LONDON, March 20 .- A wild scene oc curred in the German Reichstag today during the second reading of the budget, according to a Berlin telegram received by Reuter's Telegram Agency by way of Amsterdam. The tumult was aroused by a speech delivered by George Ledebour, a Socialist Deputy, who pro-tested against "the military administration's trying to Germanize parts of French territory, from which arises on the part of Alsace-Lorraine a desire for French rule."

The statement was received with an angry outburst on the part of the deputier, some members shouting:
"What about the party of peace?"
Continuing, Herr Ledebour said:
"I indorse everything s id in praise of our brave troops and their commanders, but in political performances the military as thortiles are not up to date. I am horr fied to learn that for every German vi lage burned by the Russians, three Rus ian Tillages shall be burned."
Charge of Barbarism Protested.
"This is barbarism," shouted Dr. Karl Liehknecht, another Socialist Deputy, while from the right came three indignant protests, one member shouting:
"We won't permit the supreme military authorities to be thus attacked."

This statemer, resulted in a renewed disturbance and cries of "finish," the Deputies springing from their seats and excitedly shouting for order; the Vice-President of the House, in the meantime having declared that criticism of the stmy administration was not permissible.

Liberal Demands Reprisals.

The leaders of the various parties protested against the remarks made by Deputy Ledebour. Major Ernst Bas-sermann, a National Liberal member, Criticism Declared Insulting.

Minister of the Interior Delbrucck asserted that he would not be worthy, in the present situation, if he replied to Herr Ledebour's speech.

"For every one present today," declared the minister, "this hour will be among his bitterest memories. Herr Ledebour's criticism is unconstitutional and insulting in form and is directed against the most honored army leader.

RAG FERDINAND.

Roumania may yet enter the European conflict. Her territory has been violated by a force of Austrians who attempted to cross her border in order to get at Kladovo, the only place in Serbia on the Danube permitting communication with Roumania. The Austrians are reported to have opened fire on frontier guards and to have been repulsed with heavy losses. Ferdinand, King of Roumania, whose picture is here shown, ascended the throne October 10, 1914, upon the death of his uncle, King Carol I. The King is loved by his people, who are highly anti-Austrian. It is largely due to the pacific influence of the late King Carol that Roumania did not enter the war in the early part of the struggle. part of the struggle.

Herr Groteben, of the Center party, said that if the military authorities were compelled, in view of the Russian actions, to take the severest reprisals in the shape of measures which are permissible under international law, they should not be hindered by the representatives of the people.

Philipp Scheidemann, a Socialist Deputy, declared in the name of his party that "Herr Ledebour was invited to speak only on the language of the question; his other remarks were made on his own account and he alone bears the responsibility for them."
