After taking four straight wallopings from the Beavers, "Pup" Dillon's Los Angeles crew turned on McCredie's warriors yesterday and administered a 3-to-2 beating by way of variety.

"Mud balls" were again much in evidence. Jack Ryan, who had his pet so rudely justled about the lot on Tuesday, reappeared on the knoll for the visitors and once again started out in grand rashion only to have to give way later in the contest. He duplicated his feat of Tuesday as far as hits were conterned by starting out and holding the Beavers down to no bingles in the first three frames.

Gus Fisher was again injected into Gus Fisher was again injected into the lineup in the seventh, but falled to get a homer this time. Instead he put

That the disease of the "mud ball" is fast spreading, was in evidence, as "Rube" Evans, who started the twirling to the control of the contro for the Heavers, was using it. "Rube was not as handy with it as was Ryan, however. The ground keeper complained to McCredie that unless the "mudder" went out of fashion it would keep him busy carting back part of the pitcher's box from behind the plate after each contest. after each contest.

Jack Ryan carries the dust, which he aprinkles on the balls, in his back pocket, but every time 'Rube' used the new delivery he scooped up a handful of the pitcher's box to the great dismay of Ed, the diamond mani-

Four singles in a row in the seventh frame gave the Beavers their two tailles.

Here's the inning: Lober, first up, whiffed: Bates, Stumpf, Carisch and Fisher (batting for Gooch) singled Fisher's hit drove in Bates and Stumpf. Desrick followed Fisher with two on, and for a minute or two it looked like the seventh would again be the deciding inning of the game in favor of the focals. No such luck, however, as Derrick filed out and Davis fanned.

This inning one the exit of Ryan and his "mudder" in favor of "Stim" Love and his witners. The lanky one held the Beavers to one hit in the last two innings.

Two boneheads on the part of Lober and Derrick helped the Angels to two of their tailles in the sixth frame. The first misplay was pulled by Derrick. when Buemiller dropped a slow groundbetween first and the pitcher's box.
Derrick grabbed the ball and heaved it to third without touching Rusmiller, who would have been an easy out, in an effort to catch Maggert off the and effort to catch Maggert off the sack. Maggert was placed on his own alugie, stole second and was sacrificed to third. He seeded a few minutes to third. He seeded a few minutes taken on an infleid out. The next score came over when Davis hurled wild to the plate in returning Ellis single from center to catch Basemiller at the plater. The ball was too far away from DARK HORSE TENNIS WINNER.

ter. The ball was too far away from the plate for Carlisch to get his man. The first fally was rung up for the viattors in the first inning. Harl Maggert, the first man up, hit the first ball Evans pitched, which was a "mudder by the way, for two bases, took third en a bad peg to second by Derrick trying to catch him napping, and romped across the pan on a fly by Buemiller. Game Reguested as Good.

The game was a good one from meral standpoint, although rath

Captain Bill Speas tried his lick as a pinch hitters also, batting for Evans in the eighth, but failed to connect.

Watter McCredie announced yesterday that he had turned Walter Hammond over to the Tacona Northwestern League club for the rest of the season. Hammond batted more than 400 for the Hammond batted more than 400 for the Beavers and proved a sensation with the stick when he first joined the club, but hasn't been able to do much since the club has been at home. McCredie said he would not recall him at the end of the Northwestern League scapen.
