

TAG DAY IS NOW SET

Shamrocks to Be Sold St. Patrick's Day for Christie Home.

HUNDREDS TO AID IN WORK

Oswego Institution Praised by Dr. Calvin S. White for Good Done and Promoters of Project Hope to Raise $3000.

St. Patrick's day, March 17, will be commemorated in Portland by the sale of shamrocks for the benefit of the Christie Home, at Oswego. People of this city thus will be given a chance to contribute to the support of that institution as well as honoring Ireland's patron saint.

Twenty-five committees have been organized to take up the sale. Each of these bands is composed of from 25 to 26 members. The city has been divided and each of the bands will have a certain territory to cover in the work of selling the tokens.

Last year, it is said, a total of $3000 was realized from the sale of shamrocks for the school and it is believed that an equal amount will be procured this year. The first year shamrocks were sold in Portland, it is said that $7000 was taken in.

That the Christie Home is doing a splendid work among the girls, which it has in charge, was testified to by Dr. Calvin S. White, State Health Officer, in speaking of the institution yesterday. Dr. White told of the work which the home was doing in teaching the girls housekeeping as well as art, music and ordinary school branches.

LAWYER GALLANT IN CASE

Objection Not Made to Woman Opponent's Argument.

For the first time in the memory of the oldest court attaches, a woman lawyer yesterday argued a personal injury case before a jury in Circuit Judge Gantenbein's court. The jury returned a verdict in her favor after being out two hours.

Miss Maniche Irene Langley, of Forest Grove, with her brother L. L. Langley, an associate counsel, was attorney for the plaintiff in the case. The case was against the Oregon Electric Railway Company. Mrs. Hartman's son had been electrocuted while working on the railroad five years ago, and she asked $100,000 damages.

Miss Langley made the closing argument to the jury yesterday morning. In closing, she distinguished between the case as set out in the pleadings and the evidence. John F. Logan, counsel for the Oregon Electric Company, half rose from his seat to object to the discretion. Then she smiled and sat down again. Miss Langley noticed his action and stopped her argument.

Since quarters were opened under the auspices of the Central Labor Council at Fourth and Alder streets January 1, four and a half months ago, it has been for hundreds of unemployed union men and a large number of families of union men out of work have been assisted. The bureau was organized yesterday by E. J. Stack, secretary of the body.

Since December 26 approximately 11500 had been raised, among the various unions. "In view of the probability of renewed activity in various lines, the committee in charge has decided to close the bureau April 1," said Mr. Stack. "Local unions, however, will be urged to continue donations until that time."

"In order to stay," said Don Jolley, personal representative of P. S. Bramwell, promoter, who for 10 days has been in Portland. "Klamath Falls and Medford propositions have not been satisfactory."

Mr. Jolley says that W. L. Benham, of Portland, owner of the Benham Irrigation project north of Eugene, is ready to co-operate in the location of the plant.

UNEMPLOYED MEN AT WORK IN GULCHES.

RUBBISH IS REMOVED

Jobless Men Work With Will When City Gives Chance.

Hundreds of tons of rubbish which up to a week ago littered the gulches of the city is now buried deep under a coat of dirt. The change is the result of the cleanup campaign inaugurated by the City Council as a measure of relief for unemployed men with families. Every day for a week a gang of from 80 to 100 men has been at work with hoes and shovels raking all the dirt and rubbish into the bottom of the gulches and covering it with dirt.

GULCHES ARE MADE CLEAN

Refuse and Old Cans Buried by Big Force of Men Who Respond Eagerly When Council Appropriates Fund for Cause.

No extensive improvements are contemplated, on account of business depression, coupled with the invasion of a competing company in the light and power field and the inauguration of jitney service to compete with the street railway lines. It is probable, too, that the operating charges will be kept to the lowest possible minimum.

Before The Clean-Up

After Work is Completed

In his address yesterday afternoon before Evening Star Grange, South Mount Tabor, J. B. Yeon gave an analysis of the proposed $1,250,000 bond issue it is proposed to make to hard-surface certain trunk roads in Multnomah County, and set forth the advantages the county and Portland will reap. It will place Multnomah County in the foremost ranks of the country to lay 71 miles of hard-surface road, declared Mr. Yeon and will return in cash to the people the actual outlay in the increased travel to Portland of tourists, who will be attracted by the Columbia Highway and other high-class roads. Mr. Yeon gave figures to show that the annual income that would result to Portland alone through the completion of the Columbia Highway would run up to $1,000,000 annually.

SALENT POINTS IN MR. YEON'S ADDRESS.

Seventy-one miles of hard-surface county roads to be built with the proposed bond issue of $1,250,000 will be a tremendous asset to Multnomah County and Portland. Completion of the Columbia Highway and the East Side Connecting roads will bring to Portland approximately $1,500,000 in additional traffic.

Most of Money to Go for Labor.

The bond issue will run ten years and will cost the taxpayers 37 cents on the $1000 of property he owns. This sum will be expended mainly at home, for 80 per cent will be for labor.
