Notes of the Game.

Rear-Admiral Bond, of the flagship South Dakota, was a visitor at the ball game. He said the President's proclamation forced him to be neutral.

The Associated Charities did not reap much of a financial reward from the benefit, it is said. Owing to the Rose Festival few ticket workers could be held in line, and the Charities likely will ask for snother date later in the year.

To all appearances Lush tried to get Umpire Guthrie to kick him out of the game after his bad second inning, but Guthrie was wise and refused to bite. Lush was sore at a ball decision or something that was not apparent to spectators. Wait McCredic then finished what Guthrie wouldn't by sending Evans into the box.

Joe Gedeon covered second like a plumber on a throw from Hallinan in the seventh, and because Bates stepped on his toetsies the entire Sait Lake crew put up a holler to Umpire Held. They claimed Bates interfered with a possible double, evidently on the theory that the base runner is not entitled to any of the path around the bag.

and it was called a balk. Bates was motioned home from third base by Umpire Guthrie.
