

Society

Mrs. W. P. Fuller, Jr.
Guest of Mrs.
A. J. Giesy
Grove Photo

Miss Maude Mastick
Who Will Wed
Clarence Ash Tomorrow

Miss Muriel
McGregor,
Who Was Entertained
by Mrs. J. H. McCollom

Miss Margaret
Schofield
of Washington, D. C.
Grove Photo

THE gray days that prevailed last week caused all of society's plans to go awry. There was such an ideal programme of outdoor festivities arranged and then it grew cloudy and actually rained and behaved just like April weather. Tennis, lawn fete, motor parties, picnic luncheons, porch parties and all fresco affairs all had to be canceled and society enjoyed the most informal variety of entertaining and waited for the sun to shine. The behavior of the weather was quite a matter of disappointment to the tennis enthusiasts. But, in spite of all, there were some enjoyable parties for the visitors. Miss Sarah Livingston, of Seattle; Mrs. Rex Stafford, also of Seattle, and Mrs. George Ransom, of Illinois, who are all here for the tournament and are the guests of Mrs. Walter M. Cook, of Irvington, were honored on Tuesday night at an elaborate dinner party given at the University Club, with Albert Wakeman as host. The appointments were most artistic and the favors unique in design. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Irving Rohr and Leo Hahn.

Mrs. Cook and her two attractive daughters, Margaret and Mary Betty, will leave tomorrow for Gearhart, where they will pass the month of August.

The dance at the Irvington clubhouse was a jolly affair and was attended by a number of the smart set, with some of the matrons of exclusive society serving as patronesses. Tea was served at the Waverley Country Club on Wednesday afternoon, but there was only a small attendance. If the sun shines as it should next Wednesday a large attendance at the tea is anticipated.

With the same "if" in consideration some delightful motor parties are being arranged for the coming week. A number of society folk will go out the Columbia River Highway and dine at some of the attractive spots along the way.

Among the society matrons who were patronesses and the maids who assisted them at the tennis tournaments this week were: Mrs. W. F. Woodward, Mrs. William T. Foster, Mrs. Walter M. Cook, Mrs. A. D. Norris, Mrs. Andrew Porter and Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett. Miss Mary Marvin, Miss Katherine Schnabel, Miss Helen Morgan, Miss Jean Stevens, Miss Barbara Macey, Miss Catherine Beck, Miss Mary Woodward, Miss Rhoda Rumlain, Miss Grace Peters, Miss Mary Stuart Smith, Miss Margaret Meers, Miss Nancy Zan, Miss Esther Tucker, Mrs. Stanley Jewett, Miss Isabelle Gauld, Miss Cornelia Cook, Miss Jean Brownlie, Miss Olive Felling, Mrs. Guy Porter, Miss Sarah the "sewing-shirts-for-soldiers" contingency. She and about 100 society women are pledged to devote at least an hour each week in sewing and making bandages. Portland's society maids and matrons did this sort of work all Winter and Spring and, although some of them are still interested, the majority are taking a well-earned rest.

In English society, of course, the smart gatherings are practically all benefit affairs. Recently Mrs. Rejane gave a brilliant benefit for the convalescent camps in Normandy and the gondolier-soldiers' wives of Venice. All society was there, including the Queen and others of royalty. Maggie Teyte, who sang here last season, contributed to the programme. Laurette Taylor, who was appearing at the Globe in "Des o' My Heart," gave two recitations and several other artists well known here contributed of their talents and time.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Viola Barenstcher and Matthew Slavin, Jr., of Pasadena, was one of the charming surprises of the week. The attractive young bride-to-be had invited a few girl friends for Monday when she said when was complimenting Miss Alberta Blair, who had recently returned from the East. The news of the betrothal and the address feature of interest and Miss Barenstcher was showered with good wishes. Mr. Slavin is a Cornell and University of Oregon graduate and is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity. He is the son of the late Matthew Slavin, of Pasadena, and is a brother of Mrs. Herbert Childs, who as Sarah Slavin, was a schoolmate of the bride-elect. It was while on a visit to his sister that the bridegroom-to-be met the girl who is now his fiancee. The girls were students at National Park Seminary in Washington, D. C.

The marriage of Miss Barenstcher and Mr. Slavin will be an event of October. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Barenstcher, of Mirimar Place, Lauderhurst. She is gifted in art and music and is most popular, being widely beloved for her unselfish disposition and charming manner. About a month ago she suffered a severe illness and was at that time the recipient of scores of beautiful floral tributes from her friends.

Miss Barenstcher wore a becoming and girlish frock of net silk at her announcement tea. Miss Alberta Blair was pretty in pale blue taffeta. The room was a bower of beauty, its loveliness enhanced with cut flowers artistically placed.

A charming visitor in Portland is Mrs. Carl Byron Tuttle, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orange M. Clark. Mrs. Tuttle is a young society matron of Detroit, Mich. She will visit here until September, when she will be joined by her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle and Mr. and Mrs. Clark then will go to San Francisco for a stay at the fair. Mrs. Tuttle is accompanied by her son, James Stewart Tuttle, a bonny baby.

Miss Adele Dyott, the charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Dyott, and her guest, Miss Jeannette Wheldon, of Brooklyn, N. Y., left Friday for a trip to Alaska. They were accompanied by Mrs. Dyott.

One of the newest acquisitions to Portland society is noted in the person of Alfred Hoyt Corbett, who will some day be a beau of Portland's smart set; but just at present he is the new baby, the sunshine of the Corbett family. He is named in honor of several of his mother's relatives. His older brother is named for his father, and the eldest child is Helen Elizabeth.

The wedding of Miss Maud Mastick and Clarence Ash will be solemnized tomorrow in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Mastick. It will not be an elaborate ceremony, but will be charming in appointment nevertheless. Miss Mastick is a graduate of the University of Oregon. She is a popular Kappa Alpha Theta girl. Mr. Ash is also a graduate of the university and is prominent in fraternity circles.

Mrs. W. P. Fuller, Jr., of San Francisco, and Miss Dorothy Williams, of New York, have been visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Giesy and have been delightfully entertained.

Miss Muriel McGregor, of Watertown, Ont., was a recent visitor at the home of Mrs. J. W. McCollom.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot will sail from New York for Spain about August 6. Dr. and Mrs. Talbot have been guests of Mrs. Talbot's sister, Mrs. Zogbaum.

Many of the social affairs of the past week have been of an informal nature. Tomorrow was as a rule as far as so-

PORTLAND BRIDE WHO HAS CANOE TRIP FOR HONEYMOON.

MRS. CONRAD R. SOLUM.

Miss Hazel Westerm and Conrad R. Solum, whose marriage took place last Wednesday, are having a unique wedding trip. They took the train to Hood River and then went out for their honeymoon, "padding their own canoe."

They will return to Portland soon and will reside here. The marriage ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of the Norwegian Lutheran Church, Rev. George Henrickson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Westerm. For her wedding she wore a pretty white suit and carried bride's roses. She is popular in her set and Mr. Solum is known in business circles.

The Store That Aims to Please You

Autumn Styles

are here in their full splendor. The dainty Summer gowns gracefully bow and pass into oblivion. The new Fall styles in Suits, Coats, Dresses and Waists reign supreme. "Tailored Suits for Fall," decreed whimsical Fashion, and "tailored suits" we show in all her favorite models, materials and shades at appealingly modest prices. For instance, Woolen Poplin Suits, in African brown, jacket with a military collar, tailored cuffs, trimmed with novelty buttons, has five fine corded seams with embroidered points on back, terminating into two inverted pleats, silk lined throughout; skirt tailored very simply, and its very simplicity lends charm to the beauty of the jacket. You want $30 to see these well, smart suits; they'll please you, especially at

Waist Special

New Fancy Crepe de Chine Waists in white and flesh colors, with long or short sleeves, embroidered or lace-trimmed designs, with pearl or crocheted buttons, set-in sleeves and hemstitched yoke. The newest $3.95 to sell at $5.50. Special tomorrow at only.....

Fall Headgear Novelties

Beautiful, wide-brim Sailors, with either stiff or soft, pencil or cable-edge brims. Tailored Hats, pan velvets, felts and velours, appliques, black velvets with beaded ornaments and magnetically harmonious trimmings. Ask to see the famous "Fisk," "Gage" and "Gold Medal" shapes. All very clever and attractive models, and, in spite of all, very reasonably priced.

Credit Your Privilege—Use Is—It Costs You Nothing

405 Washington St.

Eastern
Outfitting Co.

Corner of Tenth St.

representative of the Portland Chapter, Delta Delta Delta sorority is one of the largest and strongest in the Greek letter world, and between 700 and 800 members will attend the convention.

Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux, who was operated upon at St. Vincent's Hospital during the week, is recovering steadily. Dainty notes and flowers expressing sympathy and good wishes have been sent in numbers to the popular society matron, who has a host of sincere friends.

Mrs. Solomon Hirsch will leave tomorrow for a short stay at Gearhart.

Miss Helen Unity Graves has as her house guest Mrs. Corinne D. Ellis, of New York City. Mrs. Ellis and Miss Graves passed a year in Porto Rico together and traveled through the East before coming West. Miss Graves entertained at the Ann Davanport Tea House for Mrs. Ellis, Miss Stella Harris, of Alabama, and Mrs. Estes Snedcor on Thursday.

Miss Monica Montgomery introduced some charming innovations at her wedding last Tuesday evening when she became the bride of Francis Wilson Benefiel. The ceremony was solemnized in the Mount Tabor Presbyterian Church, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion under the supervision of Mrs. Wilson Benefiel, mother of the bridegroom. Palms, white blossoms and hydrangeas were artistically arranged.

As the strains of the organ began the wedding march, the bridesmaids appeared at the doors near the altar and in single file they marched to the main entrance to meet the bride. Meanwhile the ushers went by way of the side isles toward the front of the church. The bride's attendants formed in two and preceded her to the altar and parted to allow her and her father to take their places in the front of the semicircle of the party. The best man, Alfred Parker, accompanying Mr. Benefiel, met the party and the ceremony was then solemnized, with the Rev. A. J. Montgomery officiating, assisted by the Rev. William Graham Moore, pastor of the church. The wedding was most impressive and was planned with a view toward elegant simplicity.

The bride was pretty and girlish in her gown of net and tulle, and her long veil was held in place by a cap of Duchess lace that had served her mother and her grandmother on similar occasions. The bouquet was of white sweet peas and streamers of tulle and ribbon.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Clarice Armstrong, was attired in white silk and carried Shasta daisies. The bridesmaids, all gowned alike in shell pink silk, and carrying Shasta daisies, were Miss Constance Cartwright, of Salem; Miss Lucy Hellman, Miss Mabel Marckell, Miss Grace Hays, of Portland, and Miss Mattie Wilson, of Hillsboro. The ushers were William Montgomery, John Benefiel, C. D. McCollm, R. D. Armstrong and Lewis Wanser. After a reception the couple departed for a brief wedding trip, but later this week they will leave for an extended visit in the vicinity of Mount Jefferson.

Their wedding is the outcome of a romance that had its beginning on a trip to Mount Adams. Their love began way up in the clouds and the snows of the mountain. Since then the bride has graduated from Washington Seminary, Washington, Pa., from which institution her mother was a graduate. She has also won distinction in art, having attended the Chicago Art Institute, where she did so well that one of her pictures was chosen for the permanent exhibition. This is a decided honor, as only six were taken out of 4000.

To add to her laurels she has done some successful magazine work and has had several stories published. Mr. Benefiel is well known in business circles. After their honeymoon, the couple will reside at their new home on East Ankeny street.

Mrs. Benefiel is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, prominent in church and social circles.

A pretty morning wedding of Tuesday was that of Miss Beatrice A. Kirkpatrick and Rev. Francis Owens Jones, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock in St. Mark's Episcopal Church. The Rev. J. E. H. Simpson officiated. The wedding march was played by Archibald

SOLE AGENTS FOR
THE CELEBRATED
HERD & YEOMAN GOLF CLUBS
AND
THE BURKE GOLF CO.
(In Shafte, Burke is the last word.)
From the Burke Company we get the exclusive autograph models of the world's champions, Harry Vardon and J. H. Taylor. The Taylor clubs are the exact duplicates of the clubs used by Mr. Taylor when he won the British open championship in 1913.

We Also Carry
Boyle's Canvas Golf Bags.
The Famous "Colonel" Golf Balls.
Scottish Golf Hose.
Golf Hats and Caps.
Shetland Hand-made Cardigans.
Kashmir and Shetland Golf Waistcoats and Jackets, etc.

K. S. ERVIN & CO., LTD.
CUSTOM CLOTHING.
IMPORTED ACCESSORIES FOR MEN CUSTOM SHIRTS.
ENGLISH RAINCOATS FOR MEN AND WOMEN.
Second Floor, Selling Building,
Sixth and Alder Streets.

"YES, YOUR SUIT IS LOVELY, CATHERINE, BUT WHAT ABOUT YOUR VACATION?"

"I know by the looks of that new suit that it must have taken just about every cent you've saved."

"Guess again, Ethel! I BOUGHT THIS SUIT AT CHERRY'S—hence I'm paying for it on INSTALLMENTS. It will interfere not a whit with my vacation. On the contrary, it's going to make it a lot pleasanter to go! For now I'll have something nice to wear all the time I'm away—and such a bargain!"

"And here's more news for you, Ethel. Before I board the train I shall go up to CHERRY'S and pick out a Waist from the many adorable styles that CHERRY'S received just yesterday."

"Pussy-willow taffetas are among them, and crepe de chine and shadow lace creations. I believe I'll drop in and get mine tomorrow. If I wait, I might lose out altogether."

"Oh, I knew you'd ask for CHERRY'S ADDRESS—it is 333-331 Washington street, in the Pittock block."

J. K. STERN
LADIES' TAILOR.
447 ALDER STREET.
Has Returned From His Trip and Will Start Work Again Monday.
FALL GOODS NOW ARRIVING.
REDUCED PRICES TO THOSE ORDERING SUITS NOW.