SOCIETY will have a goodly share in the honor of entertaining the visitors that will come to Portland for the convention of the Sons of the American Revolution. The West will greet the delegates and their wives and daughters with that friendliness and hospitality that is characteristic of this part of the world. To see that none of the little formalities are forgotten, the men have appointed a committee of women who are acting in an advisory capacity and are ready to make themselves generally useful. Mrs. Henry C. Cabell heads this committee. Assisting her are Mrs. A. E. Rockey, Mrs. William C. Alvord, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright and Mrs. Wallace McCamant.

Luncheons for the visiting women will be the order of Monday. The committee has devised a charming manner of holding these luncheons. Instead of giving a big stilted, conventional luncheon in a large hotel grill, the women of the local board and some additional hostesses will have little parties in their own homes. Mrs. Cabell will give one of these luncheons in her attractive home on King street. Mrs. Cabell is an ideal hostess, and is also possessed of a charming and executive ability, so it was with rare good judgment that she was named in her capacity on the committee. Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, who is an enthusiastic member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be another hostess for a group of visitors.

Mrs. Alvord will entertain some of the visitors at her home on Taylor street. Mrs. Wallace McCamant, also a member of the D. A. R.; Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. James Gamble, Mrs. Winthrop Hammond, Mrs. H. H. Ward and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, all leaders in society and in the best of women's activities, will be among those who will give luncheons.

The largest social gathering will be the reception of tomorrow night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey, at "Rockholm." The place is ideally located for a function of this character. The grounds, porches and rooms will all be placed at the disposal of the delegates and their wives, daughters and sweethearts. Several of Portland's prominent and representative women will assist Mrs. Rockey in receiving. The decorations will be a special feature that will lend an enchanting appearance to the beautiful home.

The auto drive on Tuesday afternoon will be another event in which the women will participate. After a delightful tour there will be a halt at the Waverley Country Club, where tea will be served. The men will be included in this part of the programme. Of course, much interest will center about the banquet for Tuesday night and the drive about the Columbia Highway on Wednesday will offer still further opportunities for the dispensing of hospitality.

For this week the visitors will continue to be the inspiration for all social life. Numbers of the smart set are planning to depart for the mountain and seashore resorts and, except to shower attention on the strangers within our gates, society in all probability will be lacking in formal entertaining for the next few weeks.

A merry throng of young people assembled at the Waverley Country Club Monday night to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, who had planned a dancing party at which Miss Helen Ladd and Miss Katherine Hardy were the honored guests. Those who realized that the same company of men and maids had danced practically every night of the week before could scarcely believe that they would be as enthusiastic as ever for the dance but they certainly were. They fairly radiated happiness, and entered with all the joy of youth into the charming festivity.

Several of the loveliest summer party frocks were noticed, and the scene presented was one of beauty and gladness.

A number of dinner parties preceded the dance, and among the most notable of these was that given by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mears for their daughter, Miss Antoinette Mears. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Mears, Miss Virginia Mearns, Miss Helen Honeyman, Miss Harriet Cunningham, Miss Mears, Nell Malarky, Richard L. Farrelly of New York, Henry Ladd, Gorrill Switzer and Bob Morrison. After the repeat the guests motored from the Mears residence to the Country Club.

Every week there are added to the list of interesting visitors in Portland new names and each guest seems to be the center of social festivity. Two interesting young men were this past week's acquisition. Roosevelt Thompson and Harold Taylor, two Easterners, were visitors at the Joseph Nathan Teal residence and shared in much of the delightfully informal entertaining that kept the young people interested. A dinner party at Crown Point Chalet given by Mr. and Mrs. Teal on Friday, and a dinner dance last night at the Waverley Country Club afforded opportunity for social pleasure.

Miss Virginia Scully, Miss Ruth Teal's guest, shared in the parties and was an attractive and honored guest.

Mrs. Teal's sister, Miss Genevieve Thompson, gave a musicale party at the Helbig yesterday for Miss Teal and Miss Scully. The play, "Pygmalion," interpreted by Mrs. Patrick Campbell, was the treat of the day followed by a tea at the Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nathan Teal entertained Friday night at a dinner party for Miss Virginia Scully, of New York; Roosevelt Thompson, of New York; Harold Taylor, of Philadelphia, and for Miss Nancy Zan, Miss Rhoda Hummel, Miss Ruth Teal, MacCormack Snow, Richard Jones and James Hueselton.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Teal gave a banquet for the Waverley Country Club for their house guests. Dancing was enjoyed by the young people later in the evening.

Miss Genevieve Thompson, Miss Teal's

Charlotte Rohr, Flower Girl At Hanson-Kise Wedding

was hostess yesterday afternoon at a musicale party at the Helbig. Her guests enjoyed Mrs. Patrick Campbell's play and later had tea at the Portland. Those who shared the pleasure of the occasion were Miss Teal, Miss Scully, Mrs. Walker Willis Kamm, Mrs. Philip Schuyler Kamm and Miss Rhoda Rummel.

There were countless delightful festivities for the younger smart set last week, but excepting the shevlin dance there were few large affairs. The rain caused some of those who planned picnics, auto trips and outings to give indoor suppers and luncheons.

At the Country Club last night society was delighted with the new dances as exhibited by E. A. Bowler and Miss Rosa, who are exponents of the Vernon Castle and Carlos Sebastian schools.

Mrs. A. C. Howard Clark of Washington, D. C., wife of the register-general of the Sons of the American Revolution, tion, is in the city with her husband attending the National convention of the society, which holds its first session this evening.

Mrs. Clark is a New Englander on her mother's side of the house and is directly descended from three of those who came over in the Mayflower. Mr. Clark has seven Mayflower ancestors. The Clark children have the unique distinction of being descendants of 10 of the voyagers who came over in the Mayflower.

Mrs. Frank Hutchings and family are at the Noronia prior to their departure for San Francisco, their future home. Hartley Hutchings will enter Stanford University.

Mrs. John F. Logan, who is in San Francisco at the Oregon building, was hostess on Monday at a luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Edgar B. Piper. The table was attractively decorated with yellow flowers and maiden-hair ferns. The guests asked to meet Mrs. Piper were Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. William Bailey Lamar, Mrs. Thomas Bailey, Mrs. E. B. Gault, Mrs. C. G. McLean, Mrs. Norman E. Mack, Mrs. William Baxter, Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunaway and Mrs. Charles A. Gray.

Mrs. Wallace McCamant's mother and sister, Mrs. William N. Davis and Miss Elizabeth Davis, were complimented guests on Thursday at an attractive informal tea at which Mrs. Roger E. Sinnott was hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Edwards gave one of the elaborate dinners of the week, entertaining on Friday at their home and following the dinner with a theater party at the Helbig. Their guests were Mrs. E. B. Gault, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Colonel and Mrs. Henry C. Cabell, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson and Samuel Hill.

A small party of friends enjoyed a trip on the Sea Otter with Mrs. H. C. Wortman, who entertained for Miss Helen Wortman and Miss Margaret Kent.

A cordial welcome home is being extended to Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, who arrived recently after an absence of many months. Mrs. Montgomery is at the Walter F. Burrill residence. Last December she went to New York to join her daughters, Mrs. Rufus Zogbaum (Montgomery) and Miss Montgomery. Since then she has visited Panama, the Southland, the spots of scenic interest in that part of the South and has been for some time in California. In all this time she has been missed by her many friends here. Mrs. Montgomery is a charming woman, one whom all delight to honor. Several little luncheons and teas have been planned for her, and she will doubtless be the center of much of the social life of the summer.

Mrs. Zogbaum is domiciled in a pretty cottage at Newport, R. I.

Mrs. Joseph K. Clark, of Los Angeles, sister-in-law of Senator Clark, of Montana, was in Portland during the week for a short visit. She will leave tonight for the Will Clark country place in Montana, where she will remain until the latter part of August, when she will return to Portland for a longer stay, and will then be entertained at numerous affairs. To welcome her on this short visit Mrs. Charles T. Whitney gave a beautifully appointed luncheon on Friday at the Waverley Country Club, and yesterday Mrs. J. G. Edwards entertained for Mrs. Clark at a similar festivity.

Mrs. Whitney had as her guests Mrs. Clark, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. William B. Honeyman, Mrs. J. G. Gault, Mrs. George T. Willett, Mrs. William Easterbrook Jones, of Boston; Mrs. H. D. Platt, Mrs. Charles H. Carey, Mrs. Harry Heminghaus, Mrs. A. E. Rockey.

Considerable social interest is found in the fact that Senator and Mrs. Tillman and Miss Sallie May Tillman are visitors in Portland. They arrived on Friday on the steamer "Great Northern" and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hughes. Mrs. Hughes is a daughter of Senator and Mrs. Tillman. She went to San Francisco to meet her relatives and made the trip on the boat with them. The Tillmans will remain here until the 15th of August, when they will be entertained extensively.

Mrs. Henry E. Jones will be hostess on Tuesday at bridge party. A few intimate friends have been asked in honor of Miss Sullivan.

Mrs. Maxwell Blake, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. L. Maxwell, will be honored guest at a bridge party at which Mrs. Harry Nunn will be hostess, on Tuesday. Mrs. Blake is wife of the acting Minister at Tangier, Morocco. She has come to her residence for the summer and is being feted extensively.

Two charming young matrons who are being welcomed back to Portland society after several years' absence are Mrs. George Raymond Sailor (Margaret Beuhner) and Mrs. Robert Noble (Meta Beuhner).

Mr. Sailor and Mrs. Beuhner have been interested in the mills at Carlton, Or., which burned last Fall and have been making their home there. Mr. and Mrs. Sailor have taken a house at 459 East Twenty-second street, and the Beuhners are domiciled at the Frederick H. Greene house for the summer.

Philip Beuhner and son, Henry, returned Wednesday from California and Mr. and Mrs. Beuhner are planning to leave for the south to visit the two cities at San Francisco and San Diego, next month.

Several box and line parties are planned for tomorrow and Tuesday nights when "The Trojan Women" will be presented at the Helbig. Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd are always among the smart society folk noticed at the first-night productions. They invariably entertain groups of friends.

Little Frances, Elizabeth Mead arrived in town Wednesday to make her home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis Mead. The young visitor will one day be a society belle, but now she is just a baby, the sunshine of the Mead home in Irvinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Selling, who have gone to San Francisco, are planning a trip to Honolulu. They will sail July 28 on the Wilhelmina. Mrs. Selling entertained on Tuesday one of the smart luncheons of the week. Her honored guests were Mrs. Samuel Simon, of New York, and Mrs. Simon's sister, Mrs. Goldsmith, both of whom are among the delightfully interesting visitors of the season.

The home of Colonel and Mrs. H. E. Dosch was the scene of an interesting ceremony Saturday afternoon when little Fleetwood Dosch, five years and Marguerite Dosch Joselyn and grandson of Colonel and Mrs. Dosch, was baptized, Dr. F. H. Boyd officiating. The ceremony took place on the 49th wedding anniversary of the baby's grandparents. It was solemnized in the garden in a host of flowers and flowers. A supper followed. Only relatives attended. Mrs. F. O. Downing and Mrs. Dorothy Downing as godparents for the little boy.

Mrs. Walter E. Holt entertained with delightful luncheon on Thursday when she honored Mrs. J. W. Graham, of Denver, Colo. Those present in addition to Mrs. Holt were Mrs. E. B. Gault and Mrs. Lydell Baker, Mrs. C. F. Switzer, Mrs. William MacRae, Mrs. F. H. Warren, Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. R. P. Earhart.

One of the smart events of Thursday was a dinner at which Mrs. Abe Meier entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simon and Miss Goldsmith, of New York. Covers were laid for 16. The table decorations were in golden tones, corncobs being used as the center decoration.

Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux and Mrs. Harbert Nichols gave one of the delightful luncheons of the week on Wednesday, when they entertained for Miss Scully and Miss Teal. The same afternoon Mrs. Richard Wilder entertained for Miss Teal and her guest.

Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett was hostess at a theater party on Tuesday for Miss Helen Ladd and Miss Katherine Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster entertained last night at a dinner at the Waverley Country Club.

Quite an important event of the week was the county fair conducted at the Laurelhurst Club on Friday night. The club is growing in membership and strength. It is progressive in its methods and has many splendid social features. Its Friday night parties are always popular.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood entertained dinner on Tuesday for Mr. and Mrs. J. Aiden Weir. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Edgewood, Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook-Bingham, Mrs. Margaret Burrell Biddle, Miss Weir, Miss Sullivan, Hugh Hume and a few others.

Mrs. Richard M. Schofield and Miss Margaret Schofield are in Portland for a visit this summer. They will visit Mrs. S. D. Smith, Mrs. Ned Ayer and Miss Laura Smith. The Smiths are at present in the James Zan place on Pettigrove street, pending the completion of a new residence at Twenty-fifth and Pettigrove.

Miss Elizabeth Jones was entertained on Friday at an informal tea at which Miss Margaret Mears presided for a few of the younger girls.

On account of the illness of her husband, Mrs. Frederick H. Greene, who is domiciled at her summer home at Aberdeen, Wash., was called back to Portland Monday.

Mr. Greene is convalescing at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wessinger.

The many friends of Mrs. J. C. Panter are regretting that she is soon to leave for Chicago to make her home. Mrs. Panter has endeared herself to a wide circle since she came to Portland to live and those who have learned to love her will be loath to let her go back to her former home. Dr. Panter went several months ago and now the beautiful home at Ewabee has been sold and Mrs. Panter is on her way to join him. On Wednesday night a party of her friends who are among the members of St. Stephen's pro-
