LINN AND BENTON GROWERS EAGER

Plans for Co-operative Association Go Ahead Rapidly to Aid Marketing.

PACKING STATIONS FIRST

When $15,000 in Stocks Is Subscribed Permanent Body to Be Effected--Stockholders to Have One Vote Only.

ALBANY, Or., March 27 .- (Special.)-Plans are developing rapidly for the organization of a Grower's Co-opera-tive Association for Linn and Benton counties, which, it is expected, will be effected by the middle of April.

The association, according to the plane will be one of the most thorough organizations of its kind in the state. Through it it is expected to murket all of the fruit and vegetable products of this section of the state on a uniform basis. It contemplates a complete system of marketing ware-houses, canneries and fruit driers. Only the establishment of packing stations will be attempted this season.

Co-operation is Sought.

The new association is expected not enly to afford markets for all fruit and vegetables raised in this section, but to increase the amount of produce.

"The association which is being formed is simply a movement towards co-operation in marketing in this section," said E. M. Reagan, vice-president of the Albany Commercial Club, who has been a leader in furthering the project, who has been a leader in furthering the project.

"The growers have realized that their produce cannot be marketed individually because the markets for what they raise in the Willamette Valley are in the great industrial centers of the North and East.

"To get our products to these markets it is necessary to assemble them in large quantities and have them properly graded and packed for shipment. That necessitates co-operation. Consumption Is Too Small.

"In parts of the valley the growers have been bringing their products to their home towns and going from house to house hunting for a market and are often discouraged because the people of the cities in the valley cannot consume a. I that can be raised," continued Mr. Resyam in showing the people of the cities in the valley cannot consume all that can be raised,"
need of such an organization. "They have now begun to see that most of their products must be shipped to districts where climatic and soil conditions are not so favorable to the growing of these things and where people turn their attention to other industries.
"There seems to be no doubt that if the Willamette Valley is ever to excel in any ore thing it must be in fruit and vegetable farming. The dairying industry is growing and will be one of our principal industries, but there are foo many other sections that can comnets with us in the ordinary field crops."

pete with us in the ordinary reactors."

When $15,000 in stock is subscribed a permanent organization will be incerporated, with a capital stock of $55,000, divided into 500 shares of $50 each. The growers themselves will take a majority of the stock and to make the organization strictly co-operative it is provided that the holder of one share has the same voting power as the holder of more than one share. The shareholders will elect the directors and they will elect a manager.

Many Growers Enthusiastic.

"The organisation contemplates shipping as much of the products in a fresh state as is possible and preserving what cannot be thus marketed." said Mr. Reagan. "A lot and warehouse first will be secured, and, as the grops require, equipment such as a packer, dryer, evaporator, cannoy, cider mill and vinegar factory will be in-

Where the plan has been understood "Where the plan has been understood it has aroused enthusiasm. The growing look on it as being the most favorable plan to get their products to the markets and thus make tilling of the soil profitable. The fact is, the owners of the land have not had to worry much about tilling the soil until recently, for the land was increasing in value fast enough to give the owner a good income.

The April land sale was ordered by the tiew Land Board, as reorganized

Business men in and around Albany are supporting the movement and would subscribe for more of the stock than it is intended for them to hold, for the simple reason that whatever makes the farmer prosperous helps the business man to a larger volume of business. That means increased prosperity and increased prosperity and increased population, which is the end toward which our efforts as Oregonians should be directed."

ASTORIA, Or., March 27.—(Special.)—Astoria's new Y. M. C. A. building will be dedicated tomorrow afternoon with appropriate exercises. The dedication services will be conducted by I. B. Rhodes, state secretary, while the address of the day will be delivered by Governor Withycombe.

The new building was opened March 23 with a reception to business men. This was followed in succession by "Ladies' day," "Scandinavian day" and "Boys' day." The association will begin its active work Tuesday with regular classes, its officers are: P. J. Brix, president; B. F. Stone, first vice-president; J. T. Ross, second vice-president; C. R. The association building, which stands at the corner of Twelfth and Exchange streets, is a two-story hollow tile brick structure, equipped with a gymnasium, reading and reception rooms, as well as well-furnished dermitories. The cost, completely furnished, is nearly $40,000.

In the Spring of 1913 Mrs. D. K. Warren donated the site and P. J. Brix made an offer of $5000 toward, the building fund. With this an executive committee, appointed by the state management, began its campaign and was successful in obtaining the money necessary to permit the efection of the building.
