BULGARIA ASKS TOO MUCH, SAYS SERBIA

Balkan Neighbor Warned That She Can Expect Nothing From Victory of Teutons.

RACE CONFLICT REVIEWED

Meanwhile, Declares Minister, Duty of Serbians Now Is to Repel Attempts of Enemies to Go to Aid of Turkey.

LONDON, Aug. 14.-The declaration that Serbia's attitude toward the claims of Bulgaria was clear and that Serbia never had admitted that the Slava in Macedonia were Bulgarians, was made today by M. Boskovitch, Seriban Minister to London, in reply to claims recently put forward from authoritative Bulgarian sources.

"This is shown." M. Boskovitch said,
"by the terms of the Serbo-Buigarian treaty of 1912, in which Serbia agreed to recognize the right of Bulgaria to recognize the right of Bulgaria only to territory lying east of the Rhodopes (a chain of mountains in Eastern Rumella, partly in Macedonia and partly in Thrace and the Struma River). This concession, which was made to Bulgaria in 1912 and upon which she attempts to base her present claims, was based on certain strictly defined conditions, which have been unfulfilled. This latter fact, coupled with the intervention of Austria to our detriment and the aid which we rendetriment and the aid which we ren-dered the Bulgarians at Adrianople, ne-cessitated our requesting a revision of the treaty

"We accepted the Russian proposal of arbitration, which had been pro-vided for in the treaty, and Bulgaria appeared prepared to artibirate, but unexpectedly attacked us in June, 1913, thus precipitating the second Balkan war. In company with our ally, Greece, we leat the Bulgarians back to their old frontiers and thus obliged them to aign the treaty of Bucharest. It is perfectly obvious that this later treaty destroyed the treaty of 1912, and with it Bulgaria's claims to Macedonia.

"It is quite impossible to efface the tragic record of 1913 from history. Our sacrifices, forced upon us, were enor-mous. We now hold this territory by the double right of conquest and na-tionality. Further, it must be remem-bered that we now are obliged to re-gard Bulgaria not as a friend. Thus arise important strategical considera-tions for administering our present the Bulgarian race merely renders the problem more difficult of solution. Serbia never acknowledged this claim, and cannot enter upon any discussion based upon such an assumption. If certain concessions were made upon certain concessions were made upon certain concessions were made upon certain conditions it could be only for reasons of political expediency and in order to assist the general cause of the allies, for in our view it would imply a surrender of part of Serbia and a population of Serbs.

"The existing deadlock calls for concessions on both sides. At present Bulgaria wants to take all and give nothing. She claims the maximum of her territorial pretensions and, what is perhaps more extraordinary, wants to take them immediately. Serbia alone is expected to make all the sacrifices. Truly that could hardly be fair play.

Moderation Enjoined on Bulgaria.

"This tragedy should be a warning response to the pleasant weather." renders it all the more necessary that we should seek to safeguard our own interests. Bulgaria has nothing to await from an Austro-German victory in the Balkans, as the whole of Macein with Saloniki would then pass with Saloniki would then pass donia with Saloniki would then pass into the possession of Austria, after Serbia and Bulgaria, in turn, had been the victims of the Germans, and Turkey would take back at least part of the lost territories in the west. That is why Bulgaria could with good reason be more moderate and take account of what it is possible to do in the present circumstances, Mean-time it is our business to hold ourselves ready to repel any further Austro-German attempt to break through te Constantinople and prevent the successful prosecution of the Anglo-French offensive against the Darda-

Rogue River Seiners and Gillnetters Have Controversy.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 14.—(Special.)— Master Fish Warden Kelly, who con-ferred with Attorney-General Brown to-day regarding the controversy between seiners and gillnetters at the mouth of the Rogue River, subsequently announced that both were operating with-in the law. He said that both the meiners employed by Macleay and the gill-netters have licenses to fish at the mouth of the stream.

Seines are placed around gillnets, and seiners have argued that were it not for the seines the gillnetters would not obtain any salmon. Gillnetters, however, assert that they would catch salmon without seines, and further, they virtually have the places where they fish pre-empted. General Wood Advises Training of Students in Last Two College Years.

MATERIAL IS PLENTIFUL

Three Sources of Supply Enumerated-Military Duty Declared Obligatory on All Mentally and Physically Fit.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Aug. 14 .- The United States has plenty of material for a volunteer army of 1,250,000 men.

United States has plenty of material for a volunteer army of 1,259,000 men, and all that is now needed are plans for utilizing it, Major-General Leonard Wood declared here today in a statement as to the preparedness of the Nation for war. The chief need, he said, was officers, and he advocated training students in their junior and senior years of college along the same lines as now are being used at the military camp of instruction here.

General Wood said the country had three sources of supply from which to draw officers. First of these, he asserted, were men in the regular service, militiamen or men who have had military training and now are in private life. Second, he would obtain officers from a list of men kept by the War Department and who have qualified by examinations, while the third source would be from military schools or institutions in which some military or institutions in which some military training is given.

For an army of 1,250,000 men, General Wood said, the Nation would need 40,000 officers. From these 1500 should be chosen each year for special grades of the service. These men, eventually, he would have become the higher grade of officers for volunteers.

Referring to military service, General Wood said:

"No one has a right to consider his discharge of duty as a soldier as vol-
