

CONFERENCE TRACK RECORDS IN DANGER

Two Marks, Discus and 2-Mile, Regarded as Sure to Be Bettered Friday.

FOUR OTHER EVENTS FAST

440, Mile, Javelin and High Jump May Yield New Records at Annual Conference Meet at Corvallis This Week.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, May 22.—(Special.)—Two Pacific Northwest Conference records are almost certain to go by the board, and several others will be in danger, when the 1915 Conference track meet is held on the new Oregon Agricultural College track next Friday. Provided that the weather is reasonably good and that the track is in good condition, it is almost a foregone conclusion that the 440-yard dash, the mile run, the javelin, and the high jump should also yield records which will compare favorably with those hung up in days gone by.

The official record in the two-mile is 9:41, and was made by McCliland, of Washington, in 1912. Since that day, two sensational distance stars have landed in the Conference firmament. One of them is Guy Hobergood, wearing the orange and black of Oregon Agricultural College, and the other is Mose Payne, whose colors are the lemon and green of the University of Oregon. Dopesters everywhere figure that one of these two boys will hold the record after Saturday's Oregon meet. Fans say it will be Payne; O. A. C. fans say it will be Hobergood.

Hobergood's Best Time. Hobergood has run two miles on an official track in 9:37.1, which is 3.9 seconds better than the record. Payne has been caught almost this fast, and at the San Francisco meet was the victor over Hobergood on a slow track. A great race is sure to result when they meet Friday on the fast new Aggie path, with a big field to start from and every condition favorable for a smashing gait. Fans here are not only sure that the Conference record will go to the winner of the race, but they expect the time to be nearly 9:37.

Cole, of the Aggies, is the man who is doped to knock the spots off the Conference discus record of 121.1, set by himself at the Oregon-Oregon Agricultural College dual meet last year. Cole is probably the greatest man in his event who has ever appeared on the track suit at a Northwest Conference meet. His only rival is Edmunds, of Washington, who will also be in the ring next Friday. Cole hurled the plate 136 feet and some inches at San Francisco, winning with ease after Edmunds had beaten him in all the preliminary throws. On the way home, the Oregon, Corvallis and Washington teams were stalled for a few days in Northern California, and a track meet was scheduled to while away the time. Cole took a long swing, and 137 feet 7 3/4 inches was the result—the best intercollegiate discus record ever made. Cole can come within seven feet of this Saturday, the record is his.

Loucks' Mark in Danger. A sweet race is due in the 440-yard dash between Loucks, of Oregon, and Kaddery, of Corvallis. Loucks is credited with a record of 49.3, which ties the Conference record, but Kaddery beat him at San Francisco. Should both these boys be in shape Saturday, it is not at all unlikely that the winner will breeze across the tape close to the record.

Muirhead, of Oregon, is doped to win the high jump Friday, and many wise ones have it that the record will go. This sensational result of Hays, of Portland, in the javelin, with Phillips, of Idaho, pegging the stick around 180 feet, and considering the well-known tendency of this man to pull off phenomenal heaves at intervals, it will not be a surprise if this Idaho star should tear loose and hang up a new one.

No sprinter has appeared this year who has shown enough as yet to make it likely that the Conference record of 24 will be touched. In the 220, Kelly's 21.2 record seems safe. Morrison, of Idaho, looks like the best of the field this year in this event.

Distance Men Fast. Clyde, of Washington, Loucks and Nelson, of Oregon, and Reynolds, of Oregon, should force the time in the 880 well down toward the record, now held by Nelson at 1:57.1. Again in the mile, Huggins, Clyde and Reynolds should furnish competition for each other and a beautiful race for the fans.

Field events, other than the discus, javelin and high jump, though closely contested, and though there will be good men entered in each of them, will probably not yield records which will touch those now holding.

The new track is well drained and well built, and even though rains may occur during the week, the track should be fast. Only rains on Friday morning can slow it up. The 220 and 440 hurdles will have to be held on a curved track, but a beautiful straightaway will be ready for the century and high hurdles. The track is 10 lanes wide. No preliminary heats should be necessary, which means that the athletes will be at their best when the event comes off.

The railroads of the Northwest have all granted one and one-third round trip rates for the meet. College authorities have dismissed classes for the afternoon, and Corvallis merchants will close their stores at noon. For these reasons Dr. Stewart expects a big crowd. Amateur grandstand room has been provided. George Varnell, of Spokane, will act as referee and starter, and from the time that he pulls the trigger to let the bunch away on the mile, it is promised that there will be no delay until the relay brings the meet to a close.

RAIN PREVENTS TRACK MEET

Athletic Carnival at Corvallis is Spoiled by Blustery Weather.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, May 22.—(Special.)—Heavy rains this afternoon frustrated the plans of "Doc" Stewart and "Bill" Hayward for a track meet to determine the respective strength of the Oregon Agricultural College and the University of Oregon. The classic meet was postponed until Saturday, June 5. The Oregon team, accompanied by rooters, was on the ground this afternoon, but the outdoor track was wet as a lake, and the wet-grounds sign was hung.

TILLAMOOK WILL PLAY

County League of Four or Six Teams to Organize.

Bay City, Nehalem, Beaver, Cloverdale and Tillamook Suggested as Towns for New Circuit.

BAY CITY, Or., May 22.—(Special.)—Tillamook County is to have a baseball league in the near future, either four or six teams to be included. This was made certain by the interest taken in the movement this week, when a meeting was called in Tillamook and plans discussed.

Representatives from Bay City, Nehalem, Beaver and two Tillamook teams were present and a telephone call to the manager at Cloverdale disclosed that a team from that point would likely seek admission. It thus proves true Tillamook will enter two teams, otherwise one picked team is to be chosen.

J. R. Callahan was elected temporary president. The bylaws were drawn up with view to making the teams local, and to make it impossible to run in outside professionals when the need arises. No one will be allowed to play who has not been in the county 30 days, and player is prevented from being registered on more than one team at a time. He must register with his team at least two days before playing in an game.

Business men have willingly promised to support the league. Two games have already been played, this year. Bay City having defeated Tillamook, 1 to 1, a week ago, and Tillamook getting revenge last Sunday in a 3-to-2 game.

WELTERWEIGHTS TO BOX

Valley Trambetius is Matched with Frank Parslow.

Imperial Club Takes Over Defunct Mohawk Club Quarters and Schedules Bouts for Friday Night.

Valley Trambetius and Frank Parslow, the two best welterweight boxers in the city, will settle their dispute regarding the city title next Friday night. The Imperial Club has taken over the defunct Mohawk Club on Union avenue and will stage the bout. In the future, the place will be known as the Imperial Club.

OREGON MEN READY

Collegiate Season to Close With Conference Games.

VICTORY IS EXPECTED

Boyles Not Expected to Win in 100 Unless He Runs as Never Before.

220 is Likely to Be of Keen Competition.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 22.—(Special.)—One more meet and the collegiate season for track and field at the University of Oregon campus. The games to come, however, are among the biggest of their kind to be staged in the Northwest.

The conference games will be held on the Corvallis track Friday. This afternoon Bill Hayward and his lemon-yellow athletes are going through the schedule of a dual meet. The odds are heavily in favor of the Oregon men and a victory is taken for granted. The Aggies are not ceded more than four first places and with this margin Bill should have little trouble in carrying off the honors.

Oregon will not win a point in the 100-yard dash, unless Tommy Boyles runs as he has never run before.

The 220-yard dash should be a pretty struggle between Loucks and Kaddery. Idaho, Whitman and Pullman have men in this race who will furnish the keenest of competition. Morrison, of Gem State College, especially, is a fleet man and the result is far beyond prediction.

Loucks, by virtue of his great record-making race of a year ago, is the heavy favorite in the quarter. The half mile should go to Martin Nelson. "Swede" has been enacting a great comeback during the past three weeks and is once more running in great style. Reynolds, of the Agricultural

WILL HEAD WASHINGTON CREW

Crew Arranges for Men to Practice for Shriner Week Regatta.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, May 22.—(Special.)—Clark Will, three-time letter man on the varsity crew, was elected captain of the eight for the next year at the annual banquet of the Varsity Boat Club Friday night. "Brick" is a Junior in the school of mines. He is popular with the crew men and has turned out faithfully for a place in the boat. He rowed at No. 3 this year. Four other letter men also will be back next year.

The possibilities of a big regatta on Lake Washington during Shriner week in July, between Washington, Stanford and the Eastern crews that are expected to come West, has moved Coach Conbar to make arrangements to accommodate as many crew men as possible at the crew-house and let the men work downtown during the day and turn out for practice in the evening.

BIG SHOOT IS TO BE HELD JUNE 6-9

Nimrods of Northwest Are to Gather at Gun Club for Annual Tourney.

PROGRAMME IS ARRANGED

More Than $800 in Cash and $2500 in Trophies to Be Awarded to Winners in Various Classes. Festival Gives $100.

For four days nimrods from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Montana, British Columbia and many other districts will be in Portland contesting at the annual Northwest trap-shooting tourney to be held under the auspices of the Portland Gun Club at the Jenne Station grounds, June 6, 7, 8 and 9. President H. H. Everding is planning on having the largest attendance ever seen at a similar affair in this section of the country, and with this idea in mind extensive plans have been made to handle an exceptionally large gallery as well.

The official programme issued last week contained a complete survey of the four days' shooting. Practice day, June 6, has been set aside for the visiting shooters that they may be able to get a fine on the grounds and become accustomed to the traps.

In all, a total of more than $900 in cash, as well as $2500 in trophies, will be awarded to the winners in the various classes before the final shooting on Wednesday, June 9. This shoot has been so arranged that the day of the Northwest shoot on the same day as the opening of the annual Portland Rose Festival.

To create more interest the Rose Festival Association has donated $100 to be used with $50 given by several prominent local sportsmen for a special event of the contest will be the day of the Northwest shoot on the same day as the opening of the annual Portland Rose Festival.

The six-round trophy will be placed before the shooters. The Northwest handicap trophy at present is held by J. F. Dodds, of San Diego, Cal., and it may be that he will be unable to appear to defend his title. G. L. Becker, of Ogden, Utah, possesses the Du Pont Anasodra trophy, while the Walla Walla Bowler is listed under the name of G. F. Eggers, Pasco, Wash.

C. A. O'Connor, of Spokane, Wash., won the Dayton medal last year because of his good shooting, and C. E. McKeivey, of Seattle, Wash., showed his heels to the other contestants for the Multnomah Bowler's trophy. The individual medal found P. I. Nelson, of Yalet, Wash., in a class by himself, and A. L. Tippett, of Deer Lodge, Mont., won the remarkable record of 136 out of 150 for one year.

G. L. Becker, of Ogden, Utah, captured the Globe trophy again during the 1914 campaign, with the result that the huge cup now is his personal property. He "came back" strong this year by notifying President Everding that he had replaced the Globe trophy by the Becker trophy, and the new cup will be contested for the first time two weeks from tomorrow. The three-man team, composed of E. Chingren, H. W. McElroy and A. H. Garkow, all of Spokane, hold the three-man trophy.

With the exception of the Becker trophy, all these awards were up last year and they will be up again this season. Practically all the present holders will be here to try and win the trophy away with them again. Quite a notable fact is that not one of these cups or medals held by Portland men, although there are such "scatter-gun" artists as Pete O'Brien, Frank Templeton, H. F. Willson and Lou Rayburn listed in the Portland Gun Club's books.

Women Are to Take Part. Among the women expected to be present during the four-day meeting, Mrs. Charles A. O'Connor, of Spokane, is considered to be among those listed high. In the recent Washington State shoot held at Seattle Mrs. O'Connor made the remarkable record of 136 out of 150 shot at and this was considerably better than some of the men could boast of.

Last Sunday President Everding and Vice-President Strouwer were guests of President James K. Simpson, of the Stevenson (Wash.) Gun Club. The two Portlanders were made honorary members of the Washington club, and then in the regular weekly shoot carried away first and third honors. Mr. Everding finished with 78 per cent, while Mr. Strouwer was 79. Following are the scores recorded in the Stevenson shoot: H. H. Everding, 88; F. Billington, 80; A. W. Strouwer, 79; C. Ziesler, 76; B. M. Wright, 76; F. Nachter, 72; L. Fleish, 64; George Ainsworth, 64; E. Luman, 64; J. Daucher, 64; J. K. Simpson, 61; George Christensen, 55; W. Swisher, 48; E. L. Youmans and J. St. Martin, 48; F. Knapp, 49; T. Lindis and W. Hufford.

The man who mests you today and doesn't recognize you tomorrow is also among the provocations which induce people to go out and throw bombs at everything.

BEFORE UNIVERSAL PEACE IS DECLARED IT MAY BE NECESSARY FOR THESE WELL-KNOWN TRAPSHOOTERS TO STEP UP TO THE FIRING LINE.

This group of men contains some of the greatest professional trapshooters in the world. In fact, L. H. Reid was ranked as the world's greatest, when the 1914 official standings were issued by the Interstate Association. This picture was taken at the home of the Portland Gun Club, on the Jenne Station grounds, during the recent Oregon State shoot and everyone of these stars will be on hand to show what they can do at the coming Northwest shoot, June 6, 7, 8 and 9. While these men are professionals yet they cannot compete in a registered trapshooting tourney for cash prizes. Money is strictly for the amateurs alone, but that doesn't keep these blue rock smashers from every tourney of importance in the Northwest. First comes P. J. Holohan, of Portland, then second from the left is E. B. Morris, also of Portland. James Reid stands next and his home town is Portland. Frank Reihl, the fourth from the left, votes in Tacoma, Wash., and J. M. Bull says there is no place like Portland. E. B. Van Arman is a little crowded, but still he doesn't mind, when he knows that he is standing next to C. W. McKean, the jolly one of the party. Both scatter-gun artists have their mail addressed to Portland. Now, finally, we come to two of the big travelers of the crowd. L. H. Reid, given credit for being the greatest professional trapshot in the country last season, and last but not least, H. E. Poston. Les has his headquarters in Seattle, while Poston places San Francisco after his name on the Imperial Hotel register. H. R. Everding, president of the Portland Gun Club, has been assured that this nonagon will be here June 6, 7, 8 and 9.
