

THE "CARMEN" MEANING LOVE MADE TO THE PASTOR'S DEAR

Rev. Oliver P. Baum Shows How Affection of Mother, Like That of God, Is Often Unrequited.

Text: And it was told David what Rishpah had done. II Samuel xxii. 1.

BY REV. OLIVER P. BAUM, D. D. Colvly, Presbyterian Church. THE "CARMEN" is a character in the Old Testament that seems to hold a place in history held by very few mothers of the long ago.

Gibeonites their revenge, and asks that they choose what shall be done, and they ask that seven sons of King Saul be given them to hang upon the hill of Gibeon, and this request is granted, and among the seven there were the two sons of Rishpah and the five sons of Michal.

Children Put Above Life. To Rishpah there were born two sons—Armoni and Mephibosheth—and, like all natural mothers, she loved her children better than herself.

the flesh, until there was nothing but the skeleton of bones, shaken by fierce winds and storms, until they began to fall from their places, one by one, to the ground below, and how the mother of Rokee used to go in the silence of the night and pick up the bones of her boy and carry them, one by one, to the old Shoreham churchyard and lay them together to rest.

Theme of Love Carried. I say it is somewhat shocking to Western ears, but still it carries the great thought of that undying thing the mother's love, which is carried for her child, the anxiety and consideration for the welfare of her child.

I think we all enjoy the finer and more subdued references to the mother's love. I was handed on the highest hill, I know whose love would follow me still, I was drowned in the deep sea, I know whose love would come down to me.

more fully appreciate it until it is gone, as well illustrated here. She was never sufficiently prized. The world is divided into two classes, those who do not serve little and get much, and those who serve much and get little.

Mother Love Unrequited Often. Mr. Froude, in his life of Carlyle, tells about finding Carlyle's last letter to his mother, in which he says: "I am now grown old, I have had various ailments, but I have been unrequited love in too many instances, and I might stir up your memories until you feel like writing a letter to your mother and kissing her forehead."

ITALIAN ARTISTS BEGIN TO LEAVE FRANKS OF METROPOLITAN SINGERS

More Important of Younger Men Already Are Called to Colors—Patriotic Touch to Production of "Carmen" Sweeps Over Audience—Atlantic Fleet Officers Enthusiastic Guests.

BY EMILIE FRANCES BAUER. NEW YORK, May 22.—(Special.)—It would seem as though Giulio Gatti-Casazza, the energetic impresario of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has not seen the last of harrowing his artists together.

Among these are Ferrari-Fontana, who sailed leaving his wife, Mme. Matzner, in this country, and the departure is pending of Martinielli, Botta and many others of the Italian contingent.

Levine has been granted privileges not ordinarily permitted as is indicated by the fact that he has been allowed to travel by rail and to make tours which have taken him away from his home in Wannsee for several weeks.

Camille Saint-Saens arrived in New York on his way to San Francisco, where he is engaged for four concerts to be given Saturday night, June 12, Wednesday night, June 16, Sunday, June 20, and Saturday night, June 26.

Wagner and the fact that Wagner himself had pronounced Saint-Saens as the greatest living French composer. She also recalled the fact that two years ago Wagner was called to the colors.

The eminent Polacca and his charming wife were to have sailed on the steamer "Austria" for San Francisco, but that Mme. Polacca became seriously ill the sailing was, if not renounced, at least considerably postponed.

Patrowski plans to return to his home in Morges, Switzerland, after completing what he came to undertake. The collection of money for the United States for the support of the sufferers of his country. He is devoting himself to this, heart and soul, and almost has forgotten that he has a long American tour before him which will require the greater concentration and work in point of the fact that he has left himself far from the realm of music.

much as she has photographs of herself and the composer in her own music-room in Paris. Notwithstanding the fact that it was for the benefit of the sewing girls of Paris that "Carmen" was sung on Thursday night at the Metropolitan Opera-house, it probably seldom occurred in bringing an overwhelming hurrah for American patriotism.

At the base of the pedestal, on their knees, were Misses Braslau and Sparkes, in the uniforms of Red Cross nurses. The drop curtain behind Miss Farrar was made to look like the letter "W" in light and being upon it, and as the singer began the first strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner," the audience, with a feeling awe arose from their seats.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—To obtain the co-operation of the public in preventing forest fires, which are doing a great deal of damage in the East this Spring, the United States Forest Service has prepared 10 "don'ts" which should be observed in the woods. It is hoped that these rules may have a beneficial effect during the fire season of the Southern Appalachians, which is not yet over, and that of the North woods, which is just beginning and will be in full force in the latter part of the month.

conditions combine to offer a measure of hope that the industry can be established on a profitable basis. In our own Northwest section, it will take probably considerable time to develop in any degree the industry. I believe, however, that there is a field if the interest of children can be enticed intelligently in this work. It would be a great success for the industry if it might not lead to much profit, certainly would prove most interesting. The study of botany in a practical way is only one of the valuable incidents connected with the work.
