A week for the study of child welfare is one of the important accomplishments of the children's bureau and the gatherings will be held in the Palace of Education at the Exposition from June 28 to July 3. Problems of the child will be discussed by eminent specialists from all over the country. Thirty children will be examined daily by specialists, beginning with a psychologist. After passing through standardized tests the child will be given a score card to show the mother where she is failing to secure the best possible results. It is hoped to demonstrate the value of such work as a municipal activity.

on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Hettie Dunn. They have now adjourned until Fall when the regular outlined course will be resumed.

An interesting piece of news to the Parent-Teacher associations of the city is the announcement that Miss Alma Thelander, who has been a teacher in the Clinton-Kelly School for four years will matriculate at Columbia University, in New York, this Fall. Miss Thelander has been popular and well known in school circles of Pertland.

More than 30 teachers were present at the annual Vernon Parent-Teacher of the social service department at 3 o'clock lasted until 3:30 o'clock, when the teachers and other members convened for the reading of reports and final business discussions. A large number was in attendance and the affair was most successful. The association will have a few committee meetings during the Summer and in September will resume its work. Remarkable growth and expansion of both the work and the organization was noted. The Portland Parent-Teacher's Association has become a potent club and social factor during the year.

On Friday afternoon the Rose City Park women's department had a de-lightful luncheon at the Rose City Park Clubhouse. Afterwards the following Clubhouse.
