

EDITORS ASK FOR NEW LABEL LAWS Press Congress Ends, Electing Professor of Journalism President.

34 COUNTRIES INCLUDED Sydney, Australia, Advised as Next Convention City—Committee of Seven Appointed to Draft Proposed Legislation.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Officers were elected, Sydney, Australia, was recommended as the place for the next convention, and copyright, label laws, judicial powers and the war's influence on newspapers were discussed today at the closing session of the International Press Congress at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Resolutions were adopted instructing the president to appoint a committee of seven to draft changes in laws relating to label, constructive contempt and the power of the judiciary to send newspapermen to jail without hearing or jury trial, and urging press and editorial associations to use their influence to better conditions along these lines.

Walter Williams, dean of the school of Journalism of the University of Missouri, was elected president of the Congress; A. R. Ford, of Ottawa, Ont., secretary and treasurer, and V. R. Beteta, of Guatemala City, Guatemala, captain; J. W. Neilsen, Sydney, Australia; Robert Bell, Ashburton, N. Z.; K. Sugimura, Tokyo, and Herman Schoop, Berne, Switzerland, members of the executive committee.

Thirty-four countries included. The vice-presidents were elected from each of the 34 countries included in the Congress. Dr. Herman Schoop, of Berne, Switzerland, said newspapers had acquired a growing importance in Europe, because readers who formerly condemned them looked to them now for details of daily news and for authoritative discussion of current questions.

Dr. Schoop said French and Italian papers excelled in the literary, artistic and personal character of their matter, but the German papers were richer in information. When the war began, Dr. Schoop said, Switzerland was in danger of a split because of the influence of the German as the Germans themselves in their views, and the French papers were equally pronounced for the allies.

RUSSIANS EXPECT ATTACK ON WARSAW Germans Believed to Be Abandoning Galician Field to Austrian Armies.

NEW OFFENSIVE DEVELOPS Swedish Explorer Praises Retreat of Muscovites and Is Impressed by Enormous Losses Suffered by Austrians.

LONDON, July 10.—According to dispatches from Petrograd, the principal factor in the defeat of the Austro-German left wing near Krasnik, in southern Russian Poland, and the subsequent quietness in this region is thought by Russian military commentators to be a general shifting of German forces northward to the Warsaw front and the abandonment of the Galician field to the Austrians under General Eduard von Boehm-Ermolli.

Serious activity already had been noted along the Przemysl front, and in the Bobr and Oryza section, which is regarded as preliminary to another frontal attack on Warsaw. German forces in this southern Poland are regarded as being in a tremendous effect upon the spirits of the army and the people, and more optimistic Russian observers even go so far as to predict that the Austro-Hungarians soon will be expelled from the crown land of Galicia back to the Carpathian Mountains.

Teutons Fighting Stubbornly. Russian official statement reports the blocking of German attempts to advance toward Warsaw from the north and east, and declares the offensive taken by the German armies below Lublin is developing. The Teutonic forces in this southern Poland region are continuing to retreat, Petrograd declares, but are fighting stubbornly as they retire.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 10.—More than 500 Mystic Shriners and ladies arrived from the East tonight to attend the annual convention. Among the guests were representatives of Oriental temple, Troy, N. Y.; Murat Temple, Indianapolis; Mirza Temple, Pittsburgh, Kas.; and the company of United Shriners Temple, Muskogee, Okla.

Special services for the Shriners will be held in a number of churches tomorrow morning. The annual convention will be taken over the boulevards and through the neighboring country in automobiles. A band of music will be given by the local Shriners' band.

Two Big Programs Planned. A suffrage campaign organized by the Shriners in the Congressional district in full swing in the states now, and will continue up to the day Congress meets. The climax will be reached when the suffragists rally on the Capitol grounds before presenting their petitions.

DICK DALEY AND GRANDMOTHER, MRS. MARY McNEAL, AFTER 70-MILE RIDE. was concerned, as Mr. LeMonn had not been with the company for a year before the deals with Mr. Salaberry. There was no session of counsel in the afternoon, and the trial will not be resumed until 2 o'clock Monday. Miss Hulda Erickson, former stenographer for the company, who was a reluctant witness Friday, was much more ready to testify when called to the stand by United States Attorney Reames as the first witness. "Which of the stenographers of the company did most of Mr. LeMonn's work?" asked Mr. Reames. "I did," she replied.

Identification Not Positive. "Can you say positively that you identify this letter as having been written by you and dictated by Mr. LeMonn?" asked Mr. Pipes on cross-examination. Mr. Reames replied that the answer of the witness would show that a distinct bearing on the conspiracy as charged in the indictment. Judge Bean ruled that the witness should answer. "Bilyea Declared Inventor. "He said," explained Mr. Salaberry, "that Thomas Bilyeu was the inventor of the machine and owned half the stock of the company, and that he had a contract with the company that the stock should be sold all over the country—not more than so much to any individual, no matter how rich he was—and that was why he was selling stock so far away."

Letter to Garnett Shows. 1912, was identified by Miss Erickson as probably having been written by Miss Geisy at the dictation of Frank Menefer, president and chief of the company, former assistant sales manager. "I ask you as a fact," said Dan J. Malarkey, Mr. Garnett's attorney, "if you recall that Mr. Garnett was not employed by the company after January 1, 1912?" "No," he was not there after January 1, 1912.
