The New Fall Suits $17.50 to $65
 There is great diversity in the Suits coming in for Fall. The jackets range from short, snappy coats to the redingote effects reaching below the knee, though the preference is for 28 to 32-inch lengths. Belted and Russian blouses too are favorites.
 The colors are dark, or somber if you please, but they coincide with the general style effect, which leans to the severe—though elegant. Another feature is the simplicity of the fabrics, serges, poplins, gabardines and worsteds predominating. The skirts, too, are simple, many with pockets and belt.

The New Fall Coats $10 to $75
 The Russian and redingote are strongly featured in the Fall Coats, with full length and those just clearing the dress in highest favor. Many are made in flare effects, in fact it is said the smarter the coat the greater the flare. The Coats for street, afternoon and auto wear vary in style and materials, the heavy tweeds leading for general and auto purposes.
 Dressier models are of velvet, plush and velour, the majority with fur in collars, cuffs and edgings. The colors are soft, and sober in the main, black, navy, grays and greens, with the preference for black leading.

The New Fall Frocks $15 to $55
 The Princess line is the very newest dress feature. The idea, however, is carried out in a most practical way, long panels back and front with belt suggestion at the hips. The Russian blouse, too, is seen in a variety of adaptations.
 We're showing a splendid assortment of Dresses made in Princess style, of serge, many with satin sleeves. Also a very good assortment of dainty lace and net creations for afternoon and evening wear have arrived. Women who are anxious for "something new" will do well to make an early trip to see these Dresses.

The New Fall Skirts $5 to $15
 We're pleased to be able to tell our patrons that the styles in skirts seem to have reached a definite plane—that the changes and radicalism of the past few seasons are gone. While the full skirt will continue in vogue it will not be carried to extremes, 2 and 2 1/2 yards being the accepted width.
 We're showing a splendid line of the newest Skirts. Smart black taffetas, Scotch plaids and serges are made in most attractive pleated and flared styles. Pockets and belts are favored, and general trimness is the dominant note. —Fourth Floor, New Building.

MISSING GIRL IN THEATER
 Young Woman Found Unconscious in Chair at Columbia.
 Viola Hecht, 19 years old, was reported missing from her home at 968 Schuyler street at 10:30 o'clock Friday and was found unconscious in a seat at the Columbia Theater shortly before the programme ended at night. Ushers said the girl had been in the theater most of the evening.

 The girl was taken to the emergency hospital by Mrs. Frances Redding, matron of the theater restroom. Miss Hecht revived under the treatment of Assistant City Physicians Lawton and Harding. The girl told the police she was Mrs. Harry John, 977 Siskiyou street. Later she was recognized by Patrolman Holland, who had read the description given by her parents when the girl was reported missing. Mr. Hecht took his daughter home at midnight. The father told the police his daughter was temporarily deranged by an injury to her head in a fall.
