London R. Mason, Jr., MacCormack Snow, Richard Jones, Lieutenant F. V. Schneider, of the Army Post.

Again last night, following the mixed-foursome tournament at the Waverly Country Club, Mr. and Mrs. MacMaster presided at a dinner for Miss du Pont, their guests including a number of the younger set. The occasion was the second of the dinner-dances at the Club and was a delightful affair in every detail. Seated at the MacMasters' table were Miss du Pont, Misses Maisie and Ailia MacMaster, Margaret Mearns, Rhoda and Nan Fennoyer, Russell, Charles Holbrook, Rogers MacVeach, J. E. W. Stephenson, Lieutenant F. V. Schneider, John C. Adams, Philip Fry and Curtis P. Bailey.

Miss Ruth Teal accompanied her father, Joseph Nathan Teal, on his trip to Washington, D. C., Monday night. Miss Teal will visit Miss Mary Cox, a popular society girl of the diplomatic set in the Capital City, after which she will visit old school friends in New York. Miss Teal is on a business trip and both he and his daughter will return to Portland early in the month.

Miss Helen Platt and sister, Miss Margaret Platt, left Friday for San Francisco to visit their uncle and aunt, Colonel and Mrs. R. G. Ebert. The Eberts, who were formerly stationed in Vancouver, B. C., are popular in Portland society as well as the Army Post, and are now in Berkeley, Cal.

Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett left last week for a visit in San Francisco to join friends and attend the Exposition.

Miss Failing and Miss May Failing were hosts for an informal bridge party and tea Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Brooke, a charming Washington, D. C., matron, is visiting here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hunt Lewis. Mrs. Brooke is well known in Portland society.

Another charming visitor in Portland is Mrs. Parks, wife of Colonel Parks, who for years has been an attaché in Brussels, and her daughter, Miss Genevieve Parks, who are domiciled at the Alexandria Court. Miss Parks has been here for several days, and her mother joined her last week. They undoubtedly will be vastly entertained during their sojourn.

The second of the Cinderella's dances will be a brilliant event of April 20 at the Waverly Country Club. This time it is to be a fancy dress affair, and the younger belles and beaux are settling a deal of pleasure out of planning their costumes.

One of the charming teas of the week was that for which Mrs. Vincent Cook, who is president of the Wellesley College Club of Portland was hostess yesterday, honoring the Waverly, St. Albans, and Waverly clubs of Portland. The rooms were beautiful with fragrant blossoms, arranged artistically. In the hall huge clusters of purple lilacs greeted the guests and in the reception-room were quantities of white hawthorne. An artistic arrangement of delicate pink petals, Japanese cherry and crab apple blossoms was combined with sprays of Japanese honeysuckle. The dining-room was a bower of beautiful purple Japanese plum blossoms arranged with white lilac and two varieties of daffodils. Large sprays of the plum blossoms and white hawthorne were placed about the rooms.

Mrs. Robert W. Lewis received with the hostess, and the tea table was presided over by Mrs. Walter Babson, recently from Los Angeles, and Miss Laura Northrup.

Miss Alice Gilman presided at a charming dinner party Wednesday evening, later entertaining her guests at the Orpheum Theater. Miss Gilman's guests were, Miss Jean Mackenzie, Miss Evelyn Carey, Miss Helen Peterson, Colin Livingston, Ben and Frederick Gilman, and Carl Donworth, of Seattle.

Vincent Cook left yesterday for a brief visit to the Hot Springs near San Francisco, and he also will visit the Exposition before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, of Alexandria Court, who have been visiting relatives in New Haven, Conn., for some time, leave for Florida and St. Petersburg, Fla., on Thursday. They have been detained in New Haven owing to the illness of Mr. Gilbert, who is now on the way to complete recovery.

Colonel and Mrs. Jay J. Morrow and little Miss Lucretia Butler, who have been traveling to the coast theater, will arrive Friday. Mrs. Aya has been passing several weeks in Portland with the formers' brother in El Paso, Tex., and later joined Colonel Morrow in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. William Orange Van Schuyver and small daughter left Wednesday for a fortnight's sojourn in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Stanley and son Frederick, Jr., are passing a few weeks at their ranch near Bend, Or.

College women and men are working hard to make their college fete to be given at Colton Hall the night of Friday, April 16, a huge success socially. The affair is planned for the benefit of a scholarship fund, and the general committee, assisted by the heads of different societies, will present an interesting programme, after which there will be dancing. Refreshments will be served from artistically decked booths, each to represent a different sorority, and they will be presided over by the fairest girls of the organization. The affair is being sponsored by a group of prominent women of Portland, including Mrs. James B. Kerr, Mrs. J. C. Elliot King, Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons, Mrs. C. E. Grelle, Mrs. Earl S. Cobb, Mrs. Alice Benson Beach, Mrs. Charles A. Hart, Mrs. Horace B. Fenton, Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mrs. Frank L. Knight, Mrs. B. A. Green, Mrs. V. A. Crum, Mrs. George Gerlinger, Mrs. R. Donald, Mrs. Alfred Moody, Mrs. Phila Ruth Yaelke, Mrs. J. E. Withrow and Mrs. Roscoe R. Giltner.

The programme follows: Oregon quartet, Delbert Stanger, Earl Farnsworth, Francis Curtis, Willard Shaver, presented by Delta Delta Delta; pantomime, "Little Maude," Charles Battell Loomis, presented by Kappa Kappa Gamma; solo dance, Zilba Crawford and Robert Cook, presented by Gamma Phi Beta; vaudeville sketch, presented by Delta Gamma; vocal solos, Marjorie Maxwell, presented by Kappa Alpha Theta; male chorus, presented by Alpha Phi; Greek interpretative dance, Mildred Keats, presented by Phi Beta; Portland Ad Club, quartet, N. A. Hoese, Dr. Rives M. Emerson, Hart-ridge Whip, R. O. Davidson, presented by Chi Omega; vocal solos by Miss Dagmar Kelly, selections.

The committee to represent the various sororities are headed by Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mrs. John R. Leach, chairman; Delta Gamma, Miss Helen Adams; Alpha Phi, Miss Grace Tucker; Delta Delta Delta, Miss Vera Redmond; Chi Omega, Miss Esther Meagle; Gamma Phi Beta, Miss Anna Taylor; Phi Beta Phi, Mrs. Burton Beck; Kappa Alpha Theta, Mrs. Wilhelm Bonekemper; Alpha Xi Delta, Miss Marion Schneider. A booth for the sale of tickets will be opened at Meier & Frank's store.

An engagement of interest announced yesterday was that of Miss D'Ethel Woodham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodham, of this city, to J. Carroll Richards, a prominent young business man of Tacoma. The bride-elect was hostess at an informal musical and tea yesterday afternoon at the family home in East Sixty-seventh street, South Park. The rooms were decorated in white lilac, apple blossoms and lilacs of the valley. The color scheme, pink and white, was carried out in the table appointments and throughout the house. Miss Woodham wore a smart frock of pink silk with overdrapes of white lace. Her corsage bouquet was of Cecile Brunner roses and lilacs of the valley. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Woodham, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. J. F. Rogers, Miss Mary Chambers and Mrs. A. M. Webster. During the afternoon musical selections were contributed by Miss Eva Johnson and Mrs. P. S. McMurdock, vocalists, and Miss Woodham, pianist. About 50 guests were entertained.

The wedding will take place in June. Mr. Richards comes of a prominent Baltimore family.

A number of social affairs are being planned for the bride-elect, who is an attractive girl and is popular among her many friends.

Miss Laura Smith left Monday for a short sojourn in San Francisco with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Charles T. Whitney also left Monday night for a visit in San Francisco, and later will go to Los Angeles, where she will visit Mrs. William H. Toax, a former Portland matron. On her return to Portland Mrs. Whitney will join her husband for a brief residence at the Waverly Country Club. They have been domiciled at the Irvington, where she will visit Mrs. William H. Toax, a former Portland matron. On

Miss Sybil Clifton, a popular belle of this city, is now making her home in Minneapolis with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Kenyon. Mrs. Kenyon and daughter, Miss Dorothy Kenyon, gave a large tea for their cousin several days ago, at which time Miss Kenyon's engagement was announced to Harry Edson Gofish.

Miss Clifton is a pretty girl and will be greatly missed from local social circles.

Delta Gamma alumnae will entertain with an informal dance at the Portland Heights Club Saturday. The affair promises to be one of the most enjoyable planned for the week of Spring vacation and the guests will include prominent college folk and members of the younger set. The active chapter of Delta Gamma at the University of Oregon will be represented by the following girls who are spending the vacation in Portland: Miss Helen Werlein, Miss Lucille Cogswell, Miss Lucille Huggins, Miss Alice Church, Miss Roberta Killam, Miss Alleen Townsend, Miss Jeannette Calkins, Miss Margaret Cornwall and Miss Marian Nell.

Mrs. J. E. Werlein and Mrs. F. H. McCormack spent the week-end at the Delta Gamma house.

A benefit dance will be given Tuesday night, April 13, at Linnea Hall for St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral. Mrs. F. C. Malpas is chairman of the candy committee.

Mrs. Cornelius Gardner entertained Friday at her home on Portland Heights, at a simply, but beautifully appointed luncheon in honor of her daughter, Barendina. Twelve girls entertained with a buffet supper, decorated table, gay with pink baskets, bonbons and favors, and exquisite blooms of the same shades. A doll's hat-trimming contest and games occupied the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis L. Straugh were host Friday night celebrating the anniversary of their wedding, also honoring Mr. and Mrs. Orange M. Clark.

Mrs. Charles Neelapach, who Entertained Extensively this Winter

Mrs. H. C. Wortman was hostess Friday afternoon complimenting the attractive bride-elect. The guests included only the younger set with a few young matrons. The rooms were charming with bouquets of delicate apple and pink Japanese cherry blossoms and maiden-hair ferns, quantities of wild erythronium being effectively arranged in the dining-room.

Four attractive young matrons, Mrs. Medford Reed, Mrs. M. E. Crumacker, Mrs. Charles Edward Stary and Mrs. Philip S. Kamm, presided at the tea tables. Charming young girls of the debutante set assisted the hostesses about the rooms. They were Misses Antoinette Mearns, Elizabeth Jacobs, Hildreth Humason, Helen Peters, Rhoda Kumein and Nan Fennoyer Russell.

A charming and interesting event is to be given Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Winslow B. Ayer for a number of the younger married set. Miss Draper, the clever monologist of New York, will entertain the guests. Supper will be served later.

Society is already regretting that the delightful dinner-dances at the University Club are over for the season. Tuesday evening's affair being the last one until next Fall. The dinner and dance was one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind given this season; about 150 men and women in gala attire dancing joyously through the evening. The dining-room glowed with the soft, warm tones of the self-decorations of the room, enhanced by the rosy tints of the quince and cherry blossoms used on the tables, and the handsome and sparkling gowns of the fair sex. Huge sprays of cherry blossoms, combined with ferns and palms, were arranged about the rooms.

The hosts of the evening and their guests were:

Curtis P. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Green, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. R. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Labbe, Miss MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. Philip S.
