Miss Mabel Markel

Miss Constance Cartwright of Salem

Rice, organist of the church. Miss Ruth Wyman was the only attendant. A few intimate friends and the Sunday school class recently led by the bride were included in the list of guests. The bride wore a becoming gown of white crepe de chine and a white hat of tulle. Miss Wyman was attired in pale lavender crepe de chine. After the ceremony an informal reception was held in the parish house and a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Simpson. The couple will reside in Newport for the summer. Mr. Jones is well known in Episcopalian circles as a rector and enthusiastic worker. His bride has also been a devout church worker, and has many friends among the members of the various parishes.

Miss Lucy Heilman

Miss Grace Hays

land early in the week, when they were the guests of Miss Emily Frances Bauer, Miss Marion Bauer and Cecil Bauer. Mr. French is the owner of the Musical Leader and Mrs. French is editor of the publication. Miss French, although a young girl, possesses a beautiful voice. The family had been to the convention of the Federation of Music Clubs in Los Angeles and were en route to Canada.

Miss Catherine Russell entertained quite informally Thursday for six friends, who honored Miss Hughes, of Kentucky. The complimented guest was a schoolmate of Miss Russell at Miss Finch's in New York.

Friday was marked by the arrival of the apostolic delegate, his Excellency, Archbishop Bonzano, for whom a large public reception was held in the parlors of the Hotel Portland in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan arrived that same day and for them, too, there was considerable entertaining.

On account of the exposition and the many conventions held in the Pacific Coast cities this summer scarcely a day passes without marking the arrival of some celebrity for whom some social honors are planned. The stop of the Roosevelt—20 minutes—has been the record-breaker for brevity, but it was, nevertheless, a most important visit, despite the fact that no dinners or receptions could be given.

Miss Margaret Eaton, of Detroit, who was a mid-week visitor here, was entertained Wednesday at a luncheon at which Mrs. W. D. Clark was hostess at the Waverley Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischner entertained last night for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Simon, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ehrman, of San Francisco.

Among those who were noticed at dinner at the Country Club Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Walter John Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold D. Rothwell, Mrs. George D. Schaik, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tarpley, Miss Elvora Mills, Miss Louise Burrell, Dr. H. C. Jeffers, Paul Giesey, W. C. Bristol, Prescott Cookingham and C. K. Williams.

Mrs. Herman Thannhauser entertained at tea Wednesday at the Ann Davenport Tea Room, for Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Van Dusen, Mrs. Thomas Honeyman and Mrs. E. Rosenthal.

Mrs. Herman Herst, Jr. (Lillian Meyers) will be at home to her friends at 704 Everett street on next Wednesday afternoon and evening. Since her arrival a few days ago she has received many who have called to welcome her. The day set will give opportunity to old-time friends to greet the charming young matron and her sister-in-law, Miss Bertha Herst, of New York City.

Agnes Beach, Alta Hayward, Clara Heisler, Helen Adams, Louise Page, Elizabeth Boyd, Louise Boyd, Agnes Elliott, Florence Cady and Lucia Macklin formed a delegation of Portland girls who left for California recently to attend the Delta Gamma sorority convention from August 2 to 7. The days will be filled with entertainment, as well as the ottomed work of the convention, with Upsilon and Gamma chapters of the University of California and Stanford University as hostesses. Delta Gamma day at the Exposition, initiation at Stanford and a banquet at one of the San Francisco hotels will be among the various features.

This is the first Delta Gamma convention to be held on the Pacific Coast, and special trains will bring the 800 or more delegates across the United States. The steady conservative growth of Delta Gamma since 1872 has given it a place in the front rank of National sororities. Among the many prominent women who are members are Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan; Mrs. Frances Davis Keefe, National treasurer of the Federated Women's Clubs; Mrs. Imogene Hand Carpenter, Mrs. Lois Kimball Matthews, dean of women, University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Clara Henry Hurd, playwright.

Professor and Mrs. J. H. Pratt, of Milwaukee, Wis., on their way from the Exposition stopped at Portland, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Schabel. The Pratts, with Mr. and Mrs. Schnabel, climbed the hill on the Waterloo battlefield while in Belgium three years ago and, like many others, carried the lion located on the apex of the mound. This piece of metal work weighing over 200 tons has since been captured by the Germans and melted into ammunition.

Mr. Pratt made a trip over the Columbia Highway and was so favorably impressed with the view that he concluded there is no need to go to Switzerland for scenery.

Mrs. William Daugherty entertained with a delightful 1 o'clock luncheon Tuesday, July 27, honoring Miss Myrtle Crowley and announcing her engagement to Ray Nelson Force, auditor of the Industrial Insurance Commission for Southwest Washington. Miss Crowley is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Nelson, of Vancouver, and member of the Jabber-and Club. She is a graduate of the University of Washington and a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and Theta Sigma Phi, a National journalistic fraternity. Mr. Force is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. The wedding will occur today.

The luncheon table was centered with a floral piece of dahlias shading from deep red to gold. The same color scheme was carried out in cosmos and dahlias throughout the living-rooms of the home. On the announcement place cards were the pictures of the bride-elect and her fiancé, and the date of the event.

Miss Harriet Leach, accompanied by Miss Florence Leach and Mrs. Robert Schmeer, of Portland, favored the guests with several vocal solos. Auction bridge honors were won by Robert Schmeer, and Mrs. Emil Force won "500" honors.

Guests present were: Mrs. R. W. Schmeer, Mrs. Emil Force, Mrs. William Barton, Mrs. Frank Glover, Mrs. Jerome Mann, Mrs. A. F. Kelly and the Misses Leach, of Portland, and Mrs. Daniel Crowley, Mrs. J. W. Shaw, Mrs. Herman Funk, the Misses Myrtle Crowley, Frances Lackaff, Lillian Tyler and Erma Marsh, from Vancouver.

A cordial welcome is being extended to Mrs. Herman Herst, Jr., who, with her two adorable little children, Edith and Herman, arrived in New York City, arrived early in the past week to visit Mrs. Herst's sister, Emanuel Herrman, 704 Everett street.

Mrs. Herst is a gifted violinist. She is the widow of a prominent attorney of New York City, and it is her first visit here in several years. Doubtless there will be many informal social gatherings planned among Mrs. Herst's old-time friends.

Dr. Elliott G. Brackett, a renowned specialist of Boston, was a visitor in Portland early in the week. He is a cousin of Mrs. John F. Beaumont. With Mrs. Brackett were her wife, Mrs. Beaumont, Dr. and Mrs. Brackett gave a dinner at the Portland Monday night, honoring Dr. and Mrs. Beaumont and a few intimate friends.

Mrs. Carl G. Liebe, who has been enjoying a delightful visit of several weeks in Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., and in Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., has returned to Portland. She was entertained at numerous teas and outings during her visit.

Among the interesting visitors in the city during the week were Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Hinsdale, Mich., who have been the guests of their cousin, Miss Mabel Riggs. They stopped here en route to the fair in California. They will motor through the state.

Judge and Mrs. Elmer R. Brady are being congratulated on the advent of a baby daughter who arrived at their home in Montesano, Wash., last Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Templeton had as their guests during the week Mr. and Mrs. George Magee and their two sons. The visitors are prominent residents of Philadelphia.

A merry little kindergarten party was given recently in Irvington by Virginia Leiby as hostess. Among the guests were: Romona Kingley, Dorothy Hall, Dorris Neuman, Catherine Henderson, Alice Stockman and Margaret Holbrook. Among the guests were: Lucile Chapman, Elleen Fanning, Helen Baker, Robert Day, Marshall Neuman, Billy Wheeler and Robert Neuman.

Jack Crossley entertained on Thursday night at his home, 1053 Vaughn street, in compliment to his cousin, Miss Katherine E. Cole, of Kansas City, Mo. The rooms were decorated attractively with red and white streamers, Lincoln High School colors. The guests included: Misses Hoch, Grace Althoff, Ruth Crittenden, Zeta Fritsch, Maxine Friedenthal, M. Hartman, Dorothy Stine, Stephenie Strain, Louise Boyd, Flavia McDonald, Donna Spencer, Caroline Montague and Jimmie Burness, Ray Duleigh, Clarence

PORTLAND MAID CELEBRATES SIXTH BIRTHDAY.

EMPORIUM

Just a step off Washington

"Best Showing of Fall Suits in Town"

An exclamation heard yesterday at The Emporium from a lady who was preparing for a trip to the Fair.

Months ago we had the foresight to predict a very early demand for Autumn Suits.

These well-worn words, "best showing," mean a lot here. They mean large assortment, individual styles—one or two alike—even at the most moderate prices. Unusual quality of material. Clever touches that lift them out of the ordinary.

See our new Autumn Suits tomorrow! It's a treat you'll enjoy. Unusual selection at

$22.50 $24.75
$29.50 $32.50
and Upwards

CHIC!

—To the French, no word can mean so much!
—Chic is surely the only word that describes this new Fall pattern—one of many new beauties just arrived! It has a gathered velvet trim, with brocade "pancake" crown, and high bandeaux. A creation of Moorhead & Jardines, New York.

Felt hats—pronounced "just the thing" for between-season wear. Dozens of jaunty styles at $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00.

Moulton, Albert Claus, Paul Donner, James Hetty, Reed Elsworth, Lowell Macget, Eric Peterson, Chester Sorenson, McDonald, Ralph Smith and M. Hickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Munly, their infant son, Robert N. Munly, Jr., and their guest, Miss Mary McHugh, of Boston and New York, left last night for a tour of Alaska. Later in the season they will go to California for a visit to the fairs in San Diego and San Francisco. Miss McHugh has been entertained, delightfully by Mr. and Mrs. Munly.

Mrs. Philip Nowell Taft (Sue Robinson), whose wedding was an event of last week at Newport, has been the guest of Mrs. Charles P. Howard, of Mount Tabor. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Leach, who is the wife of a banker at Newport. Mrs. Taft formerly resided at Du Val, Manitoba. She is an attractive and accomplished young woman. Mr. Taft is a relative of ex-President Taft. Mrs. Taft left last night for Du Val, where she will make her home.

The members of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority are looking forward to the biennial convention at Astoria, Cal., August 25-29. The Gamma Phi Beta Chapter at the University of Oregon has distinguished itself in the scholastic world by holding the highest scholarship for the last two years. The delegates from the active chapter at Eugene are Miss Helen Curry, of La Grande, Misses Grace McKennie, Katherine Stanfield and Katherine Bridges, of Portland, Miss Flora Durham is the delegate from the Portland Alumnae Chapter. Besides these delegates, a large number of the other members plan to attend the convention, joining the special train which leaves New York on August 13.

Gamma Phi Beta's policy has been one of conservative expansion, the wisdom of which policy is shown in the fact that it has no dead chapters. The government of the organization is vested in an executive board, the officers of which are: President, Mrs. M. Ruth Guppy, dean of women at the University of Oregon; is chairman of the social service work.

Miss Clarice Biles left on the Northern Pacific yesterday for California. She will visit the exposition in San Francisco and San Diego.

Mrs. A. E. Feller was hostess to a number of Portlanders recently, entertaining at her country place at Feller's Station, on the Oregon Electric line. The guests motored out Saturday and enjoyed an elaborate dinner and dance. They motored Sunday to Crawfish Camp, where a crawfish feast was provided. The evening was passed in viewing the beautiful estate, motoring back to Portland Monday morning. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. O. Miller, Babbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denster, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hunt, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Down and Dr. Elmer Anderson.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

A delightful affair of the past week was the surprise party of Miss Pauline Klukis in honor of her 18th birthday. The surprise was cleverly planned by her mother, Mrs. Emil Zink, at her home near Linnton.

A short river trip added to the afternoon merriment, after which an elaborate dinner was served. Covers were laid for: Misses Pauline Klukis, Mabel Wortendyke, Benetta Smith, Ruth Grayson, Violet Grayson, Verdi Meindl; Mrs. Mark Grayson, Mrs. Louis Spitzberger, Mrs. Emil Zink, Mrs. O. Yates, Louis Spitzberger, Olin Yates, Henry Klukis, Edward Klukis, Tom Sneed and Emil Zink.

Mrs. E. Shuntz, of East Thirty-fourth street, entertained a group of girls on Thursday at a shower in honor of Miss Ella F. Gamble, bride-elect. Among the guests were Miss M. E. E. Gamble, Miss Agnes O'Shea, Miss Evelyn and Miss Florence Tregedgas, Lella McCamman, Miss Florence J. Brady, Miss Agnes Lahey, Miss G. E. Bratlow and Mrs. C. B. Duffy.

A charming announcement of last Saturday was that of the engagement of Miss Helen White and George B. Evans. The betrothal was made known at a tea given by Mrs. G. F. White and Mrs. T. M. Claster, who entertained several friends of Miss White. Little Tracy White Claster distributed nut shells containing the announcement. The bride-elect is a sweet singer and is possessed of a charming personality that has endeared her to a wide circle of friends.

Among the guests were: Mrs. A. R. Slaymaker, Mrs. J. P. Montag, Mrs. J. R. Davis, Mrs. G. H. Inton, Mrs. L. H. Bowby, Mrs. H. V. Davies, Miss Gretchen Davies, Mrs. Claud Kepler, Mrs. W. C. Cecil, Mrs. A. J. McDonald, Miss Bess Evans, Miss Alice Edmons.
