classmates. Miss Sison is en route to Honolulu, and during her sojourn here she will be entertained extensively. Miss Helen McCusker entertained for her yesterday with an informal tea at the Waverly Country Club, following a motor trip about the city.

Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman, who accompanied Mrs. Alfred A. Aya and baby daughter to their home in La Pine, Or., returned to Portland Thursday.

Miss Margaret McCormick returned last week from a fortnight's visit at Newport, Or.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. O'Brien, of Pendleton, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coo A. McKenna.

Mrs. John Cochran, of Salt Lake City, is the house guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Alva Jacobs, for several weeks.

Thomas Dobson, who has been studying vocal in the East, is expected to reach Portland soon.

Mrs. Rutherford S. Hart, of the Army post, wife of Lieutenant Hart, is one of the most popular young matrons in Army circles. She is in demand at all social functions in the military city, also at numerous smart affairs in Portland. Both Mrs. Hart and her husband frequently entertain with delightful affairs, many of their guests including Portland's smart set.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Dickson left on the steamer Saturday for a short trip to California.

Honoring Mrs. Johnston P. Porter, who will leave soon for Halifax, N. S., to join her husband for two years' residence there, the women of the Westminster Presbyterian Church were hostesses for a charming and elaborate reception at the home of Mrs. C. C. Newcastle on Monday afternoon. The room was aglow with garden flowers and the gowns of the women were the source of much admiration. A charming musical programme was a large part of the festivities. Mrs. Max Shillock, Mrs. Bohlman and Miss Abby Whiteside contributed to the affair. Miss Florence Hill played a number of selections on the mandolin, accompanied by Mrs. Goehring.

During the first hour the tea table was presided over by Mrs. Kate Westaway, Mrs. Charles Baker, Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Alvin Baird. The following hour Mrs. L. E. Kern, Mrs. J. P. Mann, Mrs. H. N. Randall and Mrs. H. W. Wells served tea and coffee. The service was assisted by Misses Rita Partridge, of Boston, Mary Westaway, Margaret Porter, Mary Kern, Mary Chapin, Mary Baker and Katherine Lockwood. Two little maids, Misses Helen Randall and Grace Wells, received the guests at the door.

Assisting about the drawing-rooms were Mrs. Frederick Baker, Mrs. Coleman Wheeler, Mrs. H. L. Chapin, Mrs. S. P. Lockwood, Mrs. Buckley, Mrs. Charles Read, Mrs. Rosencrans, Mrs. Sydney Smyth, Mrs. Ralph Fisher and Mrs. Charles Fisher.

Mrs. Andrew Porter and Mrs. Newcastle received with the honor guest and hundreds of prettily gowned women called during the afternoon to bid adieu to Mrs. Porter, who will be missed greatly from the church activities.

An interesting and charming wedding of the week was that of Miss Elizabeth Hoar and Calvin Brainerd Cady, solemnized on Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn, who are old friends of the couple. Rev. W. A. M. Breck read the service, the rooms being attractively decked with garden flowers and greenery.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of exquisite Chinese embroidered crepe, and her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. An old friend of her family, L. L. Barnes, of Seattle, gave her in marriage. William Cady acted as best man.

A profusion of brilliant-toned vine maple boughs was banded along the walls and on the ceiling. The drawing-room was transformed into a bower of syringa, roses and lilies, combined with the vine maple foliage. In the living-room huge bowls of white peonies, fox glove in white and lavender and the vine maple were attractively arranged, white satin ribbons and white flowers dividing the rooms. Everywhere in the hall and on the staircase were quantities of beautiful blossoms. After the ceremony a buffet supper was served, Mrs. Charles McCullough and Miss Alice Shedd presiding at the coffee urns. Miss K. Lucy Trevett and Miss Mary Hillyer assisted about the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Cady left for a short wedding trip, and upon their return will make their home in this city for at least a year.

The bride is well known in art circles in Portland, and during her two years' residence here has made a host of friends. Mr. Cady, in addition to being a musician of note, is popular socially in Portland, where he has passed his summers for some years. He has been connected with the Teach-

Miss Kathleen Lawler has returned from New York to pass the summer with her mother, Mrs. Honora Lawler.

Portland Lodge of Elks on June 2 held the most successful entertainment for its women friends ever given in its history. The lodge and club rooms were decorated prettily.

Programmes were rendered in both rooms under the auspices of the committee of which Past Exalted Ruler Gus C. Moser was chairman. There were selections by the all-Elks' band, instrumental and vocal solos and numbers by professionals. About 300 persons attended.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Mace to Oscar A. Spield will take place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 15, at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mace, at 451 Weldier street.

Miss Olga Spield will be maid of honor, and will act as best man. Following the ceremony there will be a reception from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

In the gardens of the Felix W. Isherwoods, the Catholic Woman's League will hold their tea and lawn fete Wednesday afternoon. The interior of the attractive residence also will be used for the event, and the gardens, which are admirably adapted to this particular style of diversion, will be en fete for the party. Prominent matrons and maids will assist in making the event notable.

Delta Gamma held an initiation Friday night for the following girls, who are freshmen at the University of Oregon: Lucile Huggins, Aileen Townsend and Marian Nell, of Portland, and Margaret Cornwall, of Berkeley, Cal.

and Mrs. Edmond S. Dickey, Miss Dickey and Mr. Dickey's sister, Miss Henrietta Dickey, of Baltimore. They were returning from the Panama-Pacific Exposition where they were present as members of the Governor's party in the formal opening of the Maryland State Building. Covers were laid for ten additional guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Boss and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bratton.

One of the delightful events characterizing the Rose Festival was a tea party on board the South Dakota Friday afternoon, given by Ensign Kerr, an Oregonian who was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1914 by Senator Fulton. The guests included the Misses Leah Perkins, Catherine Kirkpatrick, Burrus McClanahan, Mona Dougherty, of the University of Oregon; Gertrude Blackmar, niece of Rear-Admiral Baker; Stephanie Strain, Louis Cecil, Donna Spencer, Winifred Kerr, Mrs. R. E. Kerr and Bryce Kerr and James Porter Addams. A thorough inspection of the ship was made by the party, which proved most interesting and delightful. The wardroom, where tea was served, was prettily decorated with choice roses.

NEWS FROM THE ARMY POST

Quite a number from the post this week passed part of the time in Portland, attending the many parades, rose show and other amusements. The second and third battalions of the Twenty-first Infantry took part in the grand parade Friday morning. Major Wilson Chase was in command of the battalions and the Twenty-first Infantry band furnished music that was applauded all along the line.

Major Samuel V. Ham, until recently post quartermaster and who was recently promoted from the rank of Captain to Major of Infantry, has been assigned to the Twelfth Infantry, which is now on the Mexican border. Major and Mrs. Ham and children expect to leave about July 1 for San Francisco, after which he will probably take a four months' leave of absence. The Twelfth Infantry will by that time be sent back to the Presidio, it is believed.

Mrs. William Brooke, wife of Major Brooke, was a charming hostess at luncheon Tuesday. California apples were used in profusion in decoration, making an attractive and artistic effect. Covers were placed for 12. Those having the pleasure to attend were: Mrs. Peter C. Field, Mrs. Wilson Chase, Mrs. R. S. Knox, Mrs. Clute, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Kopper, Mrs. James B. Woolough, Mrs. Torrey B. Macabee, Miss Mary Rice and Mrs. Lucius C. Bennett.

Mrs. R. S. Knox entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday. Guests: Mrs. Torrey B. Macabee, one of the later

"I PICKED OUT A SUIT FOR YOU YESTERDAY, MOTHER, 'at CHERRY'S, the CREDIT STORE.'"

"For me, Dora? Whatever were you thinking of? Surely you know I haven't the money to pay for a new suit this summer!" "I know that, mother. I paid the first installment on this suit for you, however, and I'm going to buy it for you ON WEEKLY INSTALLMENTS!" "It's a soft, charming tan shade, in gabardine, made with a graceful full skirt and the cutest short jacket! I know it's just the kind you've been wanting, so I reserved it for you quick, before someone else could snap it up."

"Come downtown with me in the morning, mother. CHERRY'S Suits always fit exquisitely, but there may be a little alteration or two. And I want you to help me choose between a checked Coat and another one at CHERRY'S."

"CHERRY'S SHOP is at 389-391 Washington street, in the Pittcock block."

Wash a pair of "cut price" silk gloves, then a pair of Kayser's. The difference in their appearance after one washing will show you why there are more Kayser's gloves worn than all other silk gloves combined.

THE SAFE WAY TO WASH SILK GLOVES Use only cold water and any pure soap. Rinse well and wring out in a towel but do not twist. Pull lengthwise, turn inside out and lay flat to dry. Do not hang up and never let a hot iron touch them.
