

BELT ROAD ROUND TRIP. HOLMAN IS PLAN

Rufus Holman Back From Trip Over Proposed Route Made With Forest Officials.

ESTIMATED COST $60,000

Commercial, Scenic and Climatic Advantages Appeal to County Commissioner, Who Thinks Drive Would Be Popular.

County Commissioner Rufus Holman has returned from a three-day trip to Mount Hood, where he went in company with officials of the United States Forestry Service and T. S. Schuyler, of the United States Department of Highways and Public Roads, to procure data upon which to base specific plans for the construction of a strip of mountain road between Mount Hood Lodge, in Multnomah County, and Summit House, in Wasco County, through the National forest.

The idea first came to Mr. Holman last August when on a trip to that district. He was struck by the remarkable climate of the surrounding country, and when he returned, if a stretch of road 23 miles long was built between Mount Hood Lodge and Summit House a trip around Mount Hood from Portland would be possible. He began investigations that led to the trip of last week.

Mr. Holman was accompanied by Charles H. Flory, assistant district forester of the local office, Chief Forester Graves and Mr. Schuyler.

The party left Portland at 7:50 A. M. last Wednesday, arrived in Hood River about noon and reached Mount Hood Lodge about 3 o'clock.

Climate Change Noted. "What impressed me most on the fast trip was the remarkable change of climate that we underwent between Portland and Mount Hood Lodge," said Mr. Holman. "We left Portland in the morning amidst lowering clouds and driving rain and were throwing snowballs in the sunshine on Mount Hood in the afternoon."

Mr. Holman has discussed the proposed road with Representatives McArthur and Sinnott and will make an effort to have joint meetings of the four counties bordering on Mount Hood called to co-operate in petitioning the chief forest officer for a preliminary survey to gather facts upon which to ask Government action.

While Mr. Holman was struck with the beautiful scenery along the route of the proposed road, he also has an eye to the profits it would bring to the farmers and producers of the vast district.

At the present time there is not even a possible trail for part of the distance between the two points.

Estimated Cost $60,000. In speaking of the construction of the road Mr. Holman declared it would be easy to construct when compared to the Columbia River highway. Although the Government officials made the trip unofficially and would make no estimate of cost, Mr. Holman gathered that $60,000 was a good estimate. This sum would be drawn from the funds created by the Government from the receipts of its forests. A certain per cent of the gross receipts is set aside for expenditure on highways and roads.

The official connects with the Forestry Service said that a strip of roadway connecting the Mount Hood Lodge and Summit House would facilitate in getting instruments of fire protection into the reserve.

The party spent Wednesday night at Mount Hood Lodge and started the first day and spent the night at Government Camp, 12 miles from Mount Hood Lodge. They arrived at Government Camp at 10 o'clock and returned to Portland, a distance of 57 miles, by auto.

Round Trip 170 Miles. With the new strip of roadway put in, the entire distance from Portland over the Columbia River Highway to Mount Hood and back over the old Barlow road would be 170 miles.

"Portlanders have no idea how near old Mount Hood is," said Mr. Holman. Home Road, proprietor of Mount Hood Lodge, said that in time he expected that a magnificent highway would traverse this district, with small taverns and resting places strewn along the wayside similar to the highways that traverse the Alps in Switzerland.

Tomorrow Mr. Holman will confer with the local Government officials regarding the best way to proceed with the circulation of a petition. Those in the party besides Mr. Holman, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark, Mrs. Amelia Baker, C. A. Bell, all of Hood River; Charles H. Flory, Assistant District Forester; T. H. Sherrard, Forest Supervisor; J. T. Schuyler, Highway Engineer, United States Forest Service; First Ranger Cooper; Des Wright, packer, United States Forest Service; Leslie Butler, member of State Highway Advisory Board.

CONCERT PLANS Muddled

Albany Council Makes Arrangements and Then Cancels Them.

ALBANY, Or., June 26.—(Special.)—"Of course," describes the status of public band concerts in Albany this summer.

Last summer concerts were given by the Albany High School Band each Wednesday evening on the grounds of the Central Public School. A few weeks ago the City Council made arrangements with the Albany School Band for similar concerts this year.

The arrangement was revoked later when a petition signed by prominent men was presented in favor of employing "the best band in the city" and having the concerts on First street. Then the Albany School Band was contracted with, and later that contract was revoked.

The Council members say no more concerts will be given.

by offering $25,000 in bonds for favorable testimony. The charges, which created a furor in Judge Kavanaugh's court Friday and which caused for the accused denied out of court, finally failed to come to the surface in the progress of the hearing yesterday, and there was little evidence yesterday of the reasons existing between the contending factions the day before.

The hearing yesterday was taken up largely with the examination of witnesses familiar with the timber and logging lands of the parties to the suit. Mr. J. O. Pearson and M. T. O'Connell testified as to various dealings with the Kribs and Jones concern and as to the value of the timber and values of the timber and timber lands involved.

Mr. O'Connell, an old lumberman, showed familiarity with the details of logging operations. He said that Kribs' crews were now engaged in logging off the land in dispute.

CHARITIES AID IS SLOW

SUBSCRIPTIONS DURING WEEK FAIL TO REACH MARK EXPECTED.

Less Than Half Sum Needed to Help Poor Through Summer Obtained, but Campaign Will Continue.

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Includes entries like 'Previously reported $2200.45', 'Cash $10.00', 'A friend 10.00', 'Fidelity Coast Biscuit 20.00', 'Company 10.00', 'Mrs. C. W. Flanders 20.00', 'Neustadter Brothers 10.00', 'Cash 5.00', 'Elizabeth Corcoran 1.00', 'J. L. Jameson 1.00', 'Total $2239.95'. Includes note: 'Donations should be sent to V. R. Manning, 411 Commercial block, or to R. S. Howard, treasurer Associated Charities, Ladd & Tilton Bank.'

The expectations of last week were hardly realized in the subscriptions to the maintenance fund of the Associated Charities, which was expected to reach $2500 by Saturday night. The donations came in slowly the last few days and last night the total was only $2239.95. This is less than half the fund necessary to continue the relief work of the organization through the summer months.

The campaign will be continued for a few weeks longer and an increased effort to raise the total required will be made. In the meantime, the service of the charities will be extended to the needy families of the city as long as the resources of the organization hold out. The amount given thus far was made up largely of individual donations, four persons having given one-fifth of it.

Following are examples from yesterday's series of cases that applied to the charities in need of relief: 1. Italian family in which the father has been out of work all winter. There are five children all less than 12 years of age. Further credit has been refused at the family store. The family is in need of food.

2. Young couple with one child, 5 years old, are threatened with eviction. Husband has been ill and is unable to work.

3. Man with wife and two children to support in need of employment and help. Experienced engineer but cannot secure employment. Food and supplies are needed and he has no money.

4. Widow with three children owns a small bit of property but is in danger of losing it through foreclosure. Unless she can be assisted she will lose all she has.

5. Man, wife and two children. Man ill and woman too frail to work. Food and fuel are needed.

PENDLETON PIONEER DIES

A. C. Henderson Succumbs to Paralysis at Age of 79.

PENDLETON, Or., June 26.—(Special.)—Another "impartial" county pioneer, A. C. Henderson, who settled in this county in 1879, was called by death Thursday night, succumbing to old age and paralysis. He had been feeble for some time, and failed last after a stroke about a month ago. He died in St. Anthony's Hospital, aged 79 years. The funeral was held today from the Methodist Church, of which he had been a member for many years, in charge of Rev. Charles Hodshire.

Mr. Henderson was born in Ohio and came West as a young man, crossing the plains in 1862. He was a school teacher for 15 years. Until about a year ago, when he came to Pendleton, he lived upon his homestead, southeast of Pilot Rock. He is survived by a widow and two sons, L. B. Henderson of this city, and C. C. Henderson, of the Grand Ronde Valley.

Superintendent of Schools at Orling, Wash., for five years and will have that position again next year. He studied at Heidelberg University, Germany, and for seven summers has traveled in Europe both as a tourist and as a member of tourist companies. Mr. Rademaker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rademaker, live at 783 East Pacific street, in this city, and he has a sister, Mrs. G. Zeterson, of 905 East Davis street. He is well known in Portland, having visited here numerous times.

Mrs. Rademaker speaks German, French and English fluently. Dr. Thueringer, Swiss Vice-Consul at Tacoma, was one of the witnesses at the wedding.

Girl Comes From Switzerland to Wed Frank Radmaker.

WAR'S TERROR IS BRAVED

Rosa Staub, Courted in Lucerne, Keeps Pact to Meet Sweetheart When School Term Ends and Becomes Educator's Bride.

GIRL WHO BRAVED PERIL OF TRAVEL THROUGH EUROPE AND FRANCE SHE JOINED IN UNITED STATES.

Braving the peril of traveling through war-swept Europe and the danger of German submarines on the high seas, Rosa Staub, of Kappingen, Switzerland, brought a romance of an unusual character to a happy climax when she arrived in Tacoma a week ago to be married to Frank Radmaker, Superintendent of Schools at Orling. Mr. and Mrs. Radmaker arrived in Portland yesterday, following a brief honeymoon, and will make their home here this summer at 411 Fourteenth street.

Mr. Radmaker, who has studied and traveled extensively in Europe, met his bride three years ago at a Lucerne hotel, where she was employed. That chance meeting resulted later in an engagement. Mr. Radmaker met Miss Staub on several later trips through Switzerland.

The two young people planned for their wedding to occur at the close of school this Spring, and not even the perilous conditions of travel as a result of the war could deter Miss Staub from keeping her promise to meet her fiance in Tacoma for the ceremony.

Mr. Radmaker is a Western man and has been engaged in educational work on the Coast for 16 years. He has been
