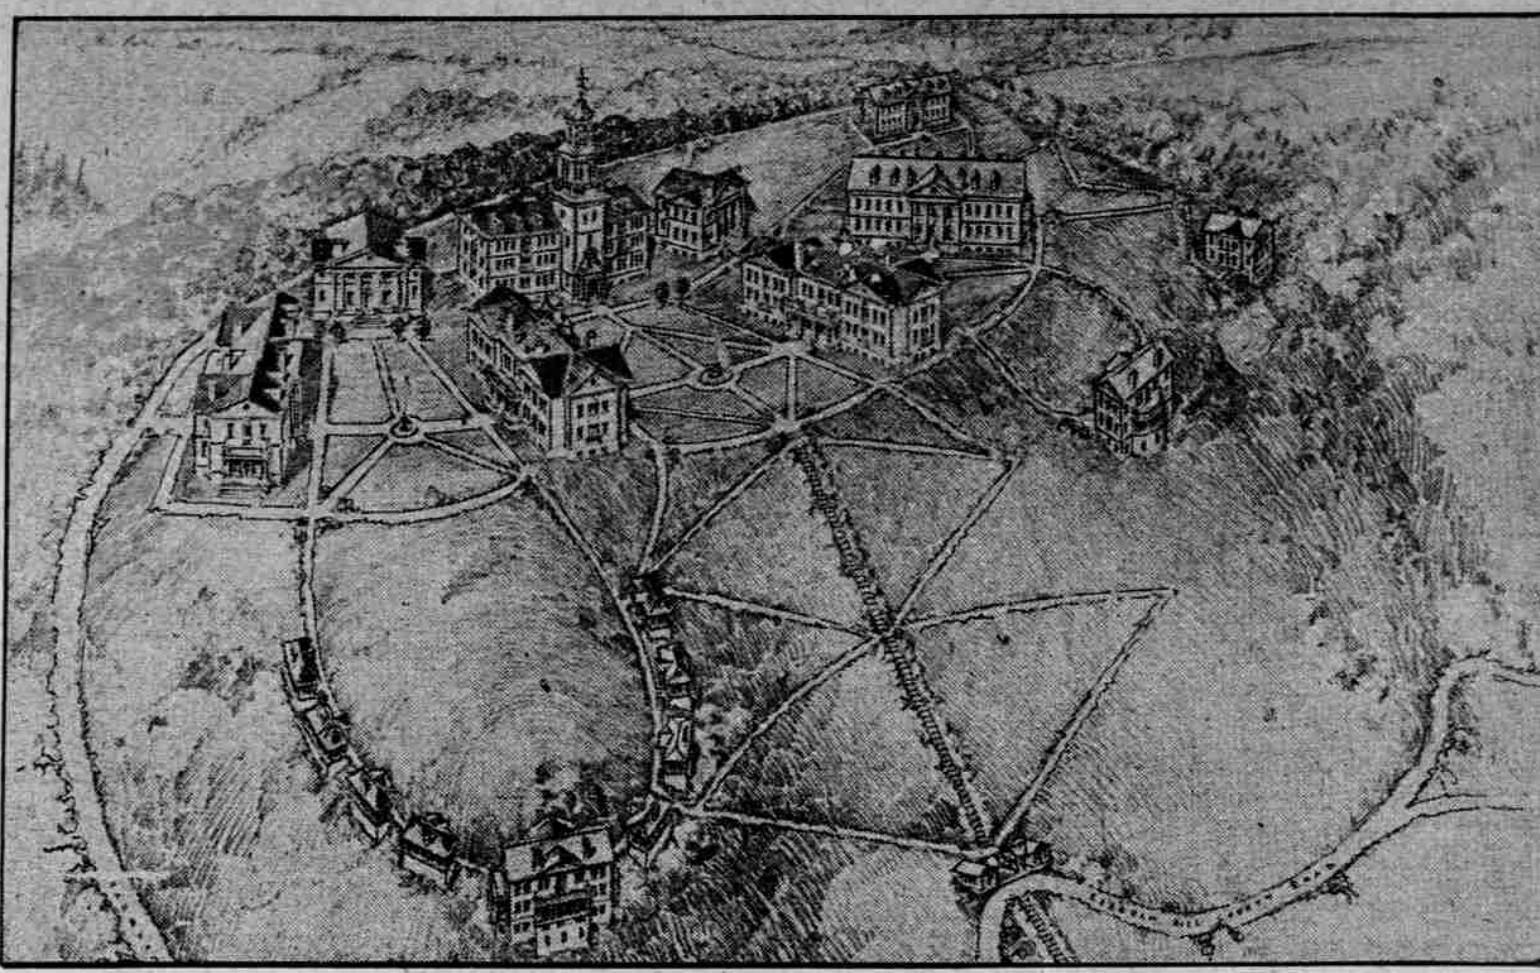

"It has been brought to my attention that some of the members of the Legislature were under the impression that the question of maintenance had been settled in the millage tax bill passed by the last Legislature. As a matter of fact, the medical department was not considered at all in relation to the millage tax for the support of the university. The bill expressly excluded the medical department from participation in its benefits."

Appropriations to Be Asked.

"Two bills will be presented to the Legislature this year to provide for the needs of the medical department of the University of Oregon, which will in time be perhaps the largest integral part of that institution. The first bill asking for $30,000 is for maintenance and is based exactly upon the needs of the institution for two years. Any thing short of that amount would cripple the operations of the school or at least affect the teaching in the laboratories very seriously."

"The doubling of the enrollment after the merger with the Willamette school caused a great strain in the service of the school and necessitated additions to the teaching force and greatly increased outlays for supplies, apparatus and general equipment. In the rating of the school, the elements of the teaching force and the quality of the equipment is considered at the hands of those who make the rating.

"The second bill providing for an appropriation of $100,000 is for a building to house the school properly. The state will lose nothing through its investment. On the contrary, it will gain because of the installment of a fine building upon property which has been given to the state on the sole condition that it be utilized for the higher education of the youth of the state in the science and practice of medicine and in the study of all matters relating to the health and well-being of the people of the state.

"The construction plan includes laboratories for the State Board of Health which, according to the Governor's suggestions, are to be consolidated with those of the school."

PINCHOT FACTION RISES

COMMISSION TO MANAGE ALASKAN AFFAIRS OPPOSED.

Critics Particularly Insistent That Territory's Forest Reserves Shall Be Ruled in Washington.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 22.—The Pinchot faction of conservationists are opposing the recommendation of Secretary Lane that a commission be created to manage the internal affairs of Alaska, such as the control of its public lands, its forests, its fisheries, its coal land development and the development of other natural resources.

In recommending local control, Secretary Lane pointed out the impossibility of giving Alaskan affairs prompt and intelligent administration from Washington, 5000 miles away. A commission, composed of men who know Alaska and who live in Alaska, the Secretary contended, would be able to administer the internal affairs of the territory much more efficiently than the various departments at Washington.

The Forest Service and the Forestry Association have begun to attack the recommendation of Secretary Lane and are protesting against taking from the Washington Government any of the authority it now has over Alaska. Particularly are these critics of the Secretary desirous that the Forest Service shall retain full authority over the forest reserves of Alaska. H. H. Chapman, one of the leaders in the Forestry Association, made so bold as to declare that "no complaint exists against the management of the Alaskan forests by the Forest Service." Wherein Mr. Chapman disclosed a gross ignorance of the subject he was discussing. He, however, voiced the views of all forestry men, who protest against any move that looks to curtailing the authority and jurisdiction of the Forest Service.

Suspect to Be Sent to Hillsboro.

Mark Gittings, arrested several days ago by Detectives Craddock and Hammerly for the theft of $1000 worth of microscopes and typewriters from schools in Oregon and Washington, will be returned to Hillsboro for trial. In a letter, received yesterday from Oregon City, it was stated that Gittings is suspected of the theft of a typewriter from the public library there the other day.

EARLY ELECTION ON ROAD BONDS SURE

Mr. Yeon to Start Petitions Asking for Submission of Question of Issue.

COST CONSIDERED SMALL

Commissioners Feel Need of Work's Prosecution in Good Weather. Offsets Expense—$1,000,000. Block May Be Suggested.

Upon being interviewed Friday by John E. Yeon, roadmaster, members of the Board of County Commissioners heartily approved the plan to call a special election for the contemplated road bond issue to be expended on trunk roads in Multnomah County at an early date.

The amount of the bond issue has not been determined, but it will be probably $1,000,000 or $1,125,000. With the issue, 65 miles of trunk roads would be hard-surfaced.

Mr. Yeon called on the Commissioners to discuss with them the question of calling a special election at an early date or of waiting until the general city election in June.

Approval Not Required.

The call was somewhat informal, as Mr. Yeon was not required to obtain the Commissioners' approval before going ahead with the necessary petition, which must bear 2500 names, for the election, but he desired to have the ideas of the Board.

After a full discussion, members of the Board gave their approval to the plan to call a special election if the bond issue is to be voted upon, for the following reasons:

1. A large part of the hard-surfacing could be done this year during the most favorable weather; that is, from June to November, while if the election were held in June the bonds could not be sold and contracts let for at least two months, which would only give a short period in the year 1915 for such work.

2. The maintenance expense and repair cost in keeping up the trunk lines proposed to be hard-surfaced this year alone would amount to many times the cost of the special election. Some of these trunk lines are now in exceptionally bad condition, especially the Base Line and Linton roads. If these roads are not to be hard-surfaced this year, the maintenance and repair will amount to many hundred dollars per mile. If the bond election carries, it will be the plan of the Board to hard-surface, first, the present macadamized trunk lines leading into Portland, leaving the Columbia River Highway beyond Sandy till the last.

Cost Thought Small.

3. The cost of a special election will be but a little more than at the general city election, for the reason that one set of judges would be sufficient to handle and count the votes at the special election, while at the general city election two sets of judges would be required, one-half of the cost of which would have to be defrayed by the county, making the payroll for judges and clerks approximately the same in either case.

The Board of County Commissioners and Roadmaster Yeon are now considering the amount of the bond issue and determining the terminal of the prospective trunk highways which it would be advisable to improve.

Some Road Work Stopped.

It is understood that it has been decided definitely to stop the improvement of the Base Line, Powell Valley, Foster and Sandy roads at the city limits, and at the same time, in fairness to the smaller cities of the county, the Commissioners believe the cost of the highways leading in each instance through Gresham and Troutdale should be defrayed from the bond issue.

It is at present undecided as to what point the county should work to in the improvement of the Canyon and Linton roads. It is felt that if the county steps at the city limits the property owners will be unwilling to complete the job to Jefferson street in one case and to Twenty-ninth street in the other.

With Mr. Yeon, the Commissioners paid a visit to both roads Friday, but returned without making a final decision.

Early Start is Wanted.

Having the approval of the Board, Mr. Yeon will now proceed with the petitions, which require 2500 names with the approval of the Board or 5000 names without that approval.

Commissioner Lightner said it was his belief that the small difference in cost between the special and general elections was more than offset by the opportunity to get the work completed, or in fair condition, during 1915. Commissioner Holman said he believed the action of the Board would be appreciated by everyone, while Commissioner Holbrook said that in the case of two or three trunk highways, if the bond issue were not voted, there would have to be spent the extreme sum in repair work which on a macadam road heavily traveled must be expended biennially.

2 MEET AFTER 45 YEARS

George Trumbull, 69, Visits Sister at Hood River.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—After a separation of 45 years, George Trumbull, of Brush Prairie, Wash., is here visiting his sister, Mrs. J. S. Head, who, with her husband, came from Little Rock, Ark., last year to make her home in Hood River. Mr. Trumbull was born 45 years ago in Knox County, Kentucky. While he was still a baby his parents removed to Linn County, Missouri, where his sister was born in 1864.

Mr. Trumbull came West, locating in Portland in 1870. For many years he was a foreman for the Inman-Poulson Lumber Company. He removed to Brush Prairie two years ago.

WOMAN'S TRIP COSTS $600

Valuables in Handbag Lost in Walk of Three Blocks.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 13.—It cost Mrs. Charles Wright, mother of Mrs. J. H. Allen, 138 Summit avenue, a trifle more than $600 recently to walk from a garage on Grand avenue three blocks to her home.

Mrs. Wright lost a black silk hand bag containing a small sum of money and three valuable diamonds before she reached home. A thorough search was made of the streets, but no trace of the purse or its contents was found.

The rings are valued as keepsakes by Mrs. Wright.

YOUNG GUARDS GAIN

Twenty Youngsters Join Boy Soldiers Recently Added.

MORE ARE TO BE ENLISTED

Rudiments of Military Operations With Training Fitting Leads for Serving Flag Are Provided in Oregon Juniors.

Portland's Junior Oregon National Guard is progressing nicely, according to men in charge, and great interest is being shown by the younger generation in the military organization. The Junior Guard was organized more than two years ago and since then it has grown rapidly.

In the last two months 35 boys have applied for enlistment, and out of this number 20 were accepted. The purpose of the organization is to teach the boys the rudiments of military operations.

The Junior Oregon National Guard admits boys from 12 to 17 years of age, providing they can pass the examination and are anxious to join the company for what they can learn and not just to wear the uniform. The boys the Junior militia teaches martial laws, although the members necessarily do not have to join any higher militia organization. The knowledge which they will have gained with the Junior militia would stand them in good stead should they care to enter the service, if the country should call for volunteers to defend the flag. The youngsters will be trained, but they do not have to respond to a call while members of this organization.

"The men in charge say that if the organization is properly encouraged in time it will solve a much-discussed problem, that of having enough ready acceptable material to defend the country in case of war. The Adjutant-General is said to approve of this organization as do most of the officers and men of the Oregon National Guard."

NAVY YARD MUST WAIT

COLUMBIA NOT TO GET STATION UNDER PRESENT PLANS.

Most of Appropriation to Be Spent for Ships — Bremerton May Be Equipped for Submarines.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 22.—The Navy Department declines, at this time, to consider the proposition of establishing a naval station, navy yard or drydock on the Columbia river. This was the answer given to Senator Lane when he conferred with Secretary Daniels to ascertain what prospect there might be for securing departmental backing for an appropriation for one of these purposes.
