

SEALS KEEP FIRST CALL ON BOB JONES

Harry B. Smith Thinks Third Baseman Is Hardly Ripe for Major League.

BEE SLUMP LAID TO FUSS

Blankenship, Reported to Have Troubles Among Players, Denies It; Johnston Hits Stride. Overall Refuses Offer.

BY HARRY B. SMITH. SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—I can't help but wonder that it is going to be a good thing for Bobby Jones to go into big league company as rapidly as has been planned for him.

There is no question that the San Francisco club is in need of pitching material and that, particularly at this moment, there should be a reliable southpaw in the role of ratty Brown.

There is no question that Jones looks to be promising material. To a certain extent, however, he is a diamond in the rough and needs polishing.

There is a report in San Francisco that the dissonance in the ranks of the Seal Lake baseball club is responsible for the recent sorry showing of the team.

Johnston Shows Old Dash. Jimmy Johnston seems just to have struck the stride that made him so phenomenal a base stealer when he was with the team.

Overall Refuses Offers. Before he left for home, Blankenship said there wasn't a chance for him to get over to the States.

STATE GOLF CHAMPION WILHELM SHOWS HOW HE HOLDS CLUB AND HIS STANCE FOR DIFFERENT SHOTS.

STANCE IS FACTOR

Position Peculiarly Natural to Golfer Is Advised.

IMITATING THOUGHT BAD

Rudolph Wilhelm, Oregon Champion, Gives Views on Methods of Playing—J. R. Straight to Meet Titleholder on Links.

Stance is one of the most important things in the playing of the royal and ancient game of golf, in the opinion of Rudolph Wilhelm, Oregon's golf champion and crack of the Portland Golf Club.

There are many ways of standing, consequently various players can take different stances. When a player has taken his stance and is addressing the ball, the next thing is the important question of how he should stand while in action.

Distance between the feet and from the ball depends on the individual, and no set rules may be put down. It is one thing to stand for a five-footer and stand in the same position as a six-footer and vice versa.

Always the first thing taught to a beginner is the method of properly gripping the club. There are many grips made famous by well-known golfers.

Another common fault is a wide-open stance on the full shot. One fault that some golfers make is that of quitting on the shot.

HAPPY MEDIUM IS HELD RIGHT FOR LAYING LINKS

British Champion Thinks American Courses Generally Err on Side of Simplicity, and Freak Hazards Are Considered Ultra Objectionable.

BY HARRY VARDON. Just short of the green to the left. It is a critical situation, because the competition was nearing the close and he had not many strokes to spare.

When Braid and I opposed Duncan and Mayo for 1100 in a foursome at the Cooden Beach Links in England a course which must have been laid out with a view to its being regarded as the last word in difficulty.

At the same time, there is much to be said on behalf of this ultra-difficult golf, which gives the player hardly one chance in a hundred of laying out a hole in a round.

While certainly I would have every golfer indignant at the thought that it is possible to say anything finer of a course than that it encourages bluff approaching. Particularly would I be indignant at the thought of a green at least ten and preferably 15 yards behind the pin unless the shot ordinarily demanded consisted of nothing more than a short putt.

During the last year or two, a wave of reasonableness has been sweeping the sphere of British golf-course architecture. Putting greens, which were developing absurdly tricky attributes in their deliberately constructed dips and rolls, have assumed something like their old condition of fairness, and the craze for having little pot bunkers in the middle of the fairway (ones which cannot always be seen from the spot at which the stroke is played) has tumbled down in a considerable measure.

I have always felt that I lost a "News of the World" tournament at Sunningdale through getting into a pot bunker at the 13th hole, the existence of which I was unaware.

There is a happy medium in these matters; difficulties that call for the exercise of perfect judgment are splendid, but it seems to be to be bad to discourage boldness.

I remember an incident in another yearly conference of links architects on golf that Mr. Vardon, the British champion, is writing especially for this paper. The eighth article will appear next Sunday.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT IS RIGHT UP TO DATE.

TOBACCO satisfied—a clean, small chew. It's the Real Tobacco Chew. So satisfying and comforting that men are glad to hear about it.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.
