GOVELESKIE TAKES TERRIBLE BEATING

Negroes Slam Out Two Home Runs, Three Doubles and Singles Galore.

BEAVERS BEATEN, 9 TO 1

Recruit Goes Well for Six Innings and Then Blows Up—Rain Only Prevents More Runs—Derrick Makes Unassisted Double.

FRESNO, Cal., March 27.—(Special.)—The American Giants today rode Stanley Coveleskie, one of McCredie's new pitchers, for two home runs, three doubles and numerous singles. Had the game not been called early in the ninth inning, the Giants would have been credited with a third home run and two additional singles. The score was 9 to 1. Rain caused the postponement of the contest.

For the first six innings Coveleskie pitched a fine brand of ball, allowing but two runs and keeping six hits well scattered. An error contributed to the run-getting of the Giants in the fifth, when they scored two runs.

Coveleskie Gets It Hard.
It was in the seventh inning that the Giants went after Coveleskie in a murderous manner, getting two home runs and scoring three tallies. With two out Baughman singled to center. Gatewood caught a fast ball, the nose and it went out of the lot via the right field fence. Barber followed Gatewood to the plate, and the first ball that Coveleskie offered was sent out of the lot in exactly the same manner as Gatewood's drive. From this on Coveleskie was continually in trouble, two doubles and a pair of singles in the eighth adding four runs.

The third home run, which is not recorded, came in the first of the ninth, with only one out. McNair singled the ball over the centerfield fence near the clubhouse.

Portland's lone tally came in the third inning, the first score of the game. Stumpf went on a hopping drive to Hutchison. Murphy flew out to Duncan. Lober hit to right for two bases and Stumpf scored the run.

Derrick Alone Makes Double Play.
Derrick broke into the summary with an unassisted double, the first of the practice season. It happened in the third inning. Baughman had placed himself on first with a single to left. Gatewood slammed a line drive toward first. Derrick successfully corralled it and stepped on the bag, catching Baughman off about 10 feet.

Today was the first time that rain has fallen here since the training season opened. The shower was little more than a sprinkle but both teams had enough baseball for one day, so the umpire decided to call it quits. The final game of the training season will be played tomorrow.

RAIN KEEPS SEALS INDOORS

White Sox to Begin Dreary Trip to Tank Towns, En Route Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—(Special.)—Rain today prevented any game between the Sox and the Seals at Recreation Park. However, with any sort of a chance, the double header will be played tomorrow, with the White Sox against Oakland as well as San Francisco.

Rain or shine the Chicagoans are scheduled to break camp tomorrow April 12 and head for home via the one-night stands. Rowley's men will play Redlands Monday and then start the dreary monotony of games in the tank towns. They will leave St. Louis April 12 and the day following start a four-game series. After that comes Detroit and finally Chicago and home on April 22.

HOGAN LEAVES FOUR AT HOME

Koestner, Rader, Bliss and Yantz Not Taken; Two Will Be Released.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 27.—(Special.)—Accompanied by a full squad of 26 men, Manager "Happy" Hogan of the Venice Coast League team, left here today for Salt Lake, where he will open the season on Tuesday with the Mormons. It is expected that the team will reach Salt Lake tomorrow afternoon with ample time to put in two afternoons of strenuous practice. Before leaving this city, Hogan said that he would use either West or Henley in the box.

Four men were left behind today—Koestner, Rader, Bliss and Yantz—the first a pitcher, the second an infielder and the latter pair catchers. Two of this pair have been unconditionally leased, but Hogan would not name the two.

SALT LAKE BASEBALL CRAZY

Blankenship Says Tigers' Appetite for Raw Meat Will Die Tuesday.
SALT LAKE, Utah, March 27.—(Special.)—Four thousand fans saw Blankenship's squad work out this afternoon. There is to be a free practice game tomorrow afternoon and 10,000 people are expected to be on hand. The town is baseball crazy.

Blankenship today said that he would not pick his club captain until Tuesday. There is little doubt, however, that Tomer will be the choice, because of Eddie Payne, who has been laid up with a slight attack of hay fever, was out today.

Another ideal day favored the workmen at the new park and there seems no chance now but that the opener will be staged there. Hogan sent a telegram today saying that his Tigers were on their way and were after raw meat. "I don't think they'll have such a good appetite Tuesday night," remarked Blankenship.

NEW UNIFORMS GIVEN OAKS

Gardner Likely to Play in Field for Opener if Johnston Is Late.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—(Special.)—The Oakland club will appear tomorrow morning against the White Sox in their 1915 uniforms, weather permitting a game. Christian issued uniforms to members of his club today and wants them to wear the same tomorrow to accustom them to their new "skins."

The Oaks had rather a slack day of it today. Christian put his squad through a light drill in the forenoon and declared a holiday for the balance of the day. Since it is not figured Jimmy Johnston will be here in time for the opening game, Rube Gardner is slated for left field.

Athletics Rout Phillies.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 27.—The Philadelphia Americans defeated the Philadelphia Nationals here today. Score: R. H. E. Athletics..... 3 8 2 Batteries—Alexander, Demaree, Tinscup and Adams; Bush, Penneck, Shawkey and Lapp, Schang.

Cubs Defeat Louisville.

TAMPA, Fla., March 27.—The Chicago Nationals won from the Louisville American Association team here today. Score: R. H. E. Athletics..... 3 8 2 Batteries—Northrup, Ellis and Cross; Clemens, Robbins, McConnell, Buckles and Breanahan, Hargreave.

Red Sox Defeat Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 27.—The White National Association team here today. The game was called after seven innings. Score: R. H. E. Athletics..... 3 4 0 Batteries—Heit, Pearson and Rumber; Coeham, Luque and Tragesner.

INDIANS BEATEN AGAIN

OREGON NINE WINS SECOND GAME WITH CHEMAWA REDSKINS.

Beckett and Tuerck, Despite Sore Arms, Find Aborigines Not Dangerous, and University Takes Contest 7 to 6.

MARCH 27.—(Special.)—Oregon ballplayers nosed out a second victory over the Chemawa Indians, when they finished this afternoon's game on the long end of a 7-to-6 score. Although the result was close, the outcome of the battle was never in serious doubt, and the lemon-yellow terrors held the upper hand throughout the contest.

Johnny Beckett and Long Bill Tuerck, twirled for Bezdak, and kept the safe bingles well enough scattered to assure a victory. Both pitchers worked easy and took care of their sore wings. Chemawa waxed dangerous in the fifth inning when the bases became populated, and R. Adams slapped the ball far out into centerfield and scored on a hunter of errors.

Hunter-Elk was on the slab for the Redskins and hurled a good game, considering the ragged support he had. Sheehy, "Bezdak's" recruit fielder, brought the crowd to its feet when he pulled two sparkling catches in the garden. Grebe, at second, the other freshman, broke in with some pretty stops and covered a good deal of ground in all his play. Be Grabe and Sheehy appear a trifle bat shy. Bezdak asserts that he will have them over this habit before many weeks have passed.

Cottonweir and Hauer were the best bats on the Chemawa team. Coach Bezdak, while reviewing the two games, said: "I am not satisfied with the team. Its fielding is ragged and the boys are too prone to toss the ball all over the lot in an effort to catch a runner. We have some good practice games before we get into the conference season, and by that time the boys should be going better."

COAST LEAGUE RACE BEGINS ON TUESDAY

Beavers Are to Open at Los Angeles With Oaks at San Francisco.

DOPING—IT CAN'T BE DONE

Addition of Mundorff and Johnson Is Expected to Boost Oakland Lot. Portland Fans Loth to Fret Even With Bad Start.

BY BOSCH FAWCETT.
Spring training's month of creaky joints and lamentations of the sore arms is just about at the end of its tether. Tuesday afternoon the Pacific Coast League will officially usher in King Baseball.

It is a momentous occasion in the north end of the circuit, because Portland has copied four pennants in the past five years and everybody is pulling for another. It is a big day, even off beyond the Rockies, because the Coast League is the first of all the leagues of prominence to begin operations and the last to close.

Our season is seven months long, and the seven months' grind is scheduled to drop into its time-worn groove with Portland at Los Angeles, Oakland at San Francisco and Venice at Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake Replaces Sacramento. Salt Lake is a new city in the Coast League. It takes the place of Sacramento, and there is much conjecture as to the possibility of the Utah metropolis in an AA circuit. Cliff Blankenship, an ex-Coast catcher, is managing the Mormons—or Bees if you wish it—and the chances are that if Blankenship puts a contending team in the field his home fans will give him big-town support.

So far as doping out the strength of the clubs is concerned, it can't be done. Ye deopster may ridicule this or that team only to have his prognostications knocked into a cocked hat the next day by the addition of a couple of big league castoffs.

Oakland did little thing the other day by grabbing Mundorff, of the Seals, and Johnston, of the Chicago Cubs. Those two players will help the Oaks a lot.

Speas to Take Ryan's Place. Clarence Rowland, manager of the Chicago White Sox, checked his braves against all the Coast clubs this Spring and his opinion looks good enough to us—San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Venice.

Portland possesses a vastly overhauled alignment. Mack will have a new third baseman and a new keystone combination. Davis or Naughton will start at third in Korea's place, with Murphy, of the Phillies, and Stumpf, of the Cleveland Spiders, at short and second. Speas, a youngster, Buddy Ryan's place. Kircher, of Atlanta, will act as utility outfielder. Portland has substantially the same old pitching staff, with a couple of youngsters sprinkled in.

While this bunch doesn't appear quite as strong as the pennant winners as they finished last season, Waterbury is the best little rehabilitator in the business, and if there is a weakness you can rest assured that hole will get instant plugging.

Local clubs have ceased fretting, however, even when their Beavers get off to a bad start.

Angels Shift at Second. The Los Angeles club also will furnish a new combination around second. McMullen of the Tacoma club will start at second base, and Terry, the tiny Stanford star, has played again in the opener at shortstop. Otherwise the Angels will be about the same old squad, minus Ethmke, and with Muesel as spare outfielder.

Oakland and San Francisco (angle) are in the opener at home for the first time since 1912, when the Oaks gave their transbay rivals such a terrible mauling.

The Oaks look like Jacob's coat, or more correctly, like a barnstorming all-star lineup. Elliott, of the Venice is behind the bat; Mundorff and Johnston, former Seals, are under new colors; Malarkey, former Senator; Lindsay, once with Portland, and Litchell, of Venice, besides Alcock, ex-Chicago shortstop, and Manda, a regular season backer from Decatur, of the Three-Eye League, decorate the lineup.

This club is vastly renovated except in the pitching department, where Christian thinks he is exceptionally strong. Boyd is the principal addition to the twirlers.

Seals Also in Made-Over Class. San Francisco also made-over club. Bill Wolverton has supplanted Del Howard as manager and the Seals will have three new infielders and one or two new outfielders. Harry Heilmann, the youngster, who played with Portland's Northwest club two years ago, will be the regular first-sacker; Lead, of Venice, will start at second, and Jemes, a kid from the Union Association, will hold down third.

Ping Bodie, famous fencebuster of the Seals 1909 pennant team, is back from Chicago. Reisel and Smith are noteworthy pitching additions.
