The boys take pride in their respon sibility, and inspection of their quarters is invited. The camp has already entertained several visitors, among them being Mrs. Bertha Davis, of the Peoples' Institute, of Fortland, and Professor Keiley Rees, of Reed College. A camp baseball team has been organized, and one victory flag already waves in camp, for the team from a neighboring Indian village has been defeated by a 11-3 score. The Indians have sought a return game, and games with Butler and Stevenson have been arranged.

the Summer is over the camp will re-semble a public park. There are two things that the boys lack that Mr. Wood suggests might be supplied by interested parties. One of these is a flag and the other is a boat that could be placed on Eagle Lake, the place where the boys go awimning. Mr. Wood is willing to reat the hoat if the rental asked be low enough. Mr. Wood's address is Hamilton Creek, Wash.
