

Miss Stella Kress, fiancée of
C. Elmore Grove.

Miss Myrtle Harris of San Francisco, guest of Mrs. G. E. Henton.

Mr. Merriam is one of the popular members of the faculty at Reed and it was at the college that he met his bride. Mrs. Merriam is a graduate of Mills College and has taken special studies at the University of California. After a visit to the Exposition in San Francisco Dr. and Mrs. Merriam will make their home in this city.

The bridegroom has the distinction of being a Rhodes scholar. He attended Harvard and Oxford and specialized in some of the other leading institutions of learning.

The marriage of Miss Maud Laura Mastick and Clarence Edward Ash, which was solemnized on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mastick, was one of the most interesting nuptial events of the season. Rev. Horace M. Ramsey, dean of St. Stephen's pro-Cathedral, officiated.

The ceremony had as its setting a grove of trees in the grounds of the Mastick home. The bride was lovely in a girlish gown of ruffled net, to which a touch of color was introduced in the form of tiny pink and blue rosebuds. The staid and trimmings was of white satin ribbon. The veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. Following the ceremony refreshments were served on the lawn.

Mrs. Ira B. Hyde, of Missouri, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. William Preston, of Eugene, cut the loaves. Mrs. Frances Hyde presided at the punchbowl. Mr. and Mrs. Ash will have quite an ideal and unique honeymoon in the form of a camping trip. They will make their home in Marshfield. Both are graduates of the University of Oregon.

Miss Nellie Proble, one of
engaged girls.

Of interest to Portland friends is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, of Providence, R. I., and Henry A. Noble Stevens, of South Carolina. Miss Carpenter passed several months here last season as the guest of Miss Elizabeth Cadwell and to her engagement will be of decided interest to the many members of the smart set who are numbered among her friends. The bridegroom-to-be is of an old Southern family and the lovely bride-elect is of one of the first families of Rhode Island.

garet and Alberta Blair, who have just returned from the East. Miss Garrett was here last Spring and made many friends during her stay. Miss Bannister is one of the loveliest girls of the younger set, the Misses Blair are both attractive and interesting and Miss O'Neill, the hostess, is charmingly hospitable, so the approaching festivity gives promise of being one of the most delightful of the season. Several maids and matrons of society will assist Miss O'Neill in receiving and serving.

Visitors continue to inspire nearly all the small social gatherings. All who come here from the East are enraptured by the scenery, and motor trips and picnic suppers are proving a most popular form of entertainment.

Dr. R. C. Schiedt, Mrs. Schiedt and their daughter, Miss Madeline Schiedt, of Lancaster, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Schiedt's father, Dr. John Gantenbein. Mrs. Schiedt is a sister of the Misses Anna and Lillie Gantenbein and Mrs. C. M. Krumbein. She has several other relatives here, among whom are Judge Calvin U. Gantenbein, J. Edward Gantenbein and Ambrose Gantenbein. She has not visited here for several years, but has many sincere friends who will welcome her.

Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman and Mrs. Warren E. McCord will go to Gearhart for a fortnight accompanied by Miss Dorothy Sharp, Miss Virginia McDonough and Miss Patricia O'Gorman.

Mrs. Thomas Honeyman will visit Mrs. Alfred A. Aya at La Pine for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster and Miss Maizie MacMaster are in British Columbia.

Mrs. James Flower, of New York, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Warren F. Houghton.

Miss Celeste Foulkes has gone to San Francisco to visit the Exposition and participate in the convention held by the Pan-Hellenic and the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sororities.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery changed her plans and did not go East last week but will probably do so in the near future.

Mrs. Charles Gray, hostess at the Oregon building, was honored during the week at a luncheon at which she was invited to meet Mrs. L. Lowenberg, one of the foremost San Francisco clubwomen and writers.

Another luncheon was given in the Virginia building, and Mrs. Gray, Mrs. John F. Logan and Mr. and Mrs. George Hyland were among the Oregonians present.

Mme. Jonelli's musical "at home" Saturday night of last week was one of the treats of the season. The distinguished singer asked a few friends, society and musical folk, to meet in her apartments at Trinity Place for a social hour and an evening of song. The rooms were decorated in dahlias arranged in brass bowls. Mme. Jonelli wore a stunning gown of blue crepe de chine of a Crater Lake shade. The skirt and corsage were caught with red roses in small clusters. The hostess was assisted in receiving by a few intimate friends. Mme. Jonelli generously sang songs from almost all the leading schools of music. Among the selections were some from "The Song of Tristan and Isolde," the opera "Louise," "Butterfly," "Bartlett" and "Cheminade."

With Mme. Valair, who possesses a rich contralto voice, Mme. Jonelli sang a duet from "Aida" that of Aida and Amneris. Mme. Valair gave two or three beautiful solos. The hostess's voice shined to splendid advantage in the dramatic numbers and in the dainty love songs she was irresistible.

Mrs. Robert J. Power (Carmel Sullivan) played some of her own compositions and one of these, "Because, Love," was interpreted by Mme. Jonelli. Both singer and composer were given appreciative applause and the song was repeated.

Miss Isabel Clark, a young pianist who has just returned from the Boston Conservatory, played a few variations in a Major and "Flying Dutchman" (Liszt).

Dainty refreshments were served late in the evening. Mme. Jonelli will give another similar party in the near future. Those who are favored with an invitation to the salon are among the society and musical folk who are the singer's most appreciative friends.

Mme. Jonelli returned from California about a week ago after a delightful visit.

Miss Gertrude Ross, past grand president of the Gamma Phi Beta, has been entertained here extensively during the past few days. With her father, Dr. Ross, she has been staying at the Hotel Benson. Mrs. Alice Benson Beach gave one of the most charming luncheons for the visitor. Covers were laid for Miss Ross, Mrs. Flora Dunham, Miss Ruth Dunway, Mrs. Thomas Word, Jr., Miss Gertrude Holmes, Mrs. S. M. Unander, Miss Kate Stanfield, Miss Mary Meldrum and the hostess.

Mrs. J. O. McGregor and daughter, Miss Muriel, of Watertown, Ont., passed a week in Portland with Mrs. J. H. McCallum.

Mrs. McGregor is president of The King's Daughters in Watertown, and was prominent in Red Cross work before leaving home for the West. She and her husband, Dr. McGregor, recently gave a garden party for the benefit of the Canadian Red Cross that netted the society $1000.

Edward E. Whitford, professor of mathematics in the College of the City of New York, accompanied by Mrs. Whitford and their son Robert C. Whitford, instructor in English in the University of Illinois, are visiting Mrs. Whitford's cousin, Mrs. Donald Allison, 527 Madison street.

Dr. Whitford is the author of a definite treatise concerning the Pell Equation and of several other studies in higher mathematics. He is working this summer on a new method of rapid multiplication. R. C. Whitford is a young teacher and writer of poetry for the magazines.

Mrs. Nathan Simon and Mrs. A. Oberdorfer entertained on Thursday at a smart dancing party at the Hotel Benson for a number of their young friends in compliment to the Misses Simon, who, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Simon, are visiting here this summer.

Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Miss Barbara Bartlett and Miss El'low Mills have been enjoying several delightful weeks in San Francisco, where they went to attend the exposition.

Mrs. Isaac M. Wise and son, Isaac Wise, Jr., of Cincinnati, are the guests of Rabbi and Mrs. Jonah B. Wise for a few weeks.

Mrs. J. Coulson Hare has returned from California, where she visited the fairs in San Francisco and San Diego. She was entertained at many smart affairs and at motor trips and outings, visiting the various clubhouses, the old missions, the fashionable watering places and places of scenic interest. In Los Angeles Mrs. Hare attended the convention of musical clubs and was entertained by musical and society friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hare will go to one of the beaches soon for a fortnight's stay.

Mrs. Dorothy Bliss, the attractive daughter of Mrs. Walter E. Bliss, will return today after a year's absence in Chicago, where she was studying violin. Since the end of the term, Miss Bliss has been to Washington, D. C., where she attended the convocation of the Phi Delta Sigma sorority as special delegate from Lambda chapter of Portland. She has since visited several of the leading Eastern cities, and has received many social attentions.

With Miss Bliss are Dr. and Mrs. Ellis W. Bliss and Mrs. Frank Mitchell, who will be guests at the home of Mrs. Walter Bliss, who is now entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Bliss, of Seattle.

Miss Bliss will be welcomed by her many friends in the youngest set, which she is immensely popular. Several informal parties will be given for the visitors during their stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher R. Elliot, of Boston, have been passing a few days in the city. Mr. Elliot is a brother of Rev. Dr. T. L. Elliot.

Mrs. C. R. Templeton and her attractive daughter, Miss Marguerite Templeton, left early in the week for Berkeley, where Miss Templeton will enter the University of California for her sophomore year.

Mrs. Harry Lang has gone to California as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lippitt.

Miss Elizabeth Lang, of The Dalles, was the guest of Mrs. C. J. Reed for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Covert and family left on Thursday for a month's motor trip in the beautiful Crater Lake region. They will pass much of the time camping.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tuttle have gone to Nehalem to visit for a few days at the Clubhouse with Mrs. Alice Webster. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lull, Miss Eaton, of St. Helen's Hall, Miss Miriam Sinclair and a few others also left for the same delightful place.

Mrs. Harvey H. Briggs, of Lewiston, Idaho, formerly Miss Henrietta Elizabeth Kibbe, is visiting at the residence of Mrs. Solomon Hirsch. Mrs. Briggs had an art studio in Portland last year and has returned to the city to make home portraits of several prominent people.

Rev. George Darsie, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Mrs. Darsie arrived yesterday from California on the Northern Pacific via Flavel. Mr. and Mrs. Darsie attended the National convention of the Disciples of Christ at Los Angeles, where Mr. Darsie delivered the annual missionary sermon. They also visited relatives at San Diego, Cal., and have spent the past week doing the Exposition at San Francisco.

Mr. Darsie will preach both morning and evening this Sunday at the First Christian Church at Park and Columbia streets.

John Neville, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. E. Neville; his sister, Mrs. E. Neville; his niece, Katherine Neville, and his nephew, John Neville, are visiting here.

FRENCH INSTRUCTOR COMING TO PACIFIC UNIVERSITY.

Miss Anna E. Bagstad, PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., Aug. 7.—(Special).—Announcement is made of the coming of Miss Anna E. Bagstad, of the Aberdeen State Normal School of South Dakota, where she has been head of the department of modern languages, to Pacific University, where she is to be head of the department of French.

Miss Bagstad has had wide experience in college teaching in the East, with special study of modern languages in both France and Germany, where she spent several years.

E. Neville, and brother-in-law, J. P. Rath, left last Tuesday for California. After visiting the Exposition for several weeks they will motor through Southern California. They will visit the Panama Canal and proceed to Honolulu sightseeing, returning to Portland in the early Spring.

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Livingston and daughter, of Jamestown, N. Y., passed a few days in this city during the week, and on Wednesday last made the round trip by boat to The Dalles and return. As they were familiar with the Hudson River they had a good opportunity to see the contrast between the streams. Notwithstanding their disposition to be loyal to the great river in their home state, they were willing to concede that for scenic beauty of surpassing impressiveness the Columbia River far outstripped the Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Stearns returned early in the week after being absent four weeks in California. During that time they visited the Panama-Pacific and San Diego Expositions, as well as the Yosemite Valley. They praised the Oregon building at San Francisco and the excellence of the meals served by the Domestic Science management from the Agricultural College, Corvallis, and declared that the Oregon exhibits in all departments elicited most favorable comments upon all sides.

Dr. and Mrs. Byron E. Miller entertained at their home last Saturday for Dr. and Mrs. George Royal and Miss Royal, of Des Moines; Mrs. Bertha Titus, of Eugene, and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Royal.

Mrs. Titus is the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Miller.

Miss Virginia Wells, daughter of Dr. J. Hunter Wells, arrived in Portland last week, and is staying with her aunt, Mrs. Florence West. Miss Wells has come to America for the purpose of continuing her studies, and will enter Portland Academy this Fall. She was five days in Japan, arriving on the Manchuria in San Francisco, where she spent a few weeks visiting with the Exposition with Mrs. Emma Wells Blanford.

Mrs. Thomas Carriek Burke will go to San Francisco in the latter part of the month to give piano recitals for the pleasure of visitors at the Oregon building.

NEWS FROM THE ARMY POST

While there has been quite a change in the personnel of the officers of the Twenty-first Infantry during the past year, more changes are to take place soon. Being due for foreign service, Lieutenant Robert T. Snow, Gustav J. Gonyea, Frank Y. Schneider and F. J. Riley will leave for Schofield Barracks, near Honolulu, and join the First Infantry, formerly in this post. They will leave San Francisco on the Government transport sailing September 7. Major Dean, who has been in the Philippine Islands and now is on a leave of absence, has been assigned to the Twenty-first Infantry. Captain James B. Harbeson, who recently was with the Fifth Infantry in the Canal Zone, has been assigned to the Twenty-first Infantry, and will arrive shortly. First Lieutenant Louis A. Kunzig, at Valdez, Alaska, is to arrive here September 30, for station with the Twenty-first Infantry. Second Lieutenant Albert M. Jones, of the Tenth Infantry at Camp Otis, Canal Zone, has been transferred to the post and is to arrive soon.

Kenyon Lloyd, son of Chaplain and Mrs. Walter Kenyon Lloyd, formerly with the Second Field Artillery here, has entered West Point. He is a graduate of the Vancouver High School, where he took an active part in school athletics, particularly tennis. Chaplain (Concluded on Page 4.)
