

WAR BARRERS TOTAL BILLION IN AMERICA

Industry Is Revolutionized by Contracts Obtained From Britain and Allies.

MANY NEW PLANTS TO RISE

Russia Buying Several Million Rifles and Hundreds of Locomotives—All Articles Needed by Armies Are Included.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—Within the past few weeks gold coin to the amount of $32,500,000 has been moved from Ottawa to New York and deposited in the sub-treasury for the account of J. P. Morgan & Co. This is only a small installment on Great Britain's war debt, whose purchases of ammunition and other supplies in the United States already mounts into hundreds of millions.

It is estimated that American manufacturers have contracted for something like 25,000,000 shrapnel shells, at a total cost of about $400,000,000. A portion of this enormous amount of shrapnel has been delivered, and orders are now pending for $100,000,000 worth of shells, both shrapnel and high explosive.

Orders Total $1,000,000,000. Authorities in a position to have first-hand information say that the requirements of the United States by the allied powers are as follows: Bethlehem Steel Corporation, $150,000,000; Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, $40,000,000; American Locomotive Company, $34,000,000; E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Powder Company, $100,000,000; Westinghouse Air Brake Company, $18,000,000; New York Air Brake Company, $17,000,000; Studebaker Corporation, $17,000,000; American & British Manufacturing Company, $1,000,000. The General Electric Company has practically completed negotiations for a contract of $100,000,000, in addition to an initial order of $10,000,000. Contracts for the latter amount, ranging down to a few thousand dollars, have been awarded to manufacturers throughout the country.

Others Share Business. Other concerns known to have shared in this business to a liberal extent are the Aetna Explosive Company, E. W. Elias Company, Colt Patent Fire Arms Company, Electric Boat Company, Hercules Powder Company, Savage Arms Company, Winchester Arms Company, Union Metallic Cartridge Company, Allis-Chalmers Company, American Car & Foundry Company, American Can Company, American Locomotive Company, Baldwin Locomotive Company, Crucible Steel Company of America and the Pressed Steel Car Company.

Upward of $300,000,000 worth of munitions have been purchased in Canada by the three larger allied powers. The Canadian Car & Foundry Company has undertaken to deliver shrapnel of a value of $33,000,000 to Russia.

In the early stages of the war the demand for shrapnel shells increased. But as a result of the experience gained at Neuve Chapelle and elsewhere on the fighting line, high explosive shells are now at a premium. Three and four-inch shells of the high explosive variety are now being manufactured in large numbers. Many other plants have begun to manufacture machinery to manufacture projectiles.

Benzol to Be Produced. The most important material entering into high explosive shells is benzol and its derivatives. Previous to the European conflict, Germany produced the major part of crude benzol, in common with almost all other war materials, in the production of ammunition.

Lack of benzol was the most serious difficulty when it became apparent that shrapnel was not to be successfully matched against the explosive shells of the Germans. Prodigious efforts have been made to remedy this condition.

The Lackawanna Steel Company was one of the first private agents to appreciate the part which benzol was to play in the world war. Immediately steps were taken to enlarge its already extensive plant for the production of crude benzol, which is made from coal smoke. As a result the company will soon have the largest benzol manufacturing plant in existence.

Announcement was made a day or two ago of the approaching completion of three large plants in the Pittsburgh district, for the manufacture of chemicals to be used in explosive shells.

Almost every day brings forth the announcement of manufacturing establishments completed or projected for the production of war materials. The E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Powder Company will put into operation in the next few days a new plant at Carney's Point, N. J., where 2000 men are to be employed in the manufacture of powder. The works of the International Praeposit Company at Metuchen, N. J., has just been taken over by Lewis Nixon, well known shipbuilder and manufacturer. The plant consists of 11 one-story buildings of corrugated iron, which will serve as the nucleus of a larger establishment. The mechanical equipment is being altered to manufacture high explosives.

Cotton Plants Purchased. Another transaction in which the Du Pont Company figured recently was the purchase of the Ettrick and Matocca cotton mills at City Point, Va., where gun cotton will be manufactured. Numerous companies which have not yet entered the field are being incorporated and organized. A typical instance is that of the Miller Electric Motor Company, incorporated at Albany, N. Y., last week, for the purpose of manufacturing submarines and aircraft.

Many manufacturers of ammunition are shipping their product to Canada, where it is loaded on steamers for Europe. Almost every vessel leaving New York and Boston carries quantities of supplies. The Union Metallic Cartridge Company is supplying 3,000,000 cartridges a week to the allies, and this will soon be increased to 7,000,000.

The American Steel Wire Company has delivered an enormous quantity of barbed wire to the allies. Many other manufacturers are similarly engaged.

An order for 2,000,000 rifles was secured from the Russian government by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. at $28.50 each. Both the Remington and Winchester companies have similarly heavy orders.

They are reported to be from 90 to 95 fathoms deep.

A small vessel fishing out of Puget Sound caught 15,000 pounds of halibut on these grounds in one day, the largest single day's take this vessel ever had made. In the three weeks ended June 2, more than 200,000 pounds of halibut were brought in from these grounds.

NEW HALIBUT BANK FOUND

Government to Survey Grounds Due West of Mouth of Columbia.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 19.—The bureau of fisheries has been advised of the discovery of halibut grounds lying from 27 to 35 miles due west of Northhead at the mouth of the Columbia River. These grounds were not investigated by the Government steamer last summer, but arrangements will be made to have the steamer Albatross survey the bank this season and determine its exact limits and fishery possibilities.

Advises received by the fisheries bureau are that these grounds, whose area and exact situation are unknown, probably constitute a veritable bank lying immediately between the two areas surveyed by Albatross last year.

Gentlemen: I am in receipt of your letter of the 27th inclosing check for $780.29 in payment of my policy maturing on the 21st instant.

I am very much pleased with the settlement made under this policy and it is quite a contrast to the one made last year by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, a copy of which settlement I sent you some time ago.

The Equitable policy was for $2000 and their settlement was over $500 less than yours would have been based on a $2000 policy. Very truly yours,
